BY LORD LYTTON.

There is no death! The stars go down To rise upon some fairer shore, And bright in Heaven's jeweled crown They shine forever more.

There is no death! The dust we tread Shall change beneath the summer showers To golden grain or mellowed fruit, Or rainbow-tinted flowers.

The granite rocks disorganize, And feed the hungry moss they bear; The forest leaves drink daily life From out the viewless air.

There is no death! The leaves may fall, And flowers may fade and pass away— They only wait through wintry hours The coming of May day.

There is no death! An angel form Walks o'er the earth with silent tread. And bears our best loved things away, And then we called them "dead!"

He leaves our hearts all desolate: He plucks our fairest, sweetest flowers; Transplanted into bliss, they now Adorn immortal bowers. The bird-like voice whose joyous tones Made glad these scenes of sin and strife Sings now an everlasting song Around the tree of life. Where'er he sees a smile too bright, Or heart too pure for taint and vice.

He bears it to that world of light, To dwell in Paradise. Born to that undying life, With joy we welcome them the same, Except their sin and pain. And ever near us, though unseen, The dear, immortal spirits tread; For all the boundless universe Is life—there is no death!

Dr. James R. Nichols, editor of the Boston Journal of Chemistry, writes the following on kerosene:

A Word on Kerosene.

"Kerosene is not explosive; a lighted taper may be thrust into it, or flame applied to it, with perfect safety. Accidents from kerosene occur from two causes : imperfect manufacture and adulteration. Naptha is volatile, inflammable, and danther, unprincipled dealers add napths to kerosene. But even napths is not explosive; to render it or the vapor that be, a thousand years ago. Muffling the Throat.

What is the best mode of protecting the throat from colds where a person is very susceptible to them? The common way of protecting the throat is to bundle pins per week, each case containing and wrap it up closely, thus overheating 672,000 pins. The factory which he repand rendering it sensitive, and more liable resents turns out eight tons of pins per to colds and inflammation than before. week. Hair pins are jobbed by the cask. This practice is all wrong, and results in There is but one factory in this country much evil. Especially is this the case with children, and when, in addition to muffling of the throat the extremities are insufficiently clad, as is often the case, the best possible conditions are presented for the production of sore-throats, coughs, croup, and all kinds of throat affections. If the neck is overheated a portion of the about 60,000,000 feet of lumber. At the (One door west of Farmers' and Merchants' time, when it is exposed, some form of disarrangement of the throat will be apt to occur. The rule in regard to clothing the neck should be to keep it as cool as comfort will allow. In doing so you will suffer much less from throat ailment than if you are always fearful of having a little cold air come in contact with your neck. Any one who has been accustomed to have his throat muffled should be careful to leave off gradually, and not all at once. Herald of Health.

As simple a trick as a little pepper, which we give our customers. aloes, or the like, thrown back on the tongue, will often succeed in turning attention to the taste in his mouth. The pair of cattle to log-chain around the horse's neck, is an intricate and expensive remedy, and a good many people may not be lucky enough to have a yoke of cattle handy for the occasion.

The respectfully invite them to look at our new Stock, feeling assured that we can and will make it to their interest to buy of us this Spring.

WITTKOWSKY & RINTELS.

We have also added a large and elegant lot of Carpets to our Stock.

A simpler and cheaper remedy that will result far differently, is to take a couple of turns of common wrapping twine such as grocers use, around the foreleg just below the knee, tight enough for the horse to feel, and tie in a bow knot. At the first cluck he will go dancing off, and after going a short distance behind. you can get out and remove the string to prevent injury to the tendon in your further driving.

The first lesson in this simple process was in Lexington, Ky.; subsequent experience has proved its utility when applied to balky horses.

The philosophy of the appliance is something on the same principle as that whereof we once read for preventing hens from scratching up the garden. Put gaffs or spurs on the hens reversing them -instead of the points up, have them pointing downward. Then, when the hen lifts a leg to scratch, as it descends the point of the spur catches in the ground, placing that foot forward; and the stroke with the other leg is attended with like results, until the hen walks herself right out of the garden .- Turf, Field and Farm.

DR. HORACE ON BRETS.—Senator Wilson recently wrote to Horace Greeley, inquiring the most approved method of cultivating beets. The philosopher's answer was short but to the point : "Persist in your efforts to have Grant renominated."

Tea and coffee will be free of duty after the 1st of July, when we can enjoy onethird more of each without extra cost.

Heavy Applications of Fertilizers on the Tobacco Crop.

We wonder if many of our farmers have ever taken the trouble to calculate how far 200 or 300 pounds of fertilizers will go in the way of permanently helping the soil on which it is applied. An acre of land contains 43,560 square feet, or 4,840 square yards. Now, 3021 pounds of fertilizer to the acre will give exactly one ounce avoirdupois to the square yard, would respectfully inform the public that he demands of the soil, and especially in Eastern Virginia? The bare statement of the proposition furnishes its own answer. A Connecticut tobacco grower does not work many acres, but from every acre he does work he gets from 2,000 to 2,900 to 2 pounds. Having a short season, he must me a call. needs make the most of his time, and so and examine the Boy's and Children's clothresorts principally to stable-manure. Of ing. this he uses from $200 to $240 worth per acre, in addition to a liberal application both of guano and plaster. In our climate, where the season is long, much warmer, and too often very dry, such enormous applications would in the long run be hurtful. But the quantity of fertilizer generally used in this region (200 pounds to the acre) if trebled would be within reasonable bounds, and give most handsome results.

In the March number of the Southern Planter and Farmer we have read a very Davidson College, P. O. interesting account of an exhaustive ex-

Samuel M. Wilson, of Powhatan county, in this State. Mr. Wilson used 600 pounds per acre of the Tobacco Fertilizer (Gilham's) made by the Southern Fertilizing Company in Richmond, and although the crop was subjected to several most serious drawbacks, the principal one being his inability to secure an early stand from lack of plants in time, he still made an average of 3 1-10 plants to the pound.

We trust this matter of contracted acres and high cultivation will be agitated until our people effect a radical change in the course which has now too long prevailed, of expecting large returns from very small applications of manure. Rural Messenger, Petersburg, Va.
