We deny that our "zeal" for the Coal Field Railroad caused our "better judgment and discretion" to be mislead-we have no particular zeal for that Road more than to desire even-handed justice to all sections of the State and aid in developing its mineral resources as far as practicable. Neither did our remarks about the difficulty partake of "a bitterness, an accrbity and a gravity" that the circumstances do not warrant.

The case stands about thus : We copied from a Raleigh letter published in an exchange paper, a parathe Coal Field Railroad bill, Mr Colton remarked that as he (Fagg) wanted appropriations for his part of the State he musn't expect the friends of the bill to aid him. whereupon Col. Fagg struck him. To the paragraph giving this information we appended the opinion that Mr Colton's remark was appropriate; that while such legislators as Fagg are very ready to grab millions from the State for their sections, they are unwilling to allow others a few thousand; and we further intimated that he would not make much by striking Colton. This is the sum and substance of the whole matter. And we still think that Mr Colton's remark was appropriate and to the point. We still think that a man who has voted $4,000,000 for the benefit of his own section might afford to favor another section with a few thousand, especially when the State is amply protected against loss.

With regard to the difficulty with Mr Colton, we are willing to allow Col. Fagg the full benefit of the statements contained in the above communication, although it is not shown in what particular the paragraph we copied is incorrect. We do not wish to be understood as the special apologist of Mr Colton; we care nothing about which was to blame, being willing to allow each one to form his own opinion on that point. We copied the article as an item of news, believing that our readers are entitled to know what is transpiring. This duty we shall always perform without allowing our right to do so to be questioned. But if any one considers himself aggrieved in this way, we will cheerfully give him a hearing. We know our duty in this respect without any special appeal to "magnanimity" or "amiable impulses.

With regard to our intimation that Mr Fagg is illib eral in his votes, we have not the least explanation to make, as the public course of a man is always considered a fair subject for comment.

P. S .- Since the above was in type we have received a statement of the affair which fully justifies our remarks last week. We shall use it hereafter if necessary.

WILMINGTON AND CHARLOTTE RAILROAD .-We learn that the President of this road is now at the North for the purpose of buying the iron for a part of the track, and a locomotive. It is contemplated to complete, as soon as possible, twenty-five miles of the Road from Wilmington this way, and twenty-five miles from this place towards Lincolnpleted.

While on this subject we will call attention to the fact that the Bonds of Mecklenburg county. issued for the payment of the county's subscription to the Road, are now for sale. They bear 7 the county has already levied taxes to meet their due Sheriff Grier of this county, for the years 1854. '55, '56 and '57, is near thirteen thousand dollars. The Sheriff has borrowed and used his own private means to pay this amount into the State and County Treasuries, and he hopes that delinquents will now settle as he needs money very much. He has been an indulgent officer, and all will admit that the re-

TAXES .- We learn that the amount of Taxes quest now made is a reasonable one. Every man knows his own business best, but we fear this neglect to pay debts is owing to the fact that each one wants to hold more property than he can conveniently manage. This remark is meant in a general sense, and is applicable, probably, to graph stating that after Col. Fagg had voted against all sections of the State. Would it not be far better to own less property and be easy in finances, than to be rich in land, houses, negroes, &c., and always cramped for money. No doubt the people of this county are as prompt as any in the State, The E (we certainly consider them in as good circumstanccs.) but we are sure some of them would "breathe easier" if they would not consider it important to own "large possessions."

THE TACTICS OF THE OPPOSITION IN THE LEGISLATURE .- On the final passage of the Revenue Bill in the House of Commons, forty-four democrats and four opposition members voted for it, and thirty-two opposition members and ten democrats voted against it.

