3,400 Acres of Land FOR SALE.

OFFER for sale my Land in Union county, lying on Clear Creek and Crooked Creek, known as the Smart Land. It has been surveyed into three tractsone tract containing 2,300 acres, one 500 acres, and one 250 acres, all contiguous to each other. Said Land is well adapted to the cultivation of cotton, corn, wheat and other small grain, and well situated for grazing purposes. It is nearly all wood-land and well timbered. within a convenient distance of the Charlotte and Wilmington Railroad, and is situated in the gold region between Gold Hill and the Howie Mine. Gold has already been discovered on that part of the land known as the Little Mountain.

I also offer for sale a TRACT OF LAND lying in York District, S. C., on Big Sugar Creek, joining the Lands of Baxter Springs and others, containing 350 Acres. Said Land has been considered one of the best Cotton

Plantations in York District, and there is no better land for corn and wheat. If desired, I will divide any of the aforesaid Land to suit purchasers; and the purchaser can have his own time to pay the money, provided he makes it secure.

THE LIVER

Compounded entirely from GUMS, IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, midder, and more effectival than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The Liver is one of the human body; and when it the powers of the system are is almost entirely dependent Liver for the proper performs.

CHARLOTTE, N. C. JEWS IN PARLIAMENT. . Swearing in of Baron Rothschild.

Che Western Democrat.

On the 27th of July, at the morning session of the House of Commons, Baron Rothschild presented himself to be sworn, before taking his scat. The scene is thus described:

A few minutes after twelve o'clock, and before the commencement of public business, Baron Rothschild entered the House and took a seat on one of the benches below the Speaker's gallery He was accompanied by several private friends The number of members present at the time was very small, but the benches on either side soon filled, and more than one hundred honorable gentlemen voted in the division which subsequently

The Speaker.—Any honorable member who desires to take his seat will please come to the table

Baron Rothschild immediately presented him self at the bar, where he was met by Lord John Russell and Mr Abel Smith, who, amid considerable cheering from the opposition benches, led him to the table. He was about to take a copy of the prescribed oath from the hands of the clerk, when Mr Warren rose to order, and begged to put a question to the Speaker. The honorable gentleman, however, was not allowed to proceed, being received with cries of "order !" and "Chair !"

The Speaker.—The taking of his seat by an honorable member is a matter of privilege, and ought not to be interrupted by any discussion.

(Cheers.) A copy of the new oath being offered to him, he stated to the Speaker that he had a conscientious objection to taking the oath in the form tendered to him, and he was thereupon requested to withdraw. Lord John Russell then moved a resolution in conformity with the act, to the effect that the Baron, a person professing the Jewish religion, was prevented from sitting and voting in the House by reason of his concientious objection to take the oath in the form required by the act. After some remarks by Mr Warren, it was agreed to. Lord John Russell then moved a further resolution, likewise in pursuance of the act, "that any person professing the Jewish religion may henceforth, on taking the oath prescribed in an act of the present in this House, omit the words 'and I make this declaration upon the true faith of a Christian.' Mr Warren said he should take the sense of the House upon this resolution. The House was divided, and the resolution was carried by 69 to 37. Baron Rothschild then advanced to the table, conducted as before by Lord John Russell and Mr A. Smith, and as he walked up the floor of the House he was greeted by loud cheering from the opposition benches. He desired to be sworn upon the old testament, and his request being at once complied with by the Speaker, he took the new form of oath, omitting the words "and I make this declaration on the true faith of a Christian." The and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, he took a seat on the front opposition bench. He then re ceived the congratulations of many honorable DEATH FROM THE GROWING OF A TOE NAIL.-'A man lately died in Boston from the growing in of a toe-nail." Did he? We regret to hear it. We regret still more to hear that any one has lived to mature age without learning how to prevent "the growing in of a toe-nail," by which we suppose is meant that frequent occurrence of the corner of the nail growing into the overlying flesh, in consequence of wearing shoes or boots too tight. We have known cases of exeruciating suffering arising from this cause; and only last week we rode down town in company with a surgeon on his way to operate on a toe that had become inflamed from the corner of the nail growing into the flesh.

Do not cut away the offending corner of the nail, as is usually done, very short, but cut a notch in the centre, quite down to the quick, and keep that notch there until the difficulty is cured, which will sometimes be with the first cutting. The philosophy of the remedy is that the cut breaks the arch, and naturally changes the curvature of from Lenoir, Watauga county, narrates the followthe nail, and makes the corners of the nail turn | ing incident:

It is stated that the construction of a needle requires about one hundred and twenty operations, but they are rapidly and uninterruptedly successive.

The temperance people will find an argument to enforce their doctrine in the fact that 41,071,636 bushels of grain, paying $25,000,000 duty, are an nually converted into malt in Great Britain for ale and porter. ANOTHER. -Old Hickory crossed the Warrior River at the close of the campaign at Carthage, in Tuscaloosa County. There he halted, and rested for the recruit and refreshment of the sick and wounded for a few days. The citizens of Tusenloosa, then a small village, got up a public dinner for the General. A deputation of militia officers, armed cap a pied, went to Carthage to extend the nvitation to the General. They found him busy on foot; near the main road, dismounted, and with well set phrase they invited him to dinner,

"For how many have you made provision," asked General Jackson, "for all of my nien?"

"No, only for yourself and officers." "By the --- then," replied the old hero, "I, nor o officer of mine will cat a dinner not provided

Then turning on his heel he abruptly left them. The poor militia men were sadly mortified and disappointed at the rebuff. But a worse was in store, or them. A quartermaster or his assistant had laid hands on every horse of the delegation, and claimed them for public service. Furious, they appealed to the General. He declined interfering; he could make no distinction. Other men's horses were taken, why not theirs-was surprised at their want of patriotism; not willing to give up their horses for the transportation of the sick and wounded soldiers! A KISSTHAT DIDN'T PAY .- The Toledo Record gets off a good one in regard to a citizen of Iowa, whose wire, in his absence, had been kissed by a drover, while giving a glass of water. When he heard of the outrage, he started at once in pursuit, found the drover after a hard day's ride, and accused him of the theft.

The drover admitted the truth of the soft impeachment-said he had been a long time from home, was sorely tempted, and in an unguarded moment of frenzy purloined the kiss, but that he had not damaged the woman in the smallest particular-was very sorry-thought it was no matter to make a great ado about, and therefore begged to be excused. The bushand finally concluded that this was the right view of the matter, and agreed to settle it upon the receipt of $5 for his day's ride. This being satisfactory, the drover handed over a $10 bill and received 35 in change. But when the aggricved benedict returned home and consulted his detector, he found the bill a counterfeit. He found he had suffered the indignity of having his wife kissed by a 'masty drover,' passed one day in the saddle, and lost five dollars, and concluded that it didn't pay.

A NEW HARNESS -The New Brunswick (N. J.) papers give an account of a new and peculiar harness which is attracting considerable attention. THE POLICE OF LONDON.—The police of London The ordinary saddle is dispensed with; also, hew
