EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Office on Main Street,

ONE DOOR SOUTH OF SADLER'S HOTEL,

CHARLOTTE, MECKLENBURG COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA.

- TUESDAY, JUNE 24, 1856. ----

$2 PER ANNUM In Advance.

New Series (VOLUME 4.

OFFICE

Western Democrat

Two Dollars a pear, in Adbance.

Having recently visited New-York, and se lected from the old and elegant Foundry of Geo. Bruce, Esq.,

New and Fashionable Cope We are now prepared to Execute In the Best Style.

'Multiply the Means, and you multiply the Results,"

ORDERS FOR

PAMPHLETS, HANDBILLS. CARDS, CIRCULARS LABELS,

CLERKS' BLANKS SHERIFF'S CONSTABLES' do. MAGISTRATES'do. ATTORNEYS'

ANY DINER KIND OF WORK Required by the business Community, WILL BE EXECUTED WITH

NEATNESS. CURRECTIVES.

DISPATCH

PUNCTUALITY. Various kinds of

BLANKS, Sintel on excellent Saper,

ALWAYS ON HAND. Or Executed to Order.

A. BETHUNE OULD inform his customers, that he has aken the room lately occupied by Mr. R. M. Robison, three doors cast of the Charlotte Bank. All work done by him shall be executed in the best style, for which in every instance, ALEX. BETHUNE.

ROBERT SHAW AKES this opportunity of informing the public generally, and all who intend going Saddle and Harness Business.

At his old stand, in Springs' Corner Building, where he intends to keep constantly on hand a Saddles, Bridles, Harness, &c Of Every Description. His friends are respectfully invited to call and supply themselves, as every article in his line will be afforded on the most reasonable terms.

REPAIRING done at the shortest notice and with neatness and dispatch.

SELF-PROTECTORS. TO TRAVELLERS AND HOUSEKEEPERS.

Charlette, June 10 1856.-3t BEED TEE

JEWELRY. THOMAS TROTTER & SON have just relarly receiving additions thereto) a choice stock of handsome and fashionable WATCHES from the most cel-brated makers. Also, a rich assort-

Fashionable Jewelry, Chains, &c. All of which will be sold low for cash, or on short time to punctual dealers. THOMAS TROTTER & SON. Charlotte, June 10, 1856 -tf Whig please copy.

MRS. WHEALAN, Dress Maker.

Opposite the Post-Office. LL DRESSES cut and A made by the celebrated A-B-C method, and war-BONNETS

Trimmed in the latest style, at he shortest notice. Charlotte, Feb 12, 1856.-tf MRS. M. J. CRAIG.

Dress Maker. Three doors below Trotter's Carriage Manufactory CHARLOTTE.

PRESBYTERIAN EMALE COLLEGE STATESVILLE, N. C.

THE second session of this Institution will open in new building on 4th day of August next. To make suitable arrangements, the Trustees have spared neither cost nor pains. A commodious and handsome building, furniture and apparatus will be ready in due time; and our worthy and esteemed President will have a number of well qualified

Assistants. Our terms are lower than any other similar institution with which we are acquainted Board and tuition to be paid in advance TERMS—per session of five months, . . $60 00 Music, with use of Piano, ..... 22 50 Water Colours and Ornamental Wax Work, each,...... 10 00 | veyed to Salisbury in time to meet the train

S. B. O WILSON, Pres't. June 3, 1856—tlA Providence Academy.

THE exercises of the on the 1st Monday in Terms per Session of 21 Weeks Latin, Greek, Mathematics, ...... $12 50 English Grammar, Arithmetic, &c., 6 00 Students will be charged from the day of entrance to the end of the session, without deduc-

May 27, 1856-4w

BOOKS For Sale CHARLOTTE BOOK STORE.

