POETIOAL.

FORGET ME NOT.

Ah no, I'll not forget thee, Though we are doomed to part; But often will regret thee, And miss thy loving heart. And as the sun is sinking At eve into the west, I often shall be thinking Of her I love the best.

And as the stars at even Come glist'ning to my sight. I'll kneel and pray to Heaven To guard thee, love, to-night. Oh! think not I'll forget thee,

It were not easy done; I'll love no other but thee, Thou art the only one.

A PARTING ODE. Like evening shadows creeping Across the summer sky, Come to our young hearts weeping The last, the fond good bye. We list its tones in sadness While stealing on the ear: We know that hours of gladness With them will disappear. As o'er the sea wave dances Illumed our youthful days; Then ever, from the future, A tearful sigh we'll give, For those whose kindly nurture Has made it sweet to live.

The sun's bright golden rays,

Hath all that life enhances

AN AFFECTING INCIDENT.

When Dr. Hutton was Bishop of Durham. (as we are told by his biographer,) and as he was travelling over Dam, Wensleydale and Ingleton, he suddenly dismounted; and, having delivered his horse to a servant, walked to a particular. place at some distance from the highway, where he kneeled down and continued some time in prayer. On his return, one of his attendants took the liberty of inquiring what was his masters motive for so singular an act; in answer to which the Bishop informed him that, when he was a poor boy, without shoes or stockings, traversing this cold and bleak mountain on a frosty day, he remembered that he had disturbed a red cow, then lying at that identical place, in order to warm his feet and legs on the spot.

The above aneedote, which so beautifully and touchingly illustrates the character of the worthy Bishop, is taken from Whittaker's "History of of purchasers. They have in store Richmondshire."

ought never to be ashamed of poor parents, and the mean and lowly circumstances of our early days. It is a much greater honor, to any man, to have raised himself by his knowledge, his industry, and his goodness to the highest position in society, than if he had inherited such position merley by the accident of his birth or fortune.

Secondly: That when any little incident occurs to remind us of the lowliness or privations of our former life, we ought to make use of it as an outlet · for our gratitude to God, and as a motive for renewed devotedness to His will and service, who "raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth EMPORIUM. up the beggar from the dunghill," that He may "set them among the princes of his people."

CURE FOR DIVORCE .- Michelet, in his remarkable book, L'Amour, mentions the following novel method of curing the disposition, in married couples, to become separated:

"In Zurich, in the olden times, when a quarrelsome couple applied for divorce, the magistrate never listened to them. Before deciding upon the case he locked them up for three days in the same room, with one bed, one table, one plate and All grades of Cloth Coats, tumbler. Their food was passed in to them by All grades of Cloth Coats, attendants, who neither saw nor spoke to them. When they came out, at the end of three days, neither of them wanted to be divorced."

A BIG BRANDY PUNCH .- On October 25th, 1784, a bowl of punch was made at the Right Honorable Edward Russell's house, when he was All grades of black and fancy cassimere Pants, Captain-General and Commander in-chief of his All grades of black and fancy cassimere Pants, Majesty's forces in the Mediterranean. It was All grades of black and fancy cassimere Pants, made in a fountain in the garden, in the middle of All grades of black and fancy cassimere Paats, four walks, all covered overhead with lemon and orange trees, and in every walk was a table, the whole length of it covered with cold collations, &c. In the fountain were the following ingredients: four hogsheads of brandy, eight hogsheads of water, twenty-five thousand lemons, twenty gallons lime juice, thirteen hundred weight fine Lisbon sugar, five pounds grated nutmegs, three hundred toasted biscuits, and, lastly, a pipe of dry Mountain Malaga. Over the fountain was built a large canopy to keep off the rain; and there was built on purpose a little boat, wherein was a little boy who belong to the fleet, who rowed round the fountain and filled the cups of the company; and, in all pro-bability, more than six thousand men drank of it.

incontestible evidence that you are either feverish or lack common sense.

Some years ago, a lady noticing a neighbor who was not in her sent at church one Sabbath, called on her return home to inquire what should detain so punctual an attendant. On entering the house she found the family busy at work. She was surprised when her friend addressed her-

"Why, la! where have you been to-day, dressed up in your Sunday clothes?" "To meeting.

"Why, what day is it?"

"Sabbath day."

"Sal, stop washing in a minute! Sabbath day! Well, I did not know, for my husband has got so plaguey stingy he won't take the paper, and we know nothing. Well, who preached?"

"What did he preach about?"

"It was on the death of our Saviour." "Why is he dead? Well, all Boston might be dead, and we know nothing about it? It won't do, we must have the newspaper again, for everything goes wrong without the paper! Bill has almost forgot his reading; Polly has got quite mopish again, because she has no poetry stories to read. Well, if we have to take a cart-load of onions and potatoes to market, I'm resolved to have a newspaper.'

'Patrick,' said a judge in one of our city courts, the other day, 'what do you say to the charge-are you guilty or not guilty?"

'Faith, that is difficult for your honor to tell, let alone myself; wait till I hear the evidence.

A GREAT COUNTRY.

The following is a literal transcription of a letter found on the road, and sent to us by a correspondent, who assures us it is genuine It appears to be

This is a great country! It has longer rivers and more of them, and they are muddier, and deeper, and run faster, make more noise, rise higher, fall lower, and do more damage than anybody else's rivers. It has more lakes, and they are bigger, and deeper, and clearer, than those of any other country. Our rail cars are bigger, and run faster, and pitch off the track oftener, and kill more people, than all other railroad cars. Our steamboats carry bigger loads, are longer and broader, and stand dar on de railroad!' 'Why, Joe? 'Kase if bust their bilers oftener, and captains swear harder de cars see dat mout of yours, dey tink it am de than steamboat captains in any other country. Our depot and run rite in. men are bigger, and longer, and thicker, can fight harder and faster, and drink more mean whiskey, and chew more bad tobacco, and not be killed, can spit more more and spit further than the men in any other country. Our ladies are richer, prettier, dress finer, spend more money, break more hearts, wear bigger hoops, shorter dresses, and kick up the devil generally to a greater extent than the ladies of any other country. Our niggers are black- made and cured in Pennsylvania-a new article er, work harder, have thicker skulls, smell louder, and need thrashing oftener, than the niggers in any other State. Our children squall louder, grow faster, and get too extensive for their pantaloons quicker than the children in any other country. Well, this is a great country! Hang a man that won't praise his own country. I have written you all the news. Yours till death,
