

North Carolina Whig.

CHARLOTTE.

WEDNESDAY, October 6, 1852.

EDWARD WILLIAMS, Esq., is our agent in Baltimore, authorized to collect subscriptions, and to grant interviews.

EDWARD W. COWAN, Esq., our agent in Philadelphia, will be at our office every day, and will receive visitors.

A. B. Palmer, Esq., our authorized agent in New York, and other cities, will receive visitors.

Gen. WINFIELD SCOTT, of NEW-CASTLE,

Gen. RALPH GORRELL,

Gen. HENRY K. NASH,

Gen. M. W. RANSOM,

Gen. JNO. WINSLOW,

Gen. F. R. SALTERTHWAITE,

Gen. DAVID A. BAXTER,

Election on Tuesday, November 2d.

Republican Whig Electoral Tickets.

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE,

HENRY W. MILLER, of Wake,

1st District, GEO. W. BAXTER,

2d, do. NATHANIEL BOYDEN,

3d, do. RALPH GORRELL,

4th, do. JNO. W. CAMERON,

5th, do. HENRY K. NASH,

6th, do. M. W. RANSOM,

7th, do. JNO. WINSLOW,

8th, do. F. R. SALTERTHWAITE,

9th, do. DAVID A. BAXTER,

The Contrast.

Gen. SCOTT. — Gen. PIERCE.

For the reason why BENNETT OF THE N.Y. HERALD GOES AGAINST GEN. SCOTT.

We find the following in the Memphis Enquirer:

Two or three summers ago, General Scott was spending a short interval of leisure at that delightful resort, Newport, Rhode Island. While sojourning there, one evening at the breakfast-table, he asked one of the servants for a newspaper. A lady sitting opposite, a perfect stranger to him, reached across the table with a newspaper in her hand, saying—

"Gen. Scott, allow me to furnish you with the N.Y. Herald."

"I thank you, Madam, very cordially," returned the General, "for your kindness—but I never read the Herald."

"Do you know, sir?" retorted the lady, with the utmost indignation painted on her countenance—"do you know, sir, that I am the wife of Mr. Bennett, the editor of the Herald?"

"Gen. Scott, allow me to furnish you with the N.Y. Herald."

"I thank you, Madam, very cordially," returned the General, "for your kindness—but I never read the Herald."

"Do you know, sir?" retorted the lady, with the utmost indignation painted on her countenance—"do you know, sir, that I am the wife of Mr. Bennett, the editor of the Herald?"

"Gen. Scott, allow me to furnish you with the N.Y. Herald."

Remember the Mass Meeting at Union's Folly? It takes place on the 15th inst.

The Legislature.

The Legislature of this State convened in extra session in Raleigh, on the 11th inst.

It is highly probable that they will come in session until all business is acted upon.

We look upon this as the most important session that has met in twenty years.

The Senatorial Districts have to be re-arranged by the present Legislature.

They show a great desire to give their proceedings publicly, by ordering them to be published in the Democratic papers of this State, with a request that they be copied into the other Democratic papers throughout the State. These latter, we suppose, are circulated among "the rest of mankind." Well, we are glad that people has been found, and the friends of Gen. Pierce show their shrewdness in making the search for him well more votes to elect him than he will get upon his own to the Whigs. We can find out a Post-office among them and will send them a few of the lives of Gen. Scott.

Charlotte and S.C. Rail Road

Our road is not quite completed, the work being materially retarded by the scarcity of labor and outrages—shame about Scott's affiliation with the North and his alliance with Seward; and it was the Herald, that, with a mendacity unparalleled in modern times, first charged Gen. Scott with being the author of an anonymous Northern American letter signed American, which appeared in a Washington paper several years ago. Its capacity for falsehood and calumny upon the great and good, is only equalled by the crazy imagination of its reckless editor.

LUND'S LANE.

A gentleman who was present, thus refers to a memorable incident in the memorable battle of Lund's Lane. Thus speak nearly all his soldiers:

"A 1249 well equipped and disciplined British veterans were about taking a position, and placing a formidable battery on the hill at the head of Lund's Lane, near the falls of Ningar, on the afternoon of the 5th July, 1812, when the gallant Winfield Scott advanced with a force of about 500 to attack them; his eagle eye discerning that if suffered to establish his position, the enemy could almost annihilate us; he led his men to the charge, and of the unequal combat received two severe wounds, but although profusely bleeding and bleeding (not fainting) on his horse, remained on the field until he saw the gallant Miller approach with his 21st to his aid."

This indomitable spirit made General Scott save our army, and finally gave us victory, and when placed at the head of our Government he will save our country and give us the victory, over all enemies, both foreign and domestic.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

History records that Gen. Pierce is not the only Hero who has fallen in battle.

The same disease has taken General Scott.

At the storming of Fort George, the commanding battalions came down upon him and prostrated him. But as General Scott was stoutly and daringly courageous, when struck he did not fall like a rickless savage, but like a wounded lion more terrible than ever.

Rally Whigs! Rally!

One month more will roll upon the pages of American history the election of Winfield Scott or Franklin Pierce, as President of the greatest Republic known to ancient or modern times. And the election is to determine all the destinies of this great republic for generations yet unborn.

The principles of Winfield Scott are those of your Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pride to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—

They are broad, republican, sincere and conservative, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your prosperity those great blessings of liberty, which your great fathers have had the pleasure to cast upon you; and you have had the pleasure to enjoy. On the other hand the principles of Franklin Pierce, as exemplified in the Bullitt's Statesman, the Bullitt's Statesman, are nihilistic, disintegrating and destructive, yet sufficiently progressive to insure to your welfare the same results as those of the Whig fathers of the Revolution—