THE NEW PURCHASE, or EARLY YEARS THE ADVENTURES OF HAJJI BABA in Turkey, Persia, and Russia-Edited by James

STANHOPE BURLEIGH, The Jesuites in our Homes .- One of the most interesting Novels that has been written in many years-by Helen THE MUSEUM of Remarkable and Interesting Events, containing Historical Adventures and Incidents. EVENING TALES-being a selection of wonderful and supernatural Stories, translated from the Chinese, Turkish, and German, and compiled by Henry St. Clair. LEXICON OF FREE

Containing a definition of all its communicable terms. The True Masonic Chart, by J. L. Cross, G. L. The Free-Mason's Manual, by Rev'nd K. J

Mackey's Ahinan Rezon of South Carolina. The New Masonic Trustle Board.
THE ODD FELLOWS' MANUAL, by the LOWRIE & ENNISS,

Charlotte, March 4, 1856 Book-Sellers. PIANO FORTES.

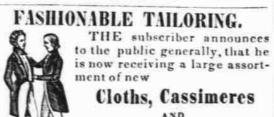

Pianos with the LATEST IMPROVEMENTS. which has given them the premium over all others. 6 and 61 octaves from $250 to $300. 61 to 7 $300 to $400. 7 to 71 $400 to $450. Carved work and Grand Pianos from $500 to insure to his customers a perfect instrument. Columbia, June 2), 1855 .- 491v

CARRIAGE SHOP.

THE SUBSCRIBER BEGS leave to inform L his friends and the public generally, that he is stil carrying on the Carriage Making Business in all its various forded by modern improvements. He nas now RIAGES, ROCKAWAYS, &c., made on the most approved styles out of the best material, to which he asks the inspection of purchasers. His establishments is on College and Depct streets, where he will be glad to see his

JOHN HARTY Charlotte, July 28, 1855 .- tf

VESTINGS,

for Gentlemen's wear, and will be sold for Cash at a small profit, or made to order according to the latest styles. Shop next door to Elms Grocery Store. Sept. 29, 1854.-10-if D. L. REA.

Fresh Fluid and Camphene. A T PRITCHARD'S Drug Store, you will get these articles pure. Fluid at $1 per probation of the flogging recently given Hews of the Day.

"GETTING IN A BOX." On Thursday morning last, our town was the theatre of quite an amusing incident .-Early in the morning, a respectable and elderly gentleman, who passed under the cognomen of Coon Festerman, arrived in town with a covered wagon in which were deposited two boxes of rather suspicious appearance. After summoning several of the town citizens to attend the display of his merchandize, Coon drove down opposite the jail, stopped his horses, rolled out his boxes, and took out of one a live negro man, who had absconded from Mr. Horah, of this place, some weeks before. Out of the other he took a negro woman, the property of Gen. Means, of Cabarrus, also a runaway. In each box was deposited the staff of life-bread, meat and water. Then came the explanation. On the night previous, while patrolling, Festerman came across these two negroes. They were engaged in conversation, when discovered, relative to their flight to a free State. The negro man was well armed and well provided with the eash. Festerman came upon them and proposed to aid them in their escape. To this, both readily assented, and plans were immediately devised for the purpose of carrying the agreement into execution. They both were to be carefully boxed in the first place, then be put into the wagon and congoing North; where they were to be put on the cars and be transported with speed into a land of freedom. True to his promise. Festerman reached town before the trainbut instead of going to the depot, he, unfortunately for those who were 'in a box' already, concluded that he would leave his Pennsylvan 400,000 merchandise in the safe keeping of the Sheriff of Rowan .- [Salisbury Herald.

> FATAL ACCIDENT.

