PINE STRAW.

Two articles in the May number of The Southern Cultivator, on the Pine Straw question, having attracted my attention, I will give a piece of my owp experience in the matter-leaving others to dispute about the theory. In 1859, I employed as manager on my small plantation an experienced farmer, as well as a man of much practical sense. In our contract, it was stipulaled that I was to furnish hands and transportation to manure his potato patch with pine straw, and the idea being a novel one to me, 1 .watched his proceedings with some interest .-The spot selected was a portion of a field of poor gravelly brownish clay soil, which had been in cultivation longer than he or I had been living. The straw used from the short leaf or "old-field" nine-no other kind growing on my place .-Well, the potato patch was covered with this in January or Febuary, to the depth of 3 to 6 inches, and the land (previously broken) "turned over." No other manure was applied. On my own patch, I put a bountiful supply of cow-pen manure -the land being fresher and better than his .-The culture was the same. His yield of potatoes was at least 25 per cent better than mine. In the fall the whole field was sown in oats, and from the time they came up until they were harvested, the difference between those in the "potato patch" and the rest of the field, was perceptible at the distance of one to three hundred yards-the former having much the strongest and most healthy appearance, and the yield was proportionately better. Next year the effects of the Pine Straw were strikingly observable in the corn, as witnessed by several neighbors. And about that time we "peaceably seceded," I went to the war, and don't know what my pine straw potato patch did afterwards -E. R. L. That's all. Lilesville, N. C., May, 1867.

NEW INVENTIONS .- Dr. Jones Johnson, of Northampton, county N. C., has been granted two patents, one a fertilizer, distributer, ridger, cotton planter, &c., and the other for an important bed spring. Of the first the Weldon State says, "it opens at the same moment two parallel white and colored Alpacca, Lustres, Poplins, &c. furrows, deposits the fertilizer, therein, in any given quantity to the acre without variation, and throws up the ridges, or cotton beds, on the fertilizer. The land being prepared as above desthe second operation the two ridges are at the same moment planted with cotton seed and the same covered to the requisite depth. When the Skirts-a beautiful article.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

THE

How wondrous are the changes, Jim, Since twenty years ago, When gals wore woolen dresses, Jim, And boys wore pants of tow; When shoes were made of calf skin, And socks of homespun wool, And children did a half-day's work Before the hour of school.

The girls took music lessons, Jim, Upon the spinning wheel, Aud practiced late and early, Jim, On the spindle, swift and reel; The boys would ride barebacked to mill, A dozen miles or so. And hurry off before 'twas day, Some twenty years ago.

The people rods to meeting, Jim, In sleds instead of sleighs; And wagons rode as easy, Jim, As buggies now a-days: And oxen answered well for team, Though now they'd be too slow;

For people lived not half so fast Some twenty years ago. O, weil do I remember, Jim, That Wilson's patent stove, That father bought and paid for Jim, In cloth our own gals wove; And how the neighbors wondered When we got the thing to go! They said 'twould burst and kill us all, Some twenty years ago.

MORE REFORMS .- The Chicago Tribune (Republican) wants Congress to turn its attention to the Mormons and produce a few reforms in Brigham Young's kingdom. It is feared that Brigham may injure merality in the Northern States by having a plurality of wives, and thus setting the bad example of excessive happiness. The Tribune says :

WESTERN

"Polygamy is a recognized system of fornication which the Bible and Christianity condemns. and if those Senators at Washington, instead of wasting their time in denouncing the despots of Europe and eulogizing the Mexican people, would only look to their own country, they would find a despotism more damnable than any across the water, Cannot a law be passed making polygamy high treason, and authorizing the arrest of the criminal, in any part of the United States ?-no matter where the crime is committed, so it is done within the territory of the Union. Pass such a law, and let it be proclaimed far and uear. and I venture to predict that no one will dare to commit polygamy ere the centenary of our National Independence will have passed away."
