CURE OF CORNS .- A correspondent of the London Lancet recommends the use of caustic in case of corns. He says:

I applied it (the lunar caustic) thus: I put my feet in warm water, and allowed them to remain till I found the outer surface of the corn was soft; I then dried the feet, and applied the caustic all over the corn-in a few minutes it was dry. It remained so ten days, when I removed the black skin and applied the caustic again; and I continued till I had eradicated the corns completely. I have tried the same plan with many of my patients, and those who have been sufferers for years-all have been cured It produces no pain, nor the least inconvenience. and does away with the necessity of cutting, which is dangerous in itself, and likely to produce extensive inflamation, with frequently the

Many a foolish young fellow will throw away on a holiday a certain amount of nervous energy, which he will never feel the want of till he is seventy; and then, how much he will want it! It is curious, but true, that a bottle of champagne at twenty may intensify the rheumatism of three score. It is a fact, that overtasking the eyes at fourteen may necessitate the aid of spectacles at forty, instead of eighty. We advise our young readers to be saving of health for their old age, for the maxim holds good with regard to health as to money; waste not, want not. It is the greatest mistake the woman, and when Sunday came, and the to suppose that any violation of the laws of health little household, dressed in all their finery, baby can escape its penalty. A Newly-Married Suddenly Divorces Herself. There happened here recently, between a newly married couple from Kentucky, a rather start-ling episode, told briefly as follows: A young gentleman from the county of Madison, Kentucky, wooed and won the heart of a most estimable and handsome young lady of Fayette county. After several months courtship, the ceremony was duly performed at the First Presbyterian church in Lexington, and the happy pair, with buoyant hopes, took the afternoon train for this city to spend the honeymoon. The hours on rosy wings, flew swiftly by. The bridegroom congratulated himself upon the prize he had won, soon sleeping profoundly. On the morrow, after having passed the night in profound slumber, all unconscious of having any wife, he was astonished to learn that she had

At the last meeting of the State Medical So. ciety at Albany, Dr Staats, of that city, said he had been practising medicine for the last fifty years, and had for a long time been more or less about the penitentiaries, where he came in constant contact with drunkards, and he had never encountered a case of delerium tremens in a pure negro. He had spoken and written to many gentlemen about it, and never heard of a case, and wished to ask if any member of this Society had ever known such a case. The Society was silent, and Dr Staats has yet to discover the first case of delirium tremens in a negro. He only stated this fact, he said, but could not pretend