The liabilities of the State have to be met, and we should like to know how it is to be done if not in the usual way of levying taxes. We suspect the opposition members in the Legislature voted against the bill for the purpose of making capital out of it during the next electioneering campaign. The people will be told how the democrats taxed them, and how they (the patriotic whige and know nothings) resisted it! But they must also tell the people that they helped to bring the State in debt; if they don't somebody else will, and show it from the record. Then what will the dear people say to them for voting money away and refusing to vote any back into the Treasury. They may try to excuse themselves by saying that this article and that article was unjustly taxed; but many will consider it right to raise revenue from other sources besides land and negroes. While our opposition friends are appealing to the prejudices of the people about taxes, we shall not be surprised to hear them complaining of the democrats for not granting more aid to internal improvement schemes. The Raleigh Register has already its business operations. taunted the democratic party for not removing the ton. The friends of the Road are now sanguine of years ago, Gen. Dockery.) We can't understand gentleman well qualified for the responsible posisuccess, and work will progress steadily until com- why the Register should want the restrictions removed if its party is determined to vote against raising the means to meet even present liabilities.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENTS .- We learn that the Lutheran Congregation, shortly to be organized in per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and no this place, has purchased the Methodist Church doubt would prove a good and safe investment, as Building, and will have stated worship according held in Columbia on the 9th inst. We learn from the Carolinian that Dr. C. J. Fox of Charlotte, presided, and on motion of Gen. W. H. Neel. Messrs J. L. Morehead and Chas Bouknight were appointed Sec's. The affairs of the company were found to be in good condition, and the satisfactory manner in which the officers had discharged their dutics and the present prosperity of the Road afforded cause for general congratulation.

From the Report of the President, Wm. Johnston, Esq, we learn that the receipts of the Road for the year ending 31st Dec., 1858, were From Freights $173,190 37 Passengers 89.857 76

Which deducted, leaves $151,536 36

The report states that the income of the last year while the excess of expense is only $12,560 02. This increase of expenses was caused mainly by the purchase of three new passenger coaches and the construction of two new baggage cars. The Report then goes on to say that

"The receipt : from freights give an increase in favor of the present year over the past of $34,428 07, and from passengers of $9.612 34, making the aggregate from these sources, $44,040 41. The Board express the opinion, that in these results the stockholders have cause of congratulation at the future prospects of the Road. The trains have been run with great regularity and success during the year, almost without an accident-no passenger having sustained any injury on the road. The whole number of miles run are 212,955, at an average cost of 60 cents, per mile. But few Roads have been operated as many miles at the same expense. with so much improvement added, as has been made to its material structure and equipment, with so few casualities to life and property.

The following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year : A. R. Taylor, Dr. John Fisher, of Richland District; W. R. Robertson, Thomas Dubose, of Fairfield District; Samuel Mc-Aliley, H. The desire to have "further light" is always commendable, and none the destitute of the wherewithal to carry them through less so when it is proposed to extract it from rosin till another harvest--the crops of the past year them out of the country. This bill also gave the freed slaves the option of remaining slaves and not be sent out of the State."

Mr F's remarks are correct and to the point But probably if the bill had passed some man's hope of paving his way to Heaven would have been cut off; though it is generally supposed that owning a negro during lifetime, and freeing him at death, affords but an inferior passport to realms of everlasting bliss.

The Chester Standard of the 10th inst. says:

"Some twenty shares of Charlotte and S. C Railroad Stock were disposed of at public sale by the Administrators of Cornwell-this stock was sold in several lots on a credit of thirty days, and brought from 611 to 62 per share. This shows an upward tendency in this Stock and speaks well for the present condition and management of the freight ard d. road."

We have heard of sales at $65 per share, and inderstand that price can be obtained for all offered

He not only wanted us to advertise for almost nothing, but he wants a list of all the merchants and dealers in Charlotte, and wants the reliable ones particularly marked. We suppose he wants to send out his circulars or practice some other annoyance of the kind, to help do which we shall certainly not aid him. But if he will come here and administer his remedy to all the rats and bugs in town, and guarantee that they will not survive the operation and continue their mean practice of disturbing people when they are trying to recuperate, recreate, and strengthen their physical ability, we will give him one insertion gratis, and all the "reliable dealers" will thank him with joyful tears in their eyes, and no doubt have his picture taken to commemorate the memory of a very wonderful man. We do not charge Mr Costar anything for this notice. While we think of it we will just say that we hope

Holloway will write us no more letters about advertising, for when we open one and see his name to it and no money in it, we tear it up without reading. So he would do well to save his postage stamps and paper.

FAMINE IN CANADA .- The distress which prevails in some of the townships of the county of Bruce, in Canada, is represented as most appalling. There are hundreds of families verging on starvation; many of the best and thriftiest farmers are
