Nor brightness of the eye, Northercheek, whose radiant glow, Can with carnation vie. That has power to chain my gaze, Or hold it in control;

The beauty that I most admire Shines spotless from the soul! The beauty of the form and face, Lasts only in our prime;

The charms that centre in the soul, Will never waste with time; The radiance from that inner shrine,

Will chain for hour my earnest gaze. Its charms can never, never die, But lives forever in youthful days.

A PARTICULAR WITNESS.

From the Richmond Whig. Scene at Chatham during the session of the Circuit Court, in the case of Commonwealth vs. Cassady, on a charge of malicious stabbing.

The venire being impaneled, and the jury solemnly charged by the clerk, the Commonwealth's Attorney called, in support of the indictment, the witness, Buck Bryant, who being solemnly sworn the truth to tell, testified as follows:

Question by Commonwealth's Attorney. Tell all you know about the cutting of the Ans.-Well, gentlemen, it was election day-'twas a dark, cloudy, wet sort of drizzly day, and says I to my old woman, I believe I'll go down to Ringgold and 'posite my vote. And says my old woman to me, well, Buck, as it is a sort of dark, cloudy, wet sort of a drizzly day, says she, hadn't you better take your umbrill. Says I to the old woman, I spect I had better take the umbrill. So I took the umbrill and advanced down towards Ringgold, and when I got down thar, Mr. Cole comed, and says he, uncle Buck, have you seed anything of old neighbour Harris? Says I to Mr. Cole, for why? Says he, he's got my umbrell. (The witness was here interrupted by the Court and told to confine himself to the actual fray between the prisoner and Cole, the prosecutor. In answer to which the witness remarked, in a tone of indignat remonstrance, well now, Mr Judge you hold on, for I am sworn to tell the truth, and I am gwine to tell it my own way-so 'taint worth while for you to say nothing more about it-whereupon the court and commonwealth's attorney, being anxious to get rid of the witness on any terms, told him to go on and tell the tale his own way.) Well, as I was going on to sny twas on one 'lection day. Buchanan and Filmo was a running for the legislatur, and says I to my old woman, old woman, says I, I b'leve I'll go down to Ringgold and 'posit my vote. Says my old woman to me, says she, Buck, as it is a sort of a dark, cloudy, rainy, damp, drizzly sort of of day, had'nt you better take your umbrill says she? Says I to the old woman, says I, I spect I had better take my umbrill; so I tuck the umbrill and advanced on towards Ringgold, till I arriv thar. Well, the first thing I did when I got thar was to take a drink of American whiskey, which was monstrous good, and says I to myself, says I old hoss, you feel better now, dont you? And while I was advancing around, Mr. Cole he come to me; says he, uncle Buck, says he, have you seen anything of old neigh-

I know about the stabbing, because I want YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN .- It is known to all, who have ever noticed it, the aversion of boys of a very youthful age, to being of the other action of medium size, 23 or 24 years old, was raised by the other sex-arising, perhaps, in most Mr Shipp, of Lincoln county, and sold to me by cases, out of their repugnance to being W. P. Bynum, of the same county, in February, dressed in girls' clothes. We heard of an instance the other day, says the Kanawha Republican, where a little boy in his first Republican, where a little boy in his first pants, had been told by his Christian mother that to be a good boy. a Christian, he would have to be born again. The Ruler in Israel may not have thought this more marvellous, than the little boy. At night after saying his prayers at his mother's knee, and getting into bed, he removed the covering and raised up, calling to his mother that he had forgotten to say one thing in his prayer. She remonstrated with him. and told him to be still, that he had said his prayers and now he must go to sleep. The little fellow persisted that he must say one thing more in his prayer. She perhe attered - "O Lord, pray don't let me be tice of every family, factory and company. born again, for I am, I am afraid I will be born a girl !"

Not long since, a youth, older in wit than n years, after being catechised concerning the power of nature, replied: "Ma," I think there is one thing nature can't do." "What is it, my child?" "She can't make Bill Jones' mouth any bigger without setting his ears back.

An Ohio politician was boasting, in a public speech, that he could bring an argument to a pint as quick as any other man. You can bring a quart to a pint a good deal quicker," replied a Kentucky editor.

Well Said.—A noble saying is recorded of a member of the British House of Commons, who by his own industry and in this market. perseverance had won his way to that high position. A proud scion of aristocracy one day taunted him with his humble origin, saying. "I remember when you blacked my father's boots." "Well, sir," was the noble response, "did I not do it well?"

Several distinguished American offi cers are now in Washington, it is said, endeavoring to get into the British service in

FOR SALE. The subscriber being desirons of improving his other Lots, offers for sale is residence on the corner of Church and Streets. The situation is high and healthy and one of the most desirable in the town. The buildings are all good and have been finished off lately in handsome style, and the Dwelling House is covered with tin. The domestic part of the building is arranged in a style superior to any building in the country, and in the yard is a Well of excellent water.

This desirable residence is situated within a short distance of the Female College, one of the handsomest buildings in the State. As I do not expect a person to purchase without examining the premises, I will take great pleasure in showing the property to any one desirous of parchasng. I will make the price correspond with the hardness of the times, not expecting to realize more than will pay for the cost of the buildings.
