

What and weevil.—A correspondent of the South Side (V.) Democrat says, that wheat may be threshed out, cleaned, put away in the barn, and given a pretty thick covering of pine leaves, (more and more commonly known as pine tags,) and it will remain in that state for years, entirely exempt from that great enemy, weevil. Of course, the wheat should be bulked in a dry state, and after covering with the pine tags, it will be kept cool and free from danger.

Now, girls, said Mrs. Partington, the other day, to her niece, you must get husbands as soon as possible or they'll be murdered. Why, my dear, why, I see by the papers that we've got almost fifteen thousand post offices, and nearly all on 'em dispossessed a mail every day.—The Lord have mercy on us poor widows, and the old lady stepped quickly to the looking-glass to put on her new cap.

New Colors.—A lady entered one of our fashionable hat and cap stores, a few days since, and asked to be shown some of the latest styles of caps. After examining awhile, a number, and not liking the colors, she very innocently inquired if they had any of a "subdued mode color." The clerk was somewhat taken a back, but managed to stammer out, "No, but we have some of an 'enraged rat color.' The lady left quickly.

Yellow Fever at Gosport.—We very much regretted to hear, on Saturday afternoon last, that the yellow fever was on the increase at Gosport. It is reported that twelve new cases and five deaths had occurred, during the twenty-four hours ending Friday night. We sincerely hope the precaution and care of our Portsmouth and Norfolk friends, will prevent the disease reaching those places.

Purchase of Mount Vernon.—A letter from New York, dated July 27th, says: A meeting of ladies was held at the Columbia House this evening, to make arrangements to secure a general subscription from visitors to the spot taken to hand by the ladies of Virginia for the purchase of Mount Vernon, the honored seat of Washington. The Governor of Pennsylvania was present, and addressed the meeting, and several other gentlemen also participated. Committees were appointed to carry out the object of the meeting.

What Do the Physicians Say?—Let us listen to the testimony of an eminent physician in favor of Dr. M.'s Vermifuge, which has been universally acknowledged to be the best in our armory of the medical faculty (who are so often opposed to the use of patent medicine) cannot withhold their approval of this invaluable remedy.

House Painting.—ALEX. MAHIN takes this method of informing the people of Charlotte that he will take up the business of HOUSE PAINTING. He can be found at Wm. B. Parks', at Parks' Store, where those who want any thing done in painting can call and see him.—Tues. res. '85.

Horses for Sale!—FOUR sale a splendid team, gray horses, double and single, warranted sound, and only 8 years old. Also, a very fine saddle horse. They are sold only because the owner has no more use for them. For sale by the owner, or by J. H. WATSON, at the North Carolina Hotel, at the corner of Third and Exchange streets, in the United States and Canada.

Fair Notice.—ALICE Wilson and Bonds payable to Joseph H. Wilson and Wm. Johnston, as Executors of the estate of Wm. Carson, dec'd., are now in possession. All those who are in arrears for more than 12 months' interest, and who do not wish to pay for them, had better come forward and pay up this season, or as much of the principal as possible, at my liability at this time, or heavy, and must do so with effect.

Charlotte Hotel.—THIS Hotel situated in the center of the town of Charlotte, is the most desirable place for the accommodation of all the pleasure seekers who still keep open for public accommodation. The proprietor has been engaged in keeping a public house at this stand for many years. He now offers to the use of the public a new edition of his former house, greatly enlarged and improved, presenting in front a two-story VERANDA 100 feet in length by 12 feet in width, handsomely shaded by trees in the side walks, affording a pleasant promenade at all hours of the day.

Land for Sale.—THE subscriber offers for sale the PLANTATION of the late JOHN TAYLOR, Esq., situated on Little South creek, 8 miles South of Charlotte, in the Providence region, and 1 mile East of the S. C. & N. C. Rail Road. This tract contains about 350 acres, of which about 200 acres are in cultivation. The largest field of the cultivated land is fresh, having been cleared in the last few years. On the place, there is a very comfortable Dwelling House and all necessary out-buildings, including a barn for the cattle and horses, and a stable, and also a Spring and Well of excellent water. The above land is situated in a healthy neighborhood—surrounded by an industrious, intelligent and moral community. The subscriber will receive in showing the Land to any person desirous of purchasing.

