Sunday Reading.

TURN RIGHT AT THE TURNING POINT.

It was at the beginning of the holidays when Mr. Davis, a friend of my father, came to see us, and he asked my parents to let me go with him. They consented, and I was much pleased with the thought of going out of town. The journey was delightful; and when we reached Mr. Davis's house, everything looked as if I was going to have a fine time. Fred Davis, a boy about my own age, took me cordially by the hand, and all the family soon seemed like old friends. "This is going to be a holiday worth having," I said to myself several times during the evening, as we all played games, told riddles, and laughed and chatted as merrily as could be.

At last, Mrs. Davis said it was bed-time. Then I expected family-prayers, but we were very soon directed to our rooms. How strange it seemed to me! for I had never before been in a household without the family-altar. "Come," said Fred, "mother says you and I are going to be bed-fellows;" and I followed him up two pair of stairs to a nice little chamber, which he called his room; and he opened a drawer and showed me a box, and a boat, and knives, and powder-horn, and all his treasures, and told me a world of new things about what the boys did there. He undressed first, and jumped into bed. I was much longer about it, for a new set of thoughts began to rise in my mind.

When my mother put my portmanteau into my hand just before the coach started, she said tenderly, and in a low tone, "Remember, Robert, that you are a Christian boy." I know very well what that meant, and I now had just come to a point of time when her words were to be minded. At home, I was taught the duties of a Christian child; abroad, I must not neglect them; and one of these was evening prayer. From a very little boy I had been in the habit of kneeling down and asking forgiveness of God, for Jesus' sake, acknowledging his mercies, and seeking for his protection and blessing.

"Why don't you come to bed, Robert?" cried Fred. "What are you sitting there for? can't you undress?" Yes, yes, I could undress; but, ah! boys, I was afraid to pray and afraid not to pray. It seemed to me that I could not kneel down and pray before Fred. What would he say! Would he not laugh! The fear of Fred made me a coward. Yet I could not lie down on a prayerless bed. If I needed the protection of my heavenly Father at home, how much more abroad! I wished a thousand wishes: that I had slept alone, that Fred would go to sleep, or something else, I hardly knew what. But Fred would not go to sleep.

Perhaps struggles like these take place in the bosom of every one when he leaves home and begins to act for himself; and on his decision may depend his character for time and eternity. With me the struggle was severe. At last to Fred's cry "Come, boy, come to bed," I mustered courage to say, "I will kneel down and pray first; that is always my habit." "Pray," said Fred, turning himself over on his pillow, and saying no more. His propriety of conduct made me ashamed. Here had I so long been afraid of him, and yet when he knew my wishes, he was quiet and left me to myself.—How thankful I was that duty and conscience triumphed!

That settled my future course. It gave me strength for time to come. I believe that the decision of the "Christian boy," by God's blessing made the Christian man; for in after years I was thrown amid trials and temptations which must have drawn me away from God and from virtue, had it not been for my settled habit of secret prayer.

Let every boy who has pious parents read and think about this. You have been trained in Christian duties and principles. When you go from home, do not leave them behind you. Carry them with you, and stand by them, and then in weakness and temptation, by God's help, they will stand by you. Take a manly stand on the side of your God and Saviour, of your mother's God and Saviour, of your father's God. It is by abandoning their Christian birthright that so many boys go astray, and grow up to be young men, dishonouring their parents, without hope and without God in the world.

THE PRAYING PREACHER.

The godly Welsh preacher, Mr. Williams of Wern, said, "The old ministers were not much better preachers than we are, and in many respects they were inferior; but there was an unction about their ministry, and success attendant upon it, now but seldom seen. And what is the cause of the difference? They prayed more than we do. If we would prevail and 'have power with men,' we must first prevail and 'have power with God.' It was on his knees that Jacob became a prince; and if we would become princes, we must be oftener and more importunate upon our knees."

He loved to tell an anecdote of Rev. Mr. Griffith of Caernarvon, who was to preach one night in a farm-house, and some time before the service began, wished to retire to a private room. He remained there some time after the congregation assembled. As there was no sign of the preacher making his appearance, the good man of the house sent the servant to request him to come, as the people had been some time waiting.—On approaching the door, she heard what she supposed to be a conversation carried on between two persons in rather a subdued tone of voice. She stood listening at the door, and heard one say to the other, 'I will not go, unless thou come with me.' The girl returned to her master, and said, 'There is some one with Mr. Griffith, and he tells him that he will not come unless the other accompany him. I did not hear the other make a reply, so I concluded he will not come from there to-night.' 'Yes, yes, he will,' said the good man; 'and the Other will come with him, if matters are as you represent them. We shall begin the service by singing and reading till the two come.' At length Mr. Griffith came, and the 'Other' with him, and they had an extraordinary meeting that night. It proved the commencement of a powerful revival in the neighborhood, and many were converted to God. 'Nothing, brethren,' Mr. Williams would say, 'is necessary to render our ministry as efficient and successful as that of our fathers, but that we should be brought to the same spirit and mind."

STRONG BELIEVERS.

Luther was a tower of strength, because his whole trust was in the Lord. Baxter was a burning flame, because he lived hard by the mercy-seat, where on the glory dwelt between the cherubim. Whitfield was "the voice of one crying in the wilderness," because, like John his cry was, "Behold the Lamb of God!" Chalmers foamed like a cataract because the deep rapids came rushing down upon him from the everlasting mountains. Hall's words were molten in the furnace where his faith was tried with fire. These were great preachers, because they were strong believers, because they loved the truth, kept their hearts with all diligence, and walked in the light of heaven. There is no age in which such preachers would not have power.—Electic Review.

New Platform of the American Party.

1. An humble acknowledgