

The Journal.

CHARLOTTE:

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1832.

Appeals below were required to cause the original judgment which had been reversed in that Court, to be carried into execution.

The subscriber having become the purchaser of Mr. Noile's interest in the Journal, the paper will hereafter be conducted in his name.

We must submit the following letter just received, from a man whose opinion on all great occasions will always be listened to in Georgia, with affectionate and confiding interest.

Washington, 5th March, 1832. DEAR SIRS.—The people of Georgia will receive with indignant feelings, as they ought, the recent decision of the Supreme Court, so flagrantly violative of their sovereign rights.

Dear Sirs, very respectfully yours, G. M. TROUP.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber will sell to the highest bidder, in Charlotte, on Tuesday of the Superior Court in May next,

One Hundred Acres of Land, embracing a rich vein of Auriferous Ore, of more than a quarter of a mile in length.

K. B. Two or three first rate workmen would meet with constant employment, if application be made soon.

TAKEN UP

AND committed to the jail in Concord, N. C. on 13th March, a negro boy who calls his name ANTO, 5 feet 6 inches high, about 32 or 33 years of age, stammers when talking fast, light complexioned, and says he belongs to William Jones, living in Columbia county, Georgia.

We learn from the Salisbury Carolinian, that Charles Fisher, Esq. the able representative of that town, has declined a re-election to the next Legislature.

We have inserted in a preceding column an article from the Georgia Journal, a leading paper in that State, on the Cherokee question, and also a letter from G. M. Troup, a Senator in Congress from Georgia, to the Editors of the Journal.

From a letter received by the Editors of the Petersburg Intelligencer, the following important information is given, viz: that by the first of May next, the line for passengers between Petersburg and Philadelphia will be run in 35 hours.

Painful Occurrence.—The Greensboro' Patriot of the 14th inst. states that on Saturday last, a most distressing circumstance took place in that town, which deprived a son of Henry Humphreys, Esq., between five and six years old, of his life.

Another victim of Intemperance.—On Monday, Asa Barcum, an aged planter of this county (about 60) was found dead in a small creek or branch about 12 miles west of this place, into which, it is supposed, he had fallen in a state of intoxication.

On Wednesday evening, 4th inst. about seven o'clock, a fire was discovered in the assaying department of the United States Mint, north Second Street.

The Danbury (Ct) Recorder relates the particulars of one of the most wicked unfeeling acts that we have had occasion to record.

In Connecticut, the number of permanent residents unable to read, (exclusive of minors) is estimated at thirty only!

A case of mal-practice was recently decided at Littlefield, Conn. in which a young physician, for having inoculated a female just below the elbow joint, wounding a nerve, and effecting an incurable injury, was fined $400.

Mrs. Payell has taken sides with Georgia, and against the Supreme Court. The affair is therefore all over with the missionaries.

Curious Superstitions.—A letter, with the following direction, was lately received at the Post-Office: Miss Jane Williams, cousin of John Owen's wife, Fow-Castle, Schuylkill county, in North-America, in the United States.

Nullification.—Thos. J. Randolph, the grandson of Mr. Jefferson, has recently published extracts from the manuscripts of his grandfather, which show conclusively, that he is the author of the doctrine of Nullification.

To the Editor of the Miners' & Farmers' Journal

I before observed, that furnaces were preferable to roasting ores in the open air; in some instances the latter mode is best, when the ores contain a large quantity of native sulphur.

Respecting the structure of reverberatory furnaces for merely preparing the ores for extracting the metal, in other countries it has been found necessary to vary them according to the nature of the ores to be placed therein, and the facilities for obtaining fuel.

The object of mills is to reduce ores to a degree of fineness, equal to that of the particles of gold contained in them, in order to detach and prepare them for the attractive powers of the quicksilver.

To avoid the disadvantage and consequent loss in the Chilian mill, arising from a continued escape of a stream of water, also the loss of gold arising out of the cause of not reducing the ores fine enough, the Arrastre has been introduced, thereby eluding the difficulties and making the process of grinding more complete, but on the other hand, employing a longer space of time, likewise more care being required in the separation of the quicksilver from the relaves, and much depending on the construction of the washer for the purpose, it being easily perceptible that no loss can be sustained from the Arrastre.

Combining all these circumstances and applying them to the nature of our ores, no definite conclusion can be drawn but from actual trial.

The answer to the 5th query is included in what has been observed in the foregoing remarks, and I will only add that the usual process in Europe, for gold and silver amalgamation, bears no similarity to either of the above named plans, the different qualities of ore being separated by manual labor and the poorer class of them being stamped upon a constant stream of water and reduced upon the principle of their specific gravity, running through a succession of canals, washed upon an inclined plane or shaking tables, and the mass afterwards reduced still finer in horizontal mills upon the principle of those used for flour, and lastly, amalgamated in barrels with internal construction for that purpose.

AND committed to the jail in Concord, N. C. on 19th Jan. a negro boy named JACOB, 5 feet 6 inches high, about 30 years of age, stout built and dark complexioned, and says he belongs to Dunston Banks, living in Tusculooza, Alabama.

cause a new era in gold amalgamation. Some South American Mining Companies have sent intelligent officers to Hungary for the purpose of inspection; some machines have been transported there but no intelligence of their success has yet been received.

LATEST FROM FRANCE.

By the packet ship Sully, Capt. Pell, Paris dates have been received from New-York, to February 10, and Havre to the 11th, both inclusive.

The most interesting item of news is the renewal of disturbances in Italy.

Fuorza, (Italy) January 22.—During the combat of the 20th of this month, 1800 civic guards made headway for some hours against 4000 soldiers of the Pontiff, sustained by 600 cavalry, and a numerous artillery.

Most of our compatriots retired upon Forli in good order. The others, to the number of 150 or 200, entered Cesana, where they dispersed themselves among the families which offered them an asylum, and that the town might not be exposed to pillage, abandoned their arms.

Paris, February 6.—The Austrians entered Bologna on the 25th of January, at 9 o'clock in the morning. There was not the least disturbance. The Austrian army had so taken its position, as to enter simultaneously at all the gates.

It is said that 1500 troops of the line have just embarked at Toulon, and that about 5000 more will be embarked to occupy Civita-Vecchia.

A simultaneous occupation of the Legation by the French and Austrian troops will take place; but in such a manner that they shall not come in contact with each other.

Paris, Feb. 10.—After a long conference of the four great powers, held at the house of the President of the Council, the affairs of Italy, couriers were respectively sent to St. Petersburg, Vienna, and the ministers of those courts.

It is supposed that the engagements between the Courts of France and Rome, remains adverse to the troubles in Romagna, and that the French Court feels itself obliged to send some troops to Civita Vecchia, now that they are formally demanded by the Holy Father.
