It seems, from the correspondence in the enshorough Patriot, that Mr. Robert Ball Hughes, the artist, and the editor of the Patriot, are at loggerheads about the Statue of Washington. There is a considerable degree of warmth and ill-humored poignancy in Mr. Hughes communication. Mr. Swaim in his reply explains matters, vindicates himself, and charges Matlam Rumor with the libel of his being called a runaway.' We hope, however, that they will not have to resort to the use of gunpowder unless, peradventure, they may need it as a substitute for ink-powder.

Catareba Journal.

FAINSVILLE, OHIO, NOV. 3.
Fatal Mistake.—The circumstances of this inclancholy accident, as just related to us, are briefly as follows. On Wednesday evening last, Mr. Ingley of Auburn, in this county, was returning home in a state of intoxication, and fell into the ditch by the side of the road. A man passing by discovered him in that situation, and mistook him for a bear. He returned about half a mile to a tavern, made known his discovery, procured a rifle, and went buck in company with three or four others; and when they arrived within about fifteen feet of him, still lying helpless in the ditch, they were so confident that it was a bear, that one of them immediately fired and killed him instantly. So far as we have been informed. no evil design attaches to any one-it appears to have been wholly a mistake, ocrasioned by the darkness of the night, and his lying in the situation above described.

Interesting Intelligence .- We are gratified to learn, from the Boston Daily Advertiser, that Mr. WEISTER, at the request of a distinguished friend, is about to give his opinion on the question of the right of a State to Nullify a Law of the United States, in the shape of a counter-argument to the last letter of Mr. Calhoun. It is expected that this discussion will soon be laid before the public .- Charleston Courier.

White Squirrel, shot by one of our townsmen."

From the Charleston Courier. The Anti-Tariff Concention of Georgia begins to assume an interesting aspect.

On the 3d inst. Mr. FORSYTH offered resolutions, "that a Committee of five be appointed by the President, to examine and report to this body, at its next meeting, the authority of the persons assembled as delegates from the different counties in the State, to represent the people of their respective councies—the resolutions (if any) under which the election of each county was held —the notice given of the time of election the manner of holding it, the number of votes given at the election, and the number of voters in the county"—and "that the individuals who have acted as a committee, of what is known as the Athens meeting, be and they are hereby requested to present to this body the correspondence they have held connected with the object of their appointment." These Resolutions gave rise to a warm and animated debate, in which Mr. Forsyth, Mr. Berrien, Col. Cumming, Mr. Clayton, and several others took part. The discussion was continued for three days .- Mr. Clayton opposed the Resolutions with much violence, and they were defended in a most eloquent and effective manner by the mover. A substitute was offered on the 14th, by Mr. Berrien, which was opposed by Col. Cumming, and the subject finally postponed on the 15th, until the Committee of 21 appointed to consider the objects and views of the Convention, should have time to report. The Convention adjourned on the evening of the 15th inst. to meet the next morning at 10 o'clock, in the Methodist Church.

Judge Johnson and Chancellor Harper, from this State, were in attendance, and had been very courteously received by the Convention. The following letters from them were read on the 15th, and referred. on motion of Mr. Berrien, to the Committee

MILLEDGEVILLE, Nov. 21. Sir-I have the honour to announce to you, that I have been deputed by the Union and State Rights party of S. Carolina, to attend the Convention of the people of Georgia, now in session, and to communicate with it, in relation to matters of high interest to the Southern States, corresponding with those which will engage the deliberations your body. In the absence of the Hon-J. B. O'Neal, who was associated with me in this duty, it will give me great pleasure to communicate with your Convention in such manner as it may think proper to prescribe, on the subject of my mission, and to give any information which I may poss, of the situation and views, as well of the State of S. Carolina, at large, as of the party whom I have the honor to represent.