"Sam. Brandon," a negro man, the property of Col. H. L. Robbards, was caught under the wheels of the Eastern Train, Sunday evening, at the depot in this place, and so badly injured as to cause his death in some 10 or 12 hours after the accident .-"Sam" was a valuable boy, and extensively known as a waiter at the Rowan House .-- . Report says he was "in liquor" and attempt- paraded before the eyes of any European ed to leap across the track when the train was within five or six feet of him. He was armor for the defence of their country from tripped up by the "cow-catcher." One leg foreign aggression, one-fourth of which was crushed in a most shocking manner, could sweep Canada like a tornado, against and the foot of the other leg cut partly off. all the force England could concentrate to We have heard it charged that the train oppose. Such a force could not only be was running too fast. The accident was raised, but it could be provisioned for any witnessed by hundreds of persons then and length of time, so great are the resources of there present. By-the-way, there are al- this country. How idle then for the British the wonder is that accidents have not fre- that the subjugation of America would be BLANCHE DEARWOOD-a Tale of Modern | quently occurred .- [Salisbury Watchman. | but a kind of holliday work for their arms!

> present with the past history of this county, is broken. Mrs. Susan Alexander, of duce. revolutionary memory, departed this life on Thursday last, aged about 94 years. She was, we believe, the only remaining relict of the "times that tried men's souls," and she was always ready to converse on those stirring times; and at the close of life she exhibited that the "ruling passion" was strong in death, for her physician informed us that she would frequently rouse up during her last illness and commence relating some Columbia, S. C., that we all have to die, she had prepared for ing a good supply of pace .- [ Charlotte (N. C.) Whig.

of especial notice the fact that William Ellison, a colored man, and a resident of Stateburg, in this district, contributed, the Mr. R. being a practical Piano Maker can other day, the sum of one hundred dollars to the funds of the Kansas association. Ellison, once a slave, but now a slaveholder, > to the Charleston Courier, Albert Sumner, cane. The inventor has already petitioned brother of the "distinguished Senator," fell for the line of steamers from L'Orient to heir by the loss of a relative on the ship Norfolk, in the United States, which pas-Pulaski, to a considerable number of slaves sage he promises to accomplish in eight sale-a likely man and his family were to smile at the idea of a passage from Euamong them. He purchased the man se- rope to this country "in forty-eight hours." parate from the family because he sold But such a feat would not be near so woncheap, and then declined selling him to go derful as the triumphs of the Telegraph. with his wife and children until he was offered a handsome advance on what he had paid

A NEGRO SUMNER MEETING .- A meeting of the negroes of the city of Williamsburg, New-York, was held on Monday evening, the 9th instant, to express their disapgallon-Camphine 90 cents, cash. April 8, '56. Senator Sumner by Col. P. S. Brooks.

OUR MEANS OF DEFENCE.

The question sometimes arises, whether, in case of a collision between England and the United States, (which we are gratified to see is not likely to occur,) America could stand her hand" with her old mother, with whom she has twice already had a quarrel which resulted in blows. The London Post states, in a boastful strain, the in the event of a war between the two coun-"the English Government could throw fifty or even a hundred thousand men into Canada," and one would suppose, who credited the boast of this announcement, that "the British Navy could lay every town and city on our coast under contribution in forty-eight hours; while sweeping from the ocean our little navy, would be but the work

Let us see how the matter stands on our side of the line-what our means of defence against this colossus, who could span the earth with his huge legs. The number of ly for the sake of General Taylor; and fighting men in this nation, or rather the number who would fight in a just cause, and for the honor and freedom of their country, between the ages of twenty and fortyfive, all of whom are more or less accustomed to the use of war-like implements, and know something of military tactics, may be seen by the following table, which we copy from the Hallowell Gazette, and which, the editor says, has been prepared with great care by those familiar with accurate sta-

FIGHTING MEN IN THE COUNTRY. Maine - - - 100,000 | S. Carolina 80,000 Hampsh. 50,000 Vermont - 50,000 75,000 Massachus's 170.000 Florida - -Mississippi Rhode Isl'd. 25.000 Connecticut 65,000 Louisiana Texas - - 100,000 New York 590,000 Arkansas -New Jersey 85,000 Tennessee Missouri - - 125,000 Ohio - - - 359,000 Oregon - - 12,000 Illinois - - 177,000 Washington 5,000 Iowa - - -Minnesota 20,000 Wisconsin Michigan - 100,000 Nebraska -Virginia - - 150,000 Maryland - 70,000 | New Mexico 15,000 | N. Carolina 90,000 | Utah - - 20,000

