

Sunday Reading.

From the New England Farmer. "Great are thy tender Mercies."

One of the most beautiful of human relations is that existing between the beloved physician and the families to whom he is called to minister.

Agricultural.

SEED WHEAT AND ITS PREPARATION.

This is an important subject, and deserves the most careful attention of every farmer. The choice of wheat for seed, has long been considered of great moment in promoting the farmer's prosperity.

No one doubts the benevolence of the good physician because he sometimes employs sharp remedies, and from this every-day example of life the soul may draw a lesson of deep wisdom.

In the year which is waning amid multiplied blessings, the thirsty earth, by all its myriad voices, called on God for the latter rain which in his wisdom he withheld.

The principal consideration with every farmer should be fully to ascertain the adaptation of his farm to grow the two fundamental varieties of wheat—red or white—

By the varied discipline of life, appointed by Him whose all that constitutes virtue—all that gives stability and profundity to the character.

THE WELL SPRING OF LIFE. "The water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

A well, for that is not well, stagnates, and the water loses its vitality. But the more it is used the better it grows.

There are innumerable specifics put forth for dressing seed wheat, many of which are doubt, are good and proper; and where any one of them has been adapted and practiced with decided success, it would be prudent to discontinue its use.

It is left for a few minutes to imbibe the water, and then freely and profusely doused over with quicklime—such dusting continued as it is repeatedly turned over.

I presume it is quite superfluous to intimate that all seed corn should be free from weeds; a good and cleanly farmer would most thoroughly repudiate the idea of sowing seeds of weeds.

For the largest quantity of SEVEN SILK, the produce of any one plantation, not less than ten pounds of seed.

Ho! for South Troy and Eagle Mills. A MISK OF WEALTH—A little more help and its riches shall be developed to the astonishment of the world.

THE proprietors of Eagle Mills and South Troy, (the most important and valuable in the South), and comprising water powers of immense value, not being dissatisfied by a degree of public neglect, are pushing forward their motto: "ONWARD!"

It is not to be expected that the proprietors of Eagle Mills and South Troy, who have been hitherto neglected, will be able to do more than to do what they can for the benefit of the community.
