WINTER'S PATENT SAW-MILL.

THE undersigned invites the attention of Mill Owners, or those going into the Milling business, to an examination of the above Mill, one of which can be seen in operation at Mr J. B. Stewart's, within five miles of Charlotte; said Mills are capable of sawing from three to five thousand feet per day, with half the power required to drive the circular mills, and much less than that required to drive the Sash-saw, doing their work perfectly smooth and beautiful. In addition to the above, I will furnish all kinds of gearing and shafting; Iron Water-wheels: Patent Sawmill Dogs, Mill Spindles; French Burr Mill Stones, with patent balance; best anchor Bolting Cloth; in short, any thing pertaining to the Milling Business. The above are made with all the modern improvements, and will be sold on the most reasonable terms, Mr J B. Stewart can be consulted with reference to the above mills or machinery, and orders through him will receive prompt attention. A list of prices, to-

sons using my mills, will be sent on application. N. KILLING HOGS AND SAVING BACON. I will give the mode which I have practiced Ex-President Franklin Pierce has addressed a for a long time very successfully. The hams I long and decidedly patriotic letter to the Executive cure, generally sell in Savannah at 15 to 18 cents Committee of a Union meeting which has been and are considered equal to Westphalia. Kill the held in Fancuil Hall, Boston. He appeals to the hogs before day, and when they are drained remove people for sympathy with the South. He denounces them to the smoke house; or, which is better, kill the Harper's Ferry riot; and finds not a shadow them at 4 or 5 P M., and get them to the smoke of excuse for those who sympathised with Brown's house by nightfall. The object is to keep the meat from the sun and flies .- Cut up the meat, "It is not the recent invasion of Virginia which cutting off the hams first, so that while some of then add a tablespoonful, or more, of red pepper the other meat is cut up and rubbed with salt and laid away; then take the hams and rub them with FIGHT WITH A RUNAWAY Mr James Wallace, residing near Kelly's Cove, n the county of Bladen, had a violent rencontre with a runaway slave, some two or three weeks since, which resulted in the death of the latter. Mr Wallace's statement is, that, while passing through a thick cane-brake on the side of the river, he came suddenly upon a negro, unknown to him in the act of tying a hog belonging to Mr. James Allen, in whose employ he (Wallace) then was. He ordered the negro to let go the hog, when the latter immediately rose and with a stick, struck him Wallace) a severe blow on his arm and neck, Wallace fending off the blow. The negro then closed in on Wallace and cut his clothes in several places, his knife being too du'll to infliet a serious wound. Mr Wallace tried to shoot him, but, the negro seized the muzzle of the gun, and held it off so that, if discharged, it would not strike him. Wallace fired one barrel and missed. He then got his knife from his pocket, opened it with his teeth and struck the negro a severe blow in his side, which caused him to loose his hold, but still holding on to the muzzle of the gun. Wallace pulled the gun back until it got in a range with the negro's body, and fired, putting the whole contents into him. The negro fell and rolled over into the river. His body has not yet been recovered. Signs of the struggle were seen afterwards by seveal persons such as the trampling down of the canes, and foot-

Mr. Wallace's statement .- Wilm. Herald.
