REMARKS.

There appears to be very little produce coming in, notwithstanding every article, except Cotton, is bringing a very fair price. Cotton also has an upward tendency.

COLUMBIA MARKET.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 13, 1855.

COTTON.—There was so little done in cotton yesterday, that it was impossible to ascertain the effect of the Atlantic's advices on the market.—Still the little that was sold, showed that the market occupied the same position in which we left it on Saturday last.

CHARLESTON MARKET.

CHARLESTON, Feb. 9, 1855.

COTTON.—There was a good demand for this article to-day, the sales having reached fully 2000 bales, at former prices. The price ranged from 6 to 9¼ cents.

Combined Attraction.

Agricultural Notice.

HAVING been honored in my absence from the last meeting of the Mecklenburg Agricultural society to the station of the Presidency of said society, I therefore appoint the 4th Thursday (the 22d) in this month for the meeting of the members of this society in Charlotte at 11 o'clock. It is hoped and requested they will still further Honor me by a full and punctual attendance to meet in the Court house at the ringing of the bell. Shall it be said of the patriotic citizens of the renowned old Mecklenburg any longer that they have attempted to get up an agricultural society several times and they have always made a failure—How not. Let each member leave home with the intention of attending the meeting and going into it without delay at the signal. Members living in town it is hoped will give their punctual attendance also. If they will do so and attend to it the benefit arising from it would be incalculable to the agricultural interests of the country. Should the society succeed and prosper, as I hope it will, your humble servant will be much gratified at being your President and will do all in his power to promote its interest and prosperity. Other citizens are cordially invited to come forward and enroll their names and become members.

A Fortune Easily Made!!!

NO CAPITAL NECESSARY!

THE Subscriber is in possession of facts relating to a very profitable and honorable employment—known to no one in the Union, except those who have honestly contributed the information—which reduces to those now engaged in it, from fifty to one hundred dollars per month, clear of all expense. As so many apply to me through mere curiosity, I have resolved to impart the important discovery to no one unless his letter be accompanied by one dollar as an evidence of sincerity; on the receipt of which, full information will be given on how a fortune may be acquired in a short time.