Total....8,840,000 An army of more than one million of men, (adds that paper,) better soldiers than ever monarch, would voluntarily buckle on their ways such crowds at the depot on Sundays, press to cajole their people with the idea We do not mean to speak disparagingly of THE Last LINK BROKEN .- We regret to European soldiers, when we say that an have to state, that the last link that bound the American army with military experience would surpass any that Europe could pro-

They would carry into the conflict all the courage and enthusiasm of the crusades, and a hardihood and power of endurance peculiar to Americans, together with a practical sagacity and sound sense which would soon make a soldier fit for a General. Our advice, then, to the noisy boasters of the British press, would be a cultivation of a spirit of conciliation rather than hatred and strife; and to our own people, to cultivate exciting scene of those times. Knowing the arts of peace, so lovely and congenial to our institutions; but while so doing, never political blunders and folly." Piano Forte & the awful occasion and met her last enemy to lose sight of our means of defence, that Music Dealer, with perfect composure. Requiescat in that we may be always ready to resist aggres- on the above, very truthfully says: sion from any quarter, and thus perpetuate the admiration of our Republican institu-SIGNIFICANT FACT .- We deem it worthy tions, felt and expressed all over the civil- Union. In the spring of 1852, both were ized world .- [Portland (Me.) Argus.

> ----ANOTHER DISCOVERY.

ces an important discovery. It is stated ingly exemplified in the case of Fillmore has, entirely by his own industry, attained at Vincennes, in presence of Gen. Lahittee Southron, or the slandered and the slanderhis present state of prosperity, and, we and the officers of the fort. The secret of er, take it as you choose, are now kennelmight say, wealth, he being the possessor compressing and governing electricity is at ing together and making a common cause of a large and productive cotton plantation. length discovered, and that power may against the two old parties, which, in their We are pleased to see such a manifestation, therefore now be considered as the sole extremities, they deserted. It is certainly from such an one, for such a cause. The motive henceforward to be used. A small a humiliating and disgusting spectacle; so example too, even from such a source, is mortar was fired by the inventor at the rate shocking to the common honesty and sense worthy the imitation of those whose supe- of one hundred shots a minute-without of the American people, that their political rior means and intellect render them not flash, smoke or noise. The same power disgrace will be referred to in the future as only more able to give, but to discern more can, it seems, be adapted to every system a warning and a lesson to the huckstering clearly the necessity of giving liberally to of mechanical invention, and is destined to politicians that may come after them." on hand a large number of BUGGIES, CAR- this cause .- [Sumpterville (S. C.) Watch- supersede steam, requiring neither machinery nor combustion. A vessel propelled by this power, is said to skim the water like ABOLITION PHILANTHROPY .- According a bird and to fear neither storm nor hurriin South Carolina. They were set up for and forty hours! Some may be disposed

> Texas is said to have increased in rate of about four hundred per cent. The youngest member of the present Congress is the Hon. Wm. Cumback, of Indiana, being only 26 years of age. Col. Preston Brooks, of S. C., served gallantly in the Mexican war, where he had

POLITICAL.

DONELSON ON FILLMORE.

In the person of Donelson we have a witness against Millard Fillmore, that Know-Nothingism dare not discredit; he is now their own witness. Hear what he says about Fillmore's abolitionism.

