It shall be States assume the payment of the tax and raise the money for that purpose by issuing Bonds. It is to be hoped that nothing of the sort will be done. The people are now better prepared to pay the tax directly from their pockets than they will be hereafter, and the object should be, and is, to draw in a portion of the super-abundance of notes in circulation. It was a most unfortunate act in the State of North Carolina assuming the payment of her quota of the first war tax, instead of allowing it to be paid by the people, and when many were ready and willing to pay in gold.

ROBBERY EXTRAORDINARY .--- The Savannah Republican relates the following particulars of a late robbery on the Georgia Central Railroad, which is fully up to the rascally spirit of the times:

It appears that a gentleman from Sumter county was settling for a supper at the Brown House, when a young man standing by observed that he had a considerable amount of money on his person. He soon commenced conversation with the stranger, ascertained that he was to take the Contral Railroad cars that sight, and expressed great satisfaction, as he was going that way himself. He became very cozy with his new and unwary acquaintance, went aboard the cars with him and they took seats together. They chatted merrily along until the cars had passed Griswoldville, when the young man proposed to go to the hinder car, where he had left his carpet bag with a friend, and take a drink of liquor.

The Sumter county man, being "a little dry," readily consented. The two passed out of th ear whilst the train was going at full speed, and on reaching the platform and closing the door they were joined by a third party. The two, without warning, took violent hold of the stranger, evidently by pre-concert, and dashed him from the train. The two rogues, then quietly returned to their seat in the car. On reaching Gordon they left the train and footed back six miles to their victim, whom they found lying at the foot of the embankment with a ghastly wound across the face, his thigh broken, and wholly unable to offer any resistance. They went to work and robbed him of his pecket-book, containing $1600, his papers, knife, tobacco, and indeed everything ezcept his clothing. The scoundrels then docamped, leaving him to his fate. Next day he was discovored and taken to Gordon where medical assistance was called in and his family sent for.

EDWARD EVERETT .- The Paris correspondent of the New York World, gives the following bonne bouche to Edward . Everett :

A good many Americans in Paris hung down their heads on reading that "the Hon. Edward shopping, or better, inquire of any lady friend who Everett hung out a new flag to welcome Butler to has tried that experiment, the result of his or her Boston." Edward Everett, the pink of propriety, investigations will be that the great proportionthe model statesman, the American scholar, the we might say all, (for the exceptions only prove perfect gentleman-doing homage to that man the rule,) of the goods advertised as having run Butler, who has committed every crime in the the blockade in British steamers, are most veritacalendar. Oh, it is a flagrant abomination ! How ble and undoubted Yankee goods. This any lady, are the mighty fallen ! There are many citizens as we are assured, can verify for herself. of New Orleans here in Paris who "blacked And if, as is apparent, and as we have been asmailed" Butler to get away, and who showed their sured is the case, Yankee cargoes are directly passports and the prices paid for them, with But- transferred at Nassau from Yankee bottoms, on mills near this place are paying 8 and 10 cents a pound for rags? Such we assure our country friends are facts and we appeal to them to bring in their rags. The best printing paper is made of rags and the want of them compels the paper makers to use cotton at the present extravagant prices. This fact makes the price of the paper much greater to us, and we necessarily have to make a corresponding increase in our own prices to enable us to pay it. Let those who have rags bring them in and get the money for them .-- Raleigh Pro. for If any person will take the trouble to go a

The Herald says editorially:

"Noisy peace agitators, claiming to lead the Conservative Democracy are seen on every side sawing the air, and on the stump and in the legislative assembly are heard preaching peace and armistice and conventions and the most degrading concessions to Jeff. Davis, and armed resistance against Lincoln for the sake of peace. "The exact issue before us, however, is the subjugation of this rebellion or half a dozen Confederacies and perpetual war. There is no choice left us, then, but that of a crushing campaign by hand and water. Let Mr Lincoln, then, excepte the conscript law. Any other road leads to chaos and engless wars."

A JOYFUL RETURN .- Joe, a servant of a gentleman of this city, who has been an absentee from his master's premises about eighteen months, and during that time employed by the Abolition-ists on St. Helena and the adjacent islands, returned on Friday morning to his master. He re-ports the negroes on the island in a destitute condition, and many anxious to return had they the The Legislature of Texas has passed a bill facilities for doing so.
