The bill in the House was at first defeated by a vote of 107 to 166. A motion to reonsider was subsequently carried, and the all passed aves 100, noes 97. THE FOURTH.

The 80th anniversary of our Independence was observed in this town by a general closing of business doors and suspension of business. There was no united public celebration of the day. Every patriot was left free to observe and honor the day in his own way, and various were the modes adopted. Instead of a day of noisy jubilee, it was on this occasion, a political Sabbath, honored quietly and for the most part apparently religiously.

THE TEN CENT FALSEHOOD.

This falsehood originated in the follow ng manner. Mr. Buchanan, in a speech in favor of the Sub-Treasury system, at the time that measure passed the Senate, in the course of his argument referred to the effect the sudden expansions and contractions of Banks would have upon the property and labor of the country, and advocated a greater proportion of specie for the currency of the country. He said (we quote the very words in his speech) "It is better for the loboring man and every other class of society except the speculator, that the business of the country should be placed upon that fixed and permanent foundation which would be laid by establishing such a bank reform as would render it certain that bank notes should be alwys convertible into gold and silver." Senator Davis of Massachusetts, in reply, argued (what was false) that Mr. Buchanan was in favor of a metallic currency, and from these assumed premises went on to show that European governments, where there was an exclusive metallic currency, laboring men were employed for ten cents a day-and therefore this Massachusetts Senator alleged that Mr. Buchanan was in favor of a similar amount per day, for the laboring men of this country!! The moment Mr. Davis made the charge, in a speech in the Senate, Mr. Buchanan arose and pronounced the charge (we quote Mr. B.'s own words) "a flagicious misrepresentation of my [his] remarks." The following are the concluding remarks of Mr. Buchanan, made in the Senate, in the presence of the man who made the charge:

"I contended (says Mr. Buchanan) that t would not injure, but greatly benefit, the laboring man to prevent the violent and rainous expansions and contractions to which our currency was incident, and by a judicious bank reform to place it on a settled basis. If this was done, what would be he consequence! That, if the laboring man could not receive as great a nominal amount for his labor as he did in the days of extravagant expansion,' which must always under our present system be of short duration, he would be indemnified, and far more than indemnified, by the constant employment, the regular wages, and the uniform and more moderate prices of the necessaries and comforts of life, which a more stable currency would produce. Ean this proposition be controverted? I think not. is too plain for argument. Mark me, sir, I desire to produce this happy result, not by establishing a pure metalic currency. but by reducing the amount of your bank issues within reasonable and safe limits, and establishing a metalic basis for your saper circulation.' The idea plainly exressed is, that it is better, much better, for the laboring man, as well as every other class of society except the speculator, that the business of the country should be placed upon that fixed and permanent founda tion which would be laid by establishing such a bank reform as would render it cer tain that bank notes should be always convertable into gold and silver."

"And yet this plain and simple exposition f my views has been seized upon by those who desire to make political capital out of their perversion; and it has been represented far and wide that it was my desire to reduce wages down to the price received by the miserable serfs and laborers of Eurocan despotisms. I shall most cheerfully cave the public to decide between me and my traducers. The senator from Massachusetts, after having attributed to me the ntent of reducing the wages of labor to the hard-money standard, through the agency of the independent treasury bill, has added, as an appendix to his speech, a statement, made by the Senator from Maryland, [Mr. MERRICK,] of the price of labor in these hard-money despotisms; and it is thus left to be inferred that I am in favor of reducing the honest and independent laorer of this glorious and free country to the same degraded condition. The Senator ought to know that there is too much intelligence among the laboring classes in this highly favored land to be led astray by such misrepresentations." Was ever any false accusation more thororoughly refuted and turned against its authors? And yet we find in the face of Mr. Buchanan's own positive denial of the charge, and the fact that there has not been, and cannot be, a particle of evidence produced to sustain the charge, the know nothing papers continuing the charge at the head of their papers, in the following form, which we take from the last Concord (Cabarrus county) Gazette:

"TEN CENT JIMMY."

"James Buchanan, the Anti-American candidate for the presidency, made a speech ord Clarendon appealed to the House in Congress, in favor of reducing the wages of laborers to ten cents a day. What think you of that position, Mechanics and laborers of Cabarrus? Are you willing to work The funds rose in consequence of Lord for ten cents a day? You would rather beg than so disgrace yourselves. Will you then vote for an iron manufacturing nabob, whose avarice is so strong as to urge him to give utterance to such a sentiment ? Now, if the Editor of the Gazette does not know, he ought to know, that the above s a most outrageous falsehood, as shown by Mr. Buchanan himself. If the charge be true, where is the proof? Why has it not been produced? Simply because it cannot be produced.