In October 1851, Mr. Fillmore was the President at Washington. Major Donelson was there as the editor of the Washington Union. Understanding the subject as he did, he thus speaks of Millard Fillmore:

"There has been an idea that Mr. Fillmore was strong before the people of the South. This idea made him, for a time, the favorite candidate for nomination there .-But the idea is fast fading away. In fact, Mr. Fillmore's strength at the South never had any root in the public mind. HE WAS A BITTER PILL-A VERY BITTER PILL TO THE SOUTH IN 1848; and they took him onsince then he has done literally nothing specially to commend himself to southern favor. It is true, he signed the fugitive law; but it would have been stark madness-utter lunacy in him, or in any other President to have refused that signature. It was an single exception of that act, his administration has been one long, sad, tedrous failure and blunder. Who believes that, with the proper spirit, capacity and effort in the White House, we should have had this disgraceful muster roll of triumphant insulting and yet unpunished negro and abolition mobs, insurrections and murders? Who believes, that with the right kind of an Executive, our government would now have to stand in its present attitude of humiliation towards Spain and the European intervening powers, and at the same time in such miserable self contradiction in its course to-California - 225,000 | wards the revolutionary provinces of Mexico? The Executive inefficiency in the excution of the fugitive law, and the wretched blunder in the whole Cuban business, from Kansas - - 10,000 its commencement to its close, in so far as it is yet closed, have doomed the administration at the South-add to this that its tariff policy is utterly at war with southern interests, and the last official explanation of that policy in the columns of the Republic, Chief Magistracy of the United States point directly to the restoration of the throughout the whole South, the most bitter and wide spread hostility. With these facts in view, it is plain that President Fillmore can have no real strength with the people of the South, even if we leave out of view the great Galphin odium which his administration inherited, or the great Gardiner odium in which it is implicated. And it is in these circumstances that we find President Fillmore putting the last hand to his ruin at the South, by bringing out anew, and with justification, HIS OLD, AND FOR A TIME DORMANT ABOLITIONISM Our own explanation, therefore, of the Webster movement in the New York Courier and Washington Republic is, that the politicians of the whig party feel that the southern game for President Fillmore is lost, and that some other candidate must be found. It seems to us that the President himself must have come to this conclusion. On any other supposition the revival of the Erie letter is inexplicable. Its re-publication, with comments in justification of it, was Mr. Fillmore's desperate dash at the support of the North; or, if not so, it was

The Chattanooga Advertiser, commenting

"Mr. Fillmore is no longer President and A. J. Donelson no longer the editor of the thrown overboard by their respective parties, and consigned to the retiracy of private life. It is a trite old adage that misfor-The London Morning Chronicle annount une makes strange bed fellows. It is strikthat a great experiment "was recently tried and Donelson. The Abolitionist and the RECEPTION OF EX-PRESIDENT FILL MORE .- The City Council of Philadelphia on Thursday, granted the use of Indepenthe measure whilst the Know-Nothings opposed it. It will be recollected that the Know-Nothings refused the hall to Mr. Bu-

NORTH-CAROLINA IN THE NATIONAL CONVENTION .- We learn, from the Cincinati Enquirer, that the following delegates were in attendance from North-Carolina :-W. S. Ashe, R. R. Heath, Bedford Brown population during the last ten years at the W. W. Avery, W. Sloan, J. T. Granberry, Milton Selby, W. J. Yates, T. D. M. Dowell, J. Stafford, Jos. W. Neal, J. B. Gordon, and Ivy F. Lewis. The Hon. Bedford Brown was one of the Vice Presidents, and OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

From the Charleston Evening News.

THE NOMINATION. Mr. Buchanan was not our choice for the Presidency. We had other preferences .-We had, we think, safe predilictions. If these had been gratified, they would have better realized our standard for this high office. But let this pass into oblivion with other cherished and ungratified aspirations. Gen. Pierce or Senator Douglas. It was an ornament. We shall be willing to judge him on his own merits, and not by his antewill endeavor to give his measures the benefit of impartial consideration, and his mo- Party demanded the abandonment of her tives that of charitable construction. Although chosen by a mode which we never | would get just what Slevery had in Frankhave given and never can lend our sanction | lin Pierce. There is no difference or shade disturb the rectitude of our judgment.