That the Convention may be fully posessed of all the information which may be necessary to enable them to act advisedly, I take the liberty to add, that my friend Judge Harper, of S. C. who stands deservedly high in the estimation of the Free Trade Party of that State, is now in Milledgeville, and I have his authority for saying that he will willingly impart any information he may

Hon. Geo. Gilmer, Pres't Georgia Convention Sir-Though not attending at Milledgeville in any official character, yet, at the request of my friend Judge Johnson, I do myself the honor to announce to you, that it will afford me pleasure to give to the body over which you preside, every information in my power, respecting the situation and views of the State of S. C. I am not the delegate of any party, though attending at the request of gentlemen with whom I have acted politically. Yet, as an individual, I shall be gratified if I can either afford information, or promote, in any degree, a mutual good understanding and co-operation between the Southern States, whose interests and whose injuries are identified.

With the highest respect, I have the honor to be, your obedient servant, WM. HARPER

From the New-York Com. Advertiser, Nov. 13. Death of Spurzheim.—The mail from Boston to-day brings the unexpected intelligence of the death of this distinguished nilosopher, whom we had fair hoped to have seen and heard in this city. The following brief obituary notice is from the Boston Daily Advertiser :-

Died, in this city, on Saturday night last, after an illness of two or three weeks, of typhus fever, Dr. Gaspard Spurzbeim. He was a distinguished German physician, the author of several works on the Auatomy and Physiology of the Brain and the Ner-vous System, and the celebrated coadjutor of Dr. Gall, in expounding and propagating a peculiar system of Phrenology. Dr. S. was born near Treves, in the year 1776, he pursued his medical studies in Vienna, where in 1800 he heard the lectures of Dr. Gall on Craniology. From that time this study became his chief pursuit, and he visited several countries of Europe for the purpose of prosecuting his researches, and at the same time giving public lectures on his fa-vorite subject. Since his arrival in this city, which was a few months since, Dr. S. has made a most favorable impression, from his extensive learning and his agreeable manners. His lectures were attended by a large audience, and gave great satisfac-tion, for the ingenuity and learning which they displayed, independently of the merits of the peculiar system, which it was their leading object to develope. His death is sincerely lamented as that of an amiable and accomplished man. We presume that our citizens, in committing his body to the earth, will not do it without some demonstration of respect for the memory of a learned stranger, who has thus closed his days among us-

The Boston Daily Atlas says :-

In stature he was about six feet high, of large frame, and muscular. His countenance was open and generous; and honesty and benevolence were certainly discoverable in his face. He has been married, but we have not been informed whether his wife is living or not. A sister, the only relative of whom mention has been made, now resides at Paris.

Dr. Spurzheim's head is one of the finest that could possibly be selected to sustain the doctrine to which he devoted his whole life. The body was removed yesterday to the Medical College, where the post mortem examination will be made before the Faculty of the city. Casts, we understand, will be made of the cranium, face, and brainand afterwards the body will be embalmed, and deposited at Mount Auburn, to be given to his friends in Europe, should they request its removal.

THE PRESIDENT'S SENTIMENTS .- A COTrespondent of the Charleston Patriot, who writes from Washington, after a conversation with the President, states that with regard to the Tariff, that Gen. Jackson is with the people of S. Carolina, upon the general principle, and ready and willing to carry it into effect with as little delay as a prudent caution against precipitate changes will admit."

A gentleman who resides in this place, informs us that he saw, on the farm of Mr. Winchester Pegrain, a Nullifier, in Lincoln County, N. C. a few days ago, a Squash, which weighed Eighty-one pounds, avoirdupois, and, in its largest circumference, measured 5 feet 3 inches. Hurrah for Lincoln! it she can't produce Nullification, she can grow squashes.

Extensive Forgery .- An extensive train of villainy has just been developed in this vicinity. A man by the name of Webster, of Conway, who has heretofore sustained an unblemished character, has forged notes on the Hampshire and Amherst Banks, and Boston Daily Globe" has been presented individuals to the amount of four or five thousand dollars. The precise amounts and the actual facts, we have not been able ing a newspaper every day for less than 1 to gather, but the above in the main is correct. He has absconded and officers of

The body of the Duke of Reichstadt is deposited in the Imperial family vault, where it is not the practice to place inscriptions.