The opponents of Democracy, on all hands, maintained with Senator Davis, that the Sub-Treasury law would not only bring Corn declined 6d. The cheap Mr. Buchanan and his party, in showing the correctness of his arguments and the falsity of the statements of his opponents. Has the price of labor fallen since the passage of the Sub-Treasury bill-and has it ruined the country ? On the contrary, the reverse is the fact. Yet in view of all this, Know-Nothing journals will continue to publish the "ten-cent" falsehood, until the 4th of November raises its mighty voice aTHE RAIL ROAD QUESTION.

Believing it would be mutually advantageous to both roads and an accommodation to the public, we recently advocated a perfect "through connection" of the North Carolina Central and the Charlotte and South Carolina rail-roads, in order to secure the through travel. The question is now under discussion between the able Presidents of the two roads. An interesting communication from Wm. Johnston, Esq., the President of the C. & S. C. Road appears in to-day's paper. The discussion of the subject between him and Mr. Fisher, the President of the N. C. Rail Road, gentlemen familiar with all the arguments for and against the proposed measure, will elicit the truth, and enable the public to decide upon the merits of the question, pro and con. The roads are now, as it were, but one and the same imprevement, and what will benefit the one, it appears to us, will also benefit the other-and, on the other hand, what destroys the success of one, will affect the prosperity of the other.

A STORM .- On Tuesday last, a storm of wind, hail, and rain passed over a portion of this county, West of Charlotte, which, we are sorry to learn, did much damage to farmers. Many lost their entire crop of oats, and had their corn crop seriously injured. Among the sufferers were Mr. Jos. B. McDonald and Mr. Wm. Sommerville, both of whom lose all their oat crop and have their corn crops greatly damaged.

LEAVING HIM-NORTH AND SOUTH .-Nineteen twentieths, or more, of the hitherto American papers at the North (out of New York) repudiate the Fillmore nomination. He has scarcely a paper in the whole West, and not half a dozen in all New England. In the Middle States, a very few still hold to him-chiefly in Pennsylvania and New York. Of those in Pennsylvania, the Philadelphia North American says :-"A number of papers in our State still advocate Fillmore and Donelson, but those in the interior will mostly go with the majority of their supporters, who are fast

The Massachusetts Know-Nothing State Convention, in session, at Boston, last week, had a quarrel over Fremont and Fillmore. -The majority appearing in favor of Fremont, the Fillmore delegates, to the number of 100, withdrew and organized a separate Convention. This split, we fear, will give Massachusetts to the Democrats-a cousummation devoutly not to be wished. Let the Fillmorines and Fremonters and Freesoilers fight for her abolition vote. Democrats do not wish to be disgraced by it.

For the reasons here assigned by the Whig, it is but justice to Mr. Sloan to say, July 1st, 1854; one ten dollar bill, on the Bank that the community, so far as we have heard an expression of sentiment, do not attach the blame to him for the transaction.

MR. BUCHANAN'S RECORD.

In 1838, on Mr. Buehanan's motion, the Senate of the United States resolved-"That any attempt of Congress to abol-sh slavery in any Territory of the United States, in which it exists, would create serious alarm and just apprehension in the States sustaining that domestic institution, would be a violation of good faith towards the inhabitants of any such Territory, who have been permitted to settle with, and hold slaves therein; because the people of any such Territory have not asked for the abolition of slavery therein, and because when any such Territory shall be admitted into the Union as a State, the people thereof will be entitled to decide that question exclusively for themselves." We find the following beautiful and eloquent sentiment in a speech of Mr. Buchanan, delivered in the House of Representatives in 1822. How perfectly has it been illustrated by his subsequent public career? "If I know myself, I am a politician neither of the East, nor of the West, of the North, nor the South-I therefore shall forever avoid any expressions, the direct tendency of which must be to create sectional jealousies, sectional divisions, and at length disunion, that worst of all political calamities."

"From my soul I abhor the practice of mingling up religion with politics. The doctrine of all our Constitutions, both Federal and State, is, that every man has an indefeasible right to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience. He is both a bigot and a tyrant, who would interfere with that sacred right. When a candidate is before the people for an office, the enquiry ought never to be made, what form of religion he professes, but only in the language of Mr. Jefferson, "Is he honest, is he capable?"-[JAMES BUCHANAN.