Mr. Buchanan in his career as a legislaand cautious. He has had large experience. His mind has been sharpened by on his functions with every favorable pre- tions to oppose and defeat him. diliction on the score of moderation, sagathat can confer practical statesmanship .-But he assumes his lofty position in troublous times. We are environed with diffi-Democratic convulsion impends on one side. Foreign complications appear to menace our peace on the other. The Union seems to hang by the slenderest of threads. Poon the already too combustible materials. We have unadjusted controversies with two European powers, England and Denmark. These require more than common care and skill for satisfactory settlement. Supposing all the pending unresolved questions less tangled by the question of land appropriations for internal improvements, the tariff, the naturalization laws, so that the seems surrounded with more peril to politiblack tariff" of 1842, is enough to arouse cal reputation and the cause of Republicanism generally than has characterized that position since the establishment of the government. For not only are skill and delicacy, wisdom and moderation required in arranging our international controversies, but the rarest combination of firmness with prudence within our domestic sphere. May we not add that a comprehensive patriotism which rejects alike sectional preferences downward fortunes of the Republic. -----

HON. DANIEL S. DICKINSON.

At the great Democratic mass ratification meeting held in Philadelphia on Tuesday evening, the following telegraphic dispatch, received from Hon. Daniel S. Dickinson, was read and received with great applause:

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y., June 10, 1856. Invitation too late for me to attend o write. I commend the Cincinnati nomina tion to the country as one fit to be made. The Democracy and the whole conservative element of the country will rejoice in the selection of Mr. Buchanan because he is a statesman and not a political spoilsman :a blunder without parallel in the records of because he has capacity, learning and experience becoming the station; because his name will guarantee respect and justice from abroad, and insure domestic repose; because he has wisdom and integrity to maintain inviolate the rights of sovereign States, and preserve the constitutional Union. Mr. Breckenridge is a type of his glorious State -generous and powerful. In early maturity imbibed with the spirit of the times and replete with promise. The success of this ticket is what the country needs-what it is destined to enjoy, and what will restore it to its true position at home and abroadover sea and land.

DANIEL S. DICKINSON. JOHN A. MARSHALL, Chairman of Executive Committee.

FROM THE HON. G. C. BRONSON.

NEW YORK, June 11, 1856.

GENTLEMEN:-Nothing could be better than the action of the Cincinnati Convention, and my heart will be with the great company which will assemble in the Park this evening to respond to the nomination of James Buchanan of Pennsylvania, and dence Hall for the reception of Ex-Presi- John C. Breckenridge of Kentucky. We dent Fillmore. The Democrats favored have a platform as broad as the Union, and es after his return from England, put himcandidates who are not only above reproach. but eminently qualified for the stations which they are to occupy. And besides, the foundation has been laid for the cordial re-union of all that is sound in the Democratic party, and the places of the few who have gone over to the enemy will be much more than filled by good citizens from other quarters, who see nothing but danger to the country in the movements of their former associates, and are resolved to stand fast Burton Craige, T. L. Clingman, H. G. Wil- i by the Constitution. Let us hear no more liams, F. A. Thornton, John Morrison, A. by way of reproach about "Hards" and "Softs," and former dissensions, but buckle on our armour and contend manfully for the Henry G. Williams, Esq., of Nash, one of the Secretaries.—[Raleigh Standard.] principles which lie at the foundation of the drawing from the Union, as well as to the national compact. We shall then not only compactness of their party ties. national compact. We shall then not only compactness of their party ties.

deserve, but shall achieve a noble victory. Respectfully yours, GREENE C. BRONSON. A. FROMENT and J. Y. SAVAGE, Jr.,

