

FROM KANSAS TERRITORY. The St. Louis Intelligencer states that Governor Reeder of Kansas, arrived in St. Louis on the 20th inst. He is in his residence in Pennsylvania, in order to make arrangements for removing with his family to Kansas, and contemplating being absent about two months. The executive head of the Territory in the mean time is Mr. Woodson, the Secretary. Gov. Reeder, before his departure, issued a proclamation for an election, to be held in six or eight districts on the 23d of May, to fill vacancies in the Legislative Council. He also issued his proclamation to convene the Legislature on the first Monday in July. Since Governor Reeder left the territory a movement is announced by Telegraph to remove him from office. The "squatter sovereignty" at Leavenworth, it appears, have declared him incompetent and ordered an election for a new Governor, whose name is afterwards to be submitted to the President for a commission. Time will disclose whether this invasion of constitutional prerogatives of the President will receive any favor from the Federal authorities. They will suppose, no doubt, that it is carrying the principle of "squatter sovereignty" rather too far to yield the appointment of all the officers of the new Territory to the "outsiders" who have so kindly undertaken the management of the affairs of the actual settlers. The latter it can scarcely be expected, will desire soon to witness another election such as the last one, when their Territory was invaded by residents of Missouri in such large numbers as to swell the poll in six districts to upward of four thousand votes, where, according to the census, there were only eight hundred voters. That Governor Reeder has become very unpopular with the pro-slavery party is evident from recent articles in the organ of that party, called the "Squatter Sovereign." A late number of that paper has the following: "If the feeling against the Governor is not soon lulled the storm will raise to such a pitch that a vacancy in the gubernatorial chair of Kansas will be the result."

DISEASES OF THE LIVER. When the celebrated Dr. Rush declared that drunkenness was a disease, he enunciated a truth which the experience and observation of medical men in every day confirming. The many apparently insidious excesses of those who indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, may be thus ascribed to the true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the liver. No organ in the human system, when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of disease, as is too often the case, physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the liver. Three-fourths of the diseases enumerated under the head of Consumption, have their seat in a diseased liver. (See Dr. Gunn's great works.)

Notice.
There is such a feeling rising in the Territory against the Governor that only another revolution is in every month; and if the President still persists in forcing Reeder upon us, God only knows what the consequences will be. We hope, we pray, that we will be spared the necessity of such desperate measures; but if we are left the alternative of living under a despotic Government, or of choosing a more honorable mode of freeing ourselves, we are plain to admit that we shall choose the latter course. In the language of Patrick Henry, "Give us liberty, or give us death!"