STATE OF NORTH-CAROLINA, MECKLENBURG COUNTY, Superior Court of Law, Spring Term, 1855.

George W. Williams & Co., Wholesale Grocers, No. 1 Hayne Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Sanders & Wilson, Cabinet Ware-Rooms in Charlotte. Our God without Coffins made to order ONE DOLLAR PER FOOT in length.

North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind. THE first session of this Institution will commence on the first Monday in September. It is very important that pupils should be punctual in their attendance at the beginning of the session.

CHARLOTTE, AUGUST 14, 1855.
Bacon, Hams,	lb.	17 a 19
" Sides,	lb.	9 a 10
" Hoground,	lb.	24 a 25
" Shinners,	lb.	14 a 15
Bagging, Cutters,	yd.	16 a 20
Beef,	lb.	6 a 8
Butter,	lb.	15 a 20
Breast,	lb.	20 a 25
Corn,	bu.	90 a 10
Beans, Peas,	gal.	75 a 85
" Peas,	gal.	81 a 11
Cotton,	lb.	7 a 9
Calves,	lb.	12 a 14
Corn, Adm. in the,	bu.	18 a 25
" Yellow,	bu.	18 a 25
Corn,	bu.	60 a 65
Chickens,	each	12 a 15
" Hens,	each	12 a 15
" Turkeys,	each	25 a 30
Eggs,	dozen	12 a 16
Flour,	100 lbs.	83 a 93
" Do.,	50 lbs.	43 a 46
" Do.,	25 lbs.	22 a 24
Feathers,	do.	10 a 11
Lard,	lb.	10 a 11
Mutton,	lb.	5 a 6
Mackerel,	bu.	410 a 16
Molasses,	gal.	40 a 50
Meat,	lb.	60 a 60
Mulleets (Wilmington),	do.	60 a 60
Nails,	lb.	5 a 6
Pork,	bu.	30 a 30
" Do.,	25 a 25
" Do.,	25 a 25
Peas,	bu.	75 a 80
Potatoes, Irish,	bu.	60 a 60
" Sweet,	bu.	90 a 90
Rice,	bu.	45 a 50
Sugar, Leaf,	lb.	19 a 11
" Brown,	lb.	5 a 9
Stone Ware,	gal.	10 a 10
Salt,	rock	25 a 24
" Do.,	25 a 24
Wheat,	bu.	85 a 100
Whiskey, Northern,	gal.	50 a 55
" N. Carolina,	gal.	50 a 55
Wool (best Georgia) washed,	lb.	25 a 25
" Unwashed,	lb.	25 a 25
Yarn,	do.	80 a 85

REMARKS.—COTTON—Sale of a few bales from 7 to 9. BACON—Sawed 24 to 10 lb round. FLOUR—coming in freely 24 to 34. CORN—40 to 45—most coming in thought is in demand.

COLUMBIA MARKET.—COLUMBIA, Aug. 11, 1855. COTTON.—The sales for the week in Liverpool, 3,500 bales, including 4,000 bales to speculators, and 2,500 to exporters. These accounts, as may be expected, had no effect on the market, there being nothing on sale, and consequently nothing to be effected by them. We therefore quote nominal 84 to 100 cts.

CHARLESTON MARKET.—CHARLESTON, Aug. 11, 1855. COTTON.—This article had attracted very little attention. Receipts of the week 1,150 bales, at prices ranging from 84 to 111 cents.

Charlotte & S. C. Rail Road Company. SHIPPERS of Produce or other Freight will forward their receipts to the consignee. All Freight will be received in the Depot until the receipt is presented, and Storage will be charged after 48 hours, from the time of receipt.

House Painting.—ALEX. MAHIN takes this method of informing the people of Charlotte that he will take up the business of HOUSE PAINTING. He can be found at Wm. B. Parks', at Parks' Store, where those who want any thing done in painting can call and see him.—Tues. res. '85.

