All hail to Columbia the "Gem of the sea!" The envied of nations the home of the free; All hail to our fathers, that patriot band Who wrested our country from tyranny's hand; Who struggled thro' hardships scarce equal'd before Till freedom was planted upon our loved shore; O then with their memory drive sadness away, And let us be grateful and happy to-day.

To-day we enjoy the rich boon which they gave, And Heaven hath blessed the sweet land of the brave.

Our country now basks in prosperity's sun, And the patriot warrior's sad trials are done; O then let us mingle our voices in glee, And sing of Columbia, the home of the free! While memory brings back the glorious day, When our fathers they won it from tyranny's sway

Columbia, Columbia, how sweet is thy name How sacred thy story! how cherished thy fame! How hallowed each spot that our forefathers trod! Each scene where for freedom they poured out their blood.

O God of our fathers, thy blessing command, To rest evermore on our dear native land! O drive from our bosoms all sadness away, And make us all grateful and happy to-day.

May truth and integrity mark our carear, And national honor be ever held dear! May wisdom and prudence our statesmen direct; And peace and good feeling our Union protect! O then we'll ascribe all the glory to thee, Great God, who hath made us so happy and free! Come sons of Columbia drive sadness away, And let us be grateful and happy to-day.

LETTER OF A DYING WIFE.

The following most touching fragment of letter from a dying wife to her husband (says the Nashville Gazette) was found by him, some months after her death, between the leaves of a religious volume which she was very fond of perusing. The letter, which was litterally dim with tear-marks, was written long before her husband was aware that the grasp of fatal disease had fastened upon the lovely form of his wife, who died at the early age of nineteen :

"When this shall reach your eye, dear George, some day, when you are turning over the relies of the past, I shall have passed away forever, and the cold, white stone will be keeping its lonely watch over the lips you have so often pressed, and the sod will be growing green that shall hide forever from your sight the dust of one who has often nestled close to your warm heart. For many long and sleepless nights, when all besides my thoughts were at rest, I have wrestled with the consciousness of approaching room for his dinner. death, until at last it has formed itself upon my mind; and although to you and to others it might now seem but the nervous imagining of a girl, y-t, dear George, it is so! Many weary nights have I passed in the endeavor to reconcile myself to leaving you, whom I love so well, and this bright world of sunshine and beauty; and hard indeed it is to struggle on silently and alone, with the sure conviction that I am about to leave all forever and go large stock of Drugs, Chemicals, &c., for wholesale down into the dark valley! "But I know in whom | and retail. I have believed" and, leaning on His arm, 'I fear

Sold low for eash by ence, embalmed in woman's holiest prayer. But it is not to be-and I submit. Yours is the privilege of watching, through long and dreary nights, for the spirit's final flight, and of transferring Lay sinking head from your breast to my Saviour's bosom! And you shall share my last thought and the last faint pressure of the hand, and the last feeble kiss shall be yours, and even when flesh and heart shall have failed me, my eyes shall rest on yours until glazed by death; and our spirits shall hold one last communion until, gently fading from my view-the last of earth-you shall mingle with the first bright glimpses of the unfading glories of the better world, where partings are unknown. Well do I know the spot, my dear George, where you will lay me; often we stood by the place, and, as we watched the mellow sunset, as it glaneed in quivering flashes through the leaves, and burnished the grassy mounds around us with stripes of burnished gold, each, perhaps, has thought of the time when we shall be called to sleep beneath its silent covering, till the morning of eternal bliss and joy ceived at shall bid us rise to greet the sun that knows no setting, and where there is no parting.

HOW WOMEN HAVE THE BEST OF EVERY-THING .- A bachelor gentleman, of New York, incensed at the talk concerning the "rights" that women have not, and the persecution that they endure, pours out his vexation at great length in the Home Journal; Hear him :

"Don't talk to me about the best of everything! The ladies have all the pick and choice. Then, again, at all public places of amusement, witness the fatigue the gentlemen often encounter. Just observe a party of ladies and gentlemen going into a box at a theatre-the ladies all jump into the best seats, without being invited; the gentlemen timidly stand back, and are pushed into a corner, where they can see nothing, except by standing up, and leaning over, at the expense of a crooked neck the next morning, or a weariness of limbs which a night's rest is not sufficient to remove, whilst the ladies sleep in the lap of forgetfulness, and at breakfast are as fresh as a pack of hounds on a summer

YEH .- The picture of Yeh, as drawn by the correspondents of the London paper, is enough to delight the heart of a modern blood-and-thunder romance writer. The Governor of Canton completely throws into the shade the ordinary scoundrel heroes of the "yellow covers." Seventy thousand people have been sent to the scaffold by this merciful ruler, and yet, when the English coxswain grabbed him by the queue and put a temporary end to his exploits, his bowels of compassion were not entirely exhausted. He dwelt with great unction on the wholesale extermination he had accomplished; but, like other men of similar propensities, showed an extraordinary repugnance to becoming himself a victim. It is much to be regretted that the British Admiral, whose countrymen had, on various occcasions, been slaughtered by the Mandarin, did not feel himself at liberty to exalt Yeh to the yard arm. Barnum might make a good thing of it, if he could cage Yeh and Nena Sahib, and show them about Europe.

WHEN TO TAKE YOUR HAT .- Young men, a word. We want to tell you when you should take your hat and be off. And mind what we offer.

When you are asked to take a drink. When you find out you are courting a slovenly and extravagant girl. When you find youself in doubtful company. When you discover that your expenses run ahead of your income.

H. B. WILLIAMS & CO. Sand's Sarsaparilla,

FOR THE CURE OF SCROFULA, ERUPTION, ULCERS, RHEUMATISM, LOSS OF AFPETITE, BRONCHITIS, CHRONIC DISEASES, &C. The oldest and best preparation in use, and which has been thoroughly tested, and which continues to meet with public favor long after a host of imitations have been tried and forgotten. This article is approved and recommended by Physicians, and is extensively used in their practice as one of the most aids in the treatment of this class of diseases, within their reach. The following certificate is selected from among many others. Please inquire of the Agent named below for an Almanae gratis for 1858, which gives many details of interest and great value: "TRUTH IS STRANGER THAN FICTION."

The attention of the reader is called to the following cure, effected by the use of Sand's Sarsaparilla: This is to certify that I have a colored woman who has been affected for the last five years with Scrofula and all the remedies I used had no effect in arresting the progress of the complaint; on the contrary, she constantly grew worse; till the disease had caten away the cartilage of her nose, made its appearance on various parts of her body, and finally commenced its ravages in the roof of her mouth. In this dreadful situation, with the prospect of death staring her in the face, I stated her case to Dr. Disosoway, in Newbern, N. C., by whom I was advised to use Sand's Sarsaparilla; and to my surprise and that of my neighbors, to whom her case was known, af using four and a half bottles she was restored to perfect health in the space of three weeks, and was able to work in two weeks from the time she commenced taking it. In witness of the truth of this statement, I have here unto affixed my name, this 19th day of Sept., 1857. JOSEPH McCOTTER, J. P. Mouth of Neuse River, Craven county, N. C. Bey Prepared and sold by A. B. & D. Sands, Druggists, New York. The Agent in Charlotte is F. SCARR & CO., No. 4
