ARRESTS.

On Monday morning last, John Hilton was arrested in the county of Davidson, near Thomasville, for using incendiary language and making threats of violence. When the sheriff received the warrant for the arrest of Hilton, he proceeded to his house. in company with three or four others, where they found him; but he refused to surrender; and in taking him, Mr Wesley Thomas received a severe sword cut on the side of the face. Hilton was carried before Judge Saunders, at Lexington, who space of three hours. sentenced him to twelve months imprisonment for

A man by the name of Chandler, a Yankee shoe-maker at Thomasville, was also arrested for some improper conduct, and carried before Judge Saunders, who, after an investigation of the charges, bound him in a bond of $250 for his appearance at the next Superior Court. Mr Chandler . readily gave the bond and was discharged. Mr Wright, also a Yankee shoe-maker, was bound give their names, until they can be arrested. The movements of a squad of men, in a neighborhood North of Thomasville, created a considerable excitement for a day or two, but we learn that it has pretty near subsided, and we do not apprehend any farther difficulty in the neighborhood .-Greensboro Patriot.

THE BATTLE OF MANASSAS.

Correspondence of the Columbia Carolinian. The first intimation of retreat known at Sudleigh Church, where the federal hospital was established, directly on the road, was seeing Gen. McDowell and staff with a squad of cavalry riding by rapidly. This information we subsequently had corroborated by a wounded Lieutenant of the regulars, who is a prisoner. He says Gen. Mc-Dowell was last to reach the field and first to

The same Lieutenant (a graduate of West Point in June last) told us that all the graduates of his class were in the fight, and nearly all are kill-

The crowds of wounded Federals continue still to be brought into Manassas, and are cared for and forwarded to Charlottesville, Culpeper, Orange and Richmond, where the Hospitals are filling rapidly. Others will have to be established. We saw upwards of 200 Federals in one hospital, and 43 more arrived in the evening. The poor, miserable, deluded wretches seem grateful for our doing for them what their own people failed to do. Large numbers of prisoners are constantly pouring in, and there are now outside of the hospitals at least 1,200. At Charlottesville are 1,500 sick and wounded, at Culpeper as many, and in Richmond at least 1,000. All along the railroad the ladies of the neighborhood crowd to the cars and beg to be allowed to take them to their houses. The Virginians are doing their duty nobly, and even more than their duty. On the retreat a tired Yankee stopped at a farm house and begged water. Mrs. Thornton, the owner, handed him a tumbler, pouring a little brandy into it, as he seemed very exhausted. As she offered it, he shrank back for a moment, but took it and drank it. She asked him why he did so, and he replied, "To be candid with you, I feared you had put poison into it." She replied, "Sir, you do not know you are speaking to a Virginia lady; to be equally candid with you, you go no farther," she then called two of her servants and directed them to disarm him, which they did. Another coming up for water, she made the servants treat his similarly, and thus took two prisoners. A few minutes after another Yankee came to the spring, and a servant girl gave him water. He said, "Good bye, girl;" when she said, "No you must go to my mistress and thank her, not me.' She marched him up, and as she got near the party, she cried out, "Mistress, here is my prisoner," and thus another was bagged, and the three guarded until a squad of eavalry came and marched them to headquarters. An Aid of Gen. Beaure-It is further ordered by the Court, That to gard told us that he had just been over to thank the lady in the General's name, for her heroic

A negro boy saw a Federal soldier lean his gun gainst a tree in a small thicket, and sit down. He slipped up and seized the gun. The Yankee jumped up, when the boy threatened him with the bayonet if he moved. He then gave the order "Bont face-forward march-file left"-and marched in his prisoner. Many cases are reported of prisoners being taken by negroes.

A touching scene occurred while we were at Lewis' House Hespital, on the battle field. Dr. L. asked a wounded youth, of sixteen, where he was from. He said "Brooklyn." He asked him if he was wounded. He said "slightly. I had a Bible in my pocket, and the ball passed through it before it wounded me, and thus the force was deadened." Dr. L. said, "My friend, I trust that Bible will prove your eternal salvation, as it has been your earthly." He said "I hope it has, sir; tears, as he answered, "Yes." "Why are you here?" said the Doctor. "I came here to defend Washington, and not to fight the South; but have been deceived." This is the cry of all the wounded-they came to defend the capital, and not to

> MR RUSSEL'S OPINION .- A special dispatch to the Baltimore Exchange, from Washington, says that Mr Russell, of the London Times, who was present at the battle, states that the loss in killed and wounded of the Federals must amount to 12,-000, and that the loss of the Confederates will probably reach 4,000. He states that history records no such defeat for the past century-no rout so utter and complete as that of the Federal forces. The fighting of the Southern men, he says, was magnificent. They fired with the precision of veterans. They would fall to permit the artillery to fire, and then rising, discharge their muskets and charge bayonets in splendid order. Ex. Committee,

For the Western Democrat. Written for the "Waxhaw Jackson Guardi" the presentation of a Flag to them by the Ladin of Waxhaw, Union county, N. C. AIR-"THE CAMPBELLS ARE COMING " From the county where freedom first brightened to ha Where each bush struck a foeman with terror and aw Our ancestors fought hard at Walkup's old mill They dreve back the foeman at Hanging-rock hill At Charlotte, at Cowpens and glorious Eutaw.

Once more for our freedom our swords we draw. We'll yield to no power but justice and law. And woe to the tyrant who falls in the paw Of the liberty-loving from old Waxhaw. Our State was the last to come into the bond-Was the last to desert those who intended her wrong But though last in forbearance, she was first in the fight

And thrice glorious Bethel is proof of her might

Where Britains fell thickest was at old Waxhaw

Her descendants are of Guilford and King's Mountain And Moore's Creek, Alamance and the old Waxhay, And glorious old Mecklenburg, who never can yield Whilst liberty's threatened or a foe 's in the field No banner shall stream in advance of this Flag. No true son of Waxhaw behind it will lag, No band be more glorious or more worthy of applan Than the band and the banner from the old Waxbay Then accept ye this Flag with the smiles of the fair, Whose hearts shall be with you wherever ye are: And when dangers thicken remember the joys

Of returning in triumph to the old Waxhaws.