Horses for Sale!—FOUR sale a splendid team, gray horses, double and single, warranted sound, and only 8 years old. Also, a very fine saddle horse. They are sold only because the owner has no more use for them. For sale by the owner, or by J. H. WATSON, at the North Carolina Hotel, at the corner of Third and Exchange streets, in the United States and Canada.

C. JOHNSON, FORWARDING AND COMMISSION MERCHANT, SOUTH ATLANTIC WHARF, CHARLESTON, S. C.

Notice Equity Sale By order of Court. I WILL sell, at the Court House in Charlotte, on Saturday, the 18th day of August, at 10 o'clock, the following real estate, as per C. H. KERR, Esq., Solicitor at Law, and J. H. WATSON, Esq., Auctioneer, to-wit:

Land for Sale.—THE subscriber offers for sale the PLANTATION of the late JOHN TAYLOR, Esq., situated on Little South creek, 8 miles South of Charlotte, in the Providence region, and 1 mile East of the S. C. & N. C. Rail Road. This tract contains about 350 acres, of which about 200 acres are in cultivation. The largest field of the cultivated land is fresh, having been cleared in the last few years.

STATE OF NORTH-CAROLINA, MECKLENBURG COUNTY, Superior Court of Law, Spring Term, 1855.

George W. Williams & Co., Wholesale Grocers, No. 1 Hayne Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Sanders & Wilson, Cabinet Ware-Rooms in Charlotte. Our God without Coffins made to order ONE DOLLAR PER FOOT in length.

North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind. THE first session of this Institution will commence on the first Monday in September. It is very important that pupils should be punctual in their attendance at the beginning of the session.

Tax Notice.—I HAVE received the Tax Lists for the year 1854, and am now ready for inspection, and request information of any citizens by persons not making their returns according to law. And, also, to receive the TAXES due on said lists, for which purpose I will attend at the usual Master's Office, at my usual place, on the 20th day of August, next, at 10 o'clock, A. M. I earnestly request all indebted for Taxes, to meet me at the place above stated, provided they pay their respective taxes. My responsibility is great, and it will be relieved by a prompt payment of all the Taxes due.

GREAT ATTRACTION.

THE SUBSCRIBERS

FANCY & STAPLE DRY GOODS,

Clothing, Hardware, Groceries, HATS, BOOTS, SHOES, &c., &c.,

SUMMER DRY GOODS

READY-MADE CLOTHING

at and below New York Cost, with the intention of making Room for a very heavy Stock of FANCY & STAPLE DRY GOODS. We therefore invite every one wishing to take this spring at the Northern Markets, at the lowest Rates. We will offer

CALICOES at from 4 to 5, and very good at 6 and upwards,
GINGHAMS, at 12 and 13 cents and upwards,
FANCY MUSLINS, at 61 and 8 cents,
FINE PLAIN and FANCY SILKS at 50 and 75 cents,
and all other Goods at very low prices.

Our stock of White Goods is very large. Plain and Dotted Swiss, Mulls and Jaconets from 12 to 25 cents and upwards. Lina Cambric Handkerchiefs from 8 cents and upwards. Irish Linen from 25 cents and upwards. Our stock of Hosiery and Gloves, as well as Shirts and Neckties and every other article in that line, is very large, and they will be sold accordingly. We intend to offer for Gentlemen also, greatly reduced Prices in the Ready-made Clothing Line, and guarantee every one who purchases of us to save money. Our Stock is extensive and our prices are reduced before the Fall.

DRUCKER & SOMMERS, 247

Great Reduction in Prices of SUMMER GOODS.

At COST for the balance of the Season!

ELIAS & COHEN

LADIES DRESS GOODS.

Wishing to close out the balance of their SUMMER STOCK, which they have heretofore done at this late season of the year, offer their splendid Stock of

SILK & STRAW BONNETS, BLOOMERS, and a full assortment of

GENTLEMEN'S READY-MADE CLOTHING, HATS AND STRAW GOODS, which will positively be sold AT COST and no mistake.

We do not promise to sell the whole of our Stock AT COST, although we will sell everything at our USUAL LOW PRICES. What we promise we will perform.

