

POETRY.

THE RAINBOW.

BY AMELIA.

I sometimes have thoughts in my loneliest hours, That lie on my heart like the dew on the flowers...

MISCELLANY.

DON'T YOU DO IT.

When a petulant individual politely observes to you, "you'd better eat me up, hadn't you?"—don't you do it.

WESTWARD HO!

On Sunday last as we were wending our way to Church, our attention was called to a vehicle in the street, which appeared to be a small house on four wheels, drawn by four horses.

Mr. Tyler.—The Washington Correspondent of the Philadelphia Spirit of the Times, says, "Mr. Tyler wishes Congress to repeal the Land Distribution Bill."

Abby Kelly, in Andover, the other day, in speaking of the prejudice existing against persons of color, asked, "Why does not the same feeling exist against a black dress?"

A Fact.—The ready wit of a true born Irishman, however humble his station, is exceeded only by his gallantry. A few days since we observed a case in point.

"Which shall I thank you for first, the service or your compliment?" asked the lady smiling. "Troth, ma'am," said Pat again touching the place where once stood the brim of what once was a beaver.

A cutting reply.—An avicious Divine, seeing a poor boy in a deplorable condition, called him to the door, and giving him a piece of mouldy bread asked him if he could read.

Well said the divine, I will teach you that: Our Father, said the instructor. Our Father? repeated the boy; what! your father as well as mine!

Logical.—"Why don't you subscribe to the Gazette, or some other newspaper," said we the other day to a map of this county.

"You have a large family of children growing up, to whom a paper might be of incalculable advantage—and I am sure you are sufficiently able to bear the expense."

NOT MUCH LEFT. "I say, Jim," said a loafer to another, whose garments were in a most tattered condition, "how do you get your livin'?"

"Well, I git it sometimes one way and sometimes another. Mostly I don't git it at all!" "Be them cloths your'n or do you hire 'em, lowing the owner the right to destrain?"

THE CULTIVATOR. TO FARMERS AND GARDENERS

THE CULTIVATOR, (a consolidation of Burlet's Cultivator and the Genesee Farmer,) a monthly periodical, designed "to improve the Mind and the Soil" and "to Elevate the Standing and Character of the Cultivators of the American Soil."

WILLIS GAYLORD and LUTHER TUCKER, Editors. Published at Albany, (N. Y.) by Luther Tucker, Proprietor, at One Dollar per annum—Six Copies for Five Dollars—20 per cent. commission on twenty-five or more subscribers—25 per cent. on one hundred or more. All subscribers to commence with a volume. All payments to be made free of postage.

The publisher of the Cultivator has the pleasure of presenting to the friends of the Agriculture in the United States, the prospectus of a new volume (the 9th, commencing January 1, 1842,) of that periodical. This paper is so well known in every part of the country, as to render a recapitulation of its objects and contents, generally, unnecessary.

The range and variety of its articles—its list of contributors, (embracing the most distinguished agriculturists in every section of the Union,) unrivalled in numbers as well as in scientific and practical skill—the superiority of its mechanical execution, and the unequalled number, rich variety and superior beauty of its illustrations, embracing in the last two volumes about and on every subject connected with agriculture, have contributed to render it a favorite with all classes interested in the cultivation of the soil, and given it a circulation hitherto unknown among the agricultural periodicals of the country—amounting to about Twenty-Two Thousand!

Grateful for the every favorable consideration the work has received and the extensive patronage awarded, the publisher would state that NO EFFORTS OR EXPENSE will be spared to give new and increased interest to the volume for 1842.

It is intended to devote a larger portion of the work, (at least one page monthly,) to the subjects of GARDENING and the ORCHARD; and to enlarge the department devoted to DOMESTIC AND RURAL ECONOMY, and to the DISEASES OF ANIMALS, so as to render them as useful as possible to all classes of our citizens.

To accomplish this, arrangements have been made as will place within our reach all European periodicals and publications important in agricultural and veterinary matters, and they will be made available in such a manner, as, in every respect, to render the Cultivator worthy the patronage it has received, and make it, all things considered, the CHEAPEST AND BEST AGRICULTURAL PAPER ever published in this or any other country.

Post-masters and all those kind friends who have heretofore with so much liberality and patriotism, as well as those who wish to "elevate the standing and character of the cultivators of the American Soil," are respectfully invited to use their influence in promoting its circulation by acting as agents in their respective neighborhoods.

Any gentleman wishing to obtain the Cultivator, has only to hand his dollar to the Postmaster of his neighborhood, who will forward it to the publisher free of expense.

LUTHER TUCKER, Publisher of the Cultivator. Albany, December, 1841.