From the Albany Journal. But while Mr. Buchanan is indebted to the madness and folly of Pierce. Dougla-Cushing, &c., for his nomination, he is scarcely less obnoxious to Republicans than We will acquiesce in the nomination as a simply his good fortune to be out of this member of the Democratic States Rights embroilment. Had he been at home, he party of which Mr. Buchanan is certainly | would have been what he ever was, as ready and as pliant a Kansas instrument as was Gen. Cass. His whole public life has cedents or our personal preferences. We been a series of sacrifices to Party. He was never true even to Pennsylvania, when interests. In Mr. Buchanan the South -that of a political caucus-this shall not of difference in the Doughface tribe. Slavery, having used up Franklin Pierce, in passing Fugitive Slave Laws and Repealing tor and administrator has been temperate Missouri Compromises, requires a new man for its next aggressions. With Mr. Buchanan, the past is a guaranty for the future. the conflicts of debate. He has been train- He would not disappoint them. They will act of the most indisputable and imperative ed in diplomacy. He has given proofs of support him for reasons that impose upon necessity and nothing more. And with the administrative ability. He therefore enters freemen the strongest and sternest obliga-

James Buchanan, with his facile disposicity, experience, all the endowment in short | tion, would be all that Franklin Pierce has been on the subject of slavery. Even were he inclined otherwise, the predominant power of the South in his party, would comculties and dangers, internal and external. pel him to take this character. His support will come almost entirely from the slave holding States, and his whole public existence will depend on submitting implicitly to their demands. In accepting the litical passions threaten an extended border | nomination, he accepts the sentiments of war. Sectional strife is daily heaping fuel the platform respecting "treason and armed resistance to the law in the territories," and takes upon himself the work of carrying out the persecution of the free State men, just as the task of persecuting the christians devolved from one Roman emperor upon another. Franklin Pierce is to be in office arranged, the web of public affairs is not only nine months more; and, diligent as may be the use made of him during that time, it is hardly probable that will suffice to consummate the business of making Kansas a Slave State; even if it should, Nebraska would still remain open to the same system of operations. So far as regards slavery, the succession under Mr. Buchanan, would be just as truly a sequel of the present Presidential term, as would be a second term of Franklin Pierce.

From the New York Courier and Enquirer.

Mr. Buchanan's endorsement of the Nebraska-Kansas iniquity has met its reward. and he is now the duly nominated candidate and party aims is demanded to arrest the of his party for the highest office in the gift of the people. He stands purged of all regret for the destruction of the Missouri Compromise, and is the accepted champion of the slavery propagandist. From the start, he was the favorite of Virginia, the most zealous of the States for slavery-extension, and received its unbroken vote in every balloting. The same State which four years ago had the honor of first presenting Franklin Pierce in the Convention and pressing him through to his final nomination, has now the honor of carrying James Buchanan to the same position. Virginia understands her man now quite as well as she did then. Say what we may of the politicians of that State in other respects, they certainly have the faculty of discrimination. They know the men who can and will serve them, and you never hear of their being betrayed. Their selection of Franklin Pierce excited no little surprise at first, both North and South, but has not his submission to Virginia's interests and sentiments justified her sagacity in the choice of her instrument? Who supposes that Virginia is not new just as much devoted to the propagation of slavery as she was then, or that she considers it any the less necessary to have a man in the Presidential Chair who shall be subservient to her policy? The tone of her public press shows that she was never more fanatical upon the subject of slavery than at this very day. Can it be supposed then that Virginia would have sent Franklin Pierce back to New Hampshire, had she not known full well that another Franklin Pierce was ready for her in Pennsylvania? Can it be imagined that she wishes to inaugurate a different policy from that which President Pierce has pursued? Was it not a certainty that that policy would be continued which prompted her to give that aid to Mr. Buchanan which finally effected his nomination? Mr. Buchanan, in his speechself completely at the service of the South, and his service is accepted. If elected President, his task will simply be to "follow in the foot-steps of his illustrious predeces-

> A FREE-SOIL GOVERNOR .- On the 5th inst., Gov. Metcalf (Know Nothing) was re-elected Governor of New Hampshire .-The next day he sent his annual message to the Legislature. About one-third of the document is devoted to the slavery question. The Governor denounces the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, the Kansas outrage and the assault on Senator Sumner, and attributes the uniform success of the slave power to their unanimity on that subject; their constant threats of with-