ELIAS & COHEN, No. 2, Granite Row, Charlotte, July 17, 1855.

THE Trustees of this Institution request that the meeting of the Board, on Tuesday, the 14th of August, at 11 o'clock, A. M. It being the Annual Meeting of the Board and such important business will come up for their consideration a full meeting is desired.

JAS. H. HOUSTON, Secretary, July 10, 1855.

New Books.—A RARE and choice selection of BOOKS for sale at the Charlotte Book Store. Classics and Standard, the most eminent of Ancient and Modern times, containing abridges of their Lives, specimens of their eloquence and an estimate of their genius, by D. A. Sparks. The Life of Washington, by J. H. Stensie. The Life and Letters of Lord Byron, by Thos. Moore, Esq. Synopsis of English Literature, a history, Critical and Biographical, of British Authors from the earliest to the present times, by R. G. Chambers. Information for the People, by R. Chambers. Thirty years in the United States Senate, by T. H. Benton. The Modern British Essayist, by T. H. Moore. The Miscellaneous Works of the Rt. Hon. Sir James Mackintosh. Conquest of Mexico, by Prescott. Brough's Lectures on Modern History. Brough's History of the United States. LOWRIE & ENNIS, July 10, 1855.

Pay your Taxes!—THE Tax List for the Town of Charlotte is in my hands ready for inspection. All Tax payers are requested to pay their taxes at the earliest opportunity. I am compelled to close the Tax List by the 1st of August, by R. G. Gillette, Tax Collector, July 8, 1855.

Greensboro' Female College. THE Fall Session of this Institution will commence on the last Thursday (the 26th day) of July. It is very desirable that all pupils be present at the opening of the Session, as the classes are then formed and new studies commenced.

Disolution of Copartnerships.—THE respective firms of Spratt & Allison, Spratt, Daniels & Co., and Allison & Daniels, in the town of Charlotte, N. C. are this day dissolved by mutual consent.

George W. Williams & Co., Wholesale Grocers, No. 1 Hayne Street, Charlotte, N. C.

Sanders & Wilson, Cabinet Ware-Rooms in Charlotte. Our God without Coffins made to order ONE DOLLAR PER FOOT in length.

North Carolina Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind. THE first session of this Institution will commence on the first Monday in September. It is very important that pupils should be punctual in their attendance at the beginning of the session.

Tax Notice.—I HAVE received the Tax Lists for the year 1854, and am now ready for inspection, and request information of any citizens by persons not making their returns according to law. And, also, to receive the TAXES due on said lists, for which purpose I will attend at the usual Master's Office, at my usual place, on the 20th day of August, next, at 10 o'clock, A. M. I earnestly request all indebted for Taxes, to meet me at the place above stated, provided they pay their respective taxes. My responsibility is great, and it will be relieved by a prompt payment of all the Taxes due.

Notice.—HAVING bought out the entire interest of Wm. E. Egan in the firm of DAVIDSON & SORNS, I will continue the business at the old stand, and am distinguished to offer great inducements to all who will favor me with a call, and especially to those who buy for CASH. The Notes and Accounts of the late firm are in my hands, and will be settled by me as soon as possible.

HENRY M. DRANE, Agent, March 29, 1855.

Wheat—200 bushels.

PERSONS wanting the early White WHEAT raised by me, can be supplied by leaving their orders with Brem & Steele, where a sample can be seen. I refer to Leroy Springs, Wm. R. Myers, and J. H. White for quantities purchased.

B. W. ALEXANDER, July 31, 1855.

SELECT English and Classical School.

THIS is the first time in my scholastic history that I have addressed a communication to my friends and patrons. The following circumstances have rendered such a measure to me, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the school, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any such remark. The report made to me, by my father, and would receive my hearty concurrence. Of the origin of the report, I am as yet, entirely ignorant; I am convinced, however, that the object of the circular, or circulars, thereof, was to do me a serious injury. I have no objection to the integrity of Professor Johnston and Mr. Harry, to suppose, for a moment, that either of them would injure, or give occasion to any