mamoard? IN JULES BURNIN

TURNIPS.

The turnip grop has been too much neglected in the South, and it will be our object in the following brief communication to give our mode of preparing the land, and putting in the seed, which has proved successful with us for the last five years.

It is certainly an error to put in a mere patch-most a half-aere or so, that has been cow-penned on. As a general rule, we think one-quarter of an acre to each working hand on the farm, would be a good proportion; more or less depending on the number of stock intended to be kept on the place.

The land should be deeply plowed with narrow plows (say ten inches at least) every two weeks, from the 1st of July up to the time of planting. The last deep plowing, which should be about ten days before planting, one-half of the manure intended to be put on the land should be spread over it broadcast, and plowed in.

This should be the coarsest manure, keeping the best rotted for the last dressing,-When you are ready to plant, spread the other half of your manure, and plow it in about three inches deep with short plows. With this last dressing put on all the ashes you may have to spare, keeping enough for the last dressing. Take, then, an iron toothed harrow, and harrow your hand thoroughly. Your land is then prepared for the seed. If your land has been well manured, and carefully prepared, two pounds of seed is not too much. We have found one pound of Red Top and one pound of Rutabaga, to be good in quality, the proper amount of seed. When mixed together, one-half should be sowed in one direcing your intended victim. Had you done tion, and the other half in the other. At so, you would have been guilty of murder. the same time the seed is sown, it is most Such depravity as the evidence shows on important to sow to each acre two bushels your part is rarely witnessed in a court of justice, and imperatively demands that you of salt, one of plaster, and as much ashes as you can command, well mixed up to- shall have the heavy hand of the law placed gether. A very light brush should be run on you, as a punishment for the high crime over the land, followed by a one-horse roll- you have been guilty of, and as an admoner. In this way the seed is covered up ition and warning to others. In this manwith a gentle pressure, so as to produce an ner the laws are vindicated, and public jusearlier vegetation; the young plant stands tice established and venerated. It also prepares the land for a more profitable crop, and is easier worked than to do it in the latter part of winter or the beginning of Spring, as the plowing can be done deeper, which receives to a greater extent the properties of vegetation as manure, (nature's own fertilizer) and secures you a first stand of corn. Unbroken ones will answer. It would be necessary to take them out once in summer, and give them a dry rubbing. Your eask should stand upon a beach, in a dry, cool cellar, Having packed in this way, the cobs absorb the heat and air sufficient to keep them fresh and fine. It has been my practice for more than ten years to treat my hams in this way, and I never lost one. You take them out perfectly clean, not plastered, not ashed, not greased, neither is there any chaff to be swept off. Cask to be covered.

BAKING HAM .- Most people boil ham .-It is much better baked, if baked right .-Soak it for an hour in clean water, and wipe it dry; next spread it all over with thin batter, and then put it into a deep dish with a stick under it, to keep it out of the gravy. 114 Market st., St. Louis, March 5, 1855. Dear Sir : I am doing an extensive travel in the West and South-western States, as general agent for Adams' American Liniment, and would be glad if you would favor me with a consignment of PRO-PESSCR WOCD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE, as I feel assured that I can introduce it in many places where it is not known, as my head is a living

MECKLENBURG HOUSE CHARLOTTE, N. C.

WOULD respectfully invite the atwhich is situated 3 doors north-cast of Key a He tel, which is now open for regular and transient boarders. Particular attention paid to feeding horses at either of my stables. All kinds of dravers will find ample accommodation at my House. Having sand lots, shed stables and plenty of water. Also, all kinds of smithing done, horse shoeing, buggy or carriage repairing, or new ones made out and out to order, as good as can be made in Charlotte, on the premises. And I say to the travelling public, that any thing in the way of livery conveyance, can be had from a saddle horse up to a coach and four, at the shortest notice. Any one calling on us in either branch of our business, no pains will be spared to give sat-S. H. REA, Proprietor, istaction. F. M. REA, Agent.

HIS large and splendid three-story building, on the east side of Chester Depot, is now open for the accommodation of persons traelling by the cars or otherwise. The Proprietor is well aware that nothing shot f a well-kept flouse will induce a cusom to this, so recently gotten up; and although very solicitous of patronage, he refrains from those thousand-and-one promises which have oung bair appea.ed. and grew rapidly from Angust been made only to be broken by many of his illustrious predecessors. He confidently hopes that he will be sustained, and upon trial give such satisfaction and accommodation as will send him on his way rejoicing.

RAIL-ROAD BOTEL CHESTER, S. C.

By J. R. NICHOLSON.

THE subscriber respectfully informs that his house, known as the "Rai Road Hotel," opposite the Chester Depot, is still open for the reception of regular and transient boarders and the travelling public; and that he is making every exertion to deserve and secure a continuance of the kind and liberal patronage which has hithertefore been extended to him. He flatters himself that every needed arrangement has been made to promote the comfort of all who stop with his: his rooms are airy and well-furnished, his servants are attentive and obedient, and his table constantly supplied with the best of the season so that his friends will not want any attention necessary to make their sojourn pleasant and agreeable. His stables are furnished with good hostlers and an abundance of provender, and he is prepared at a moment's notice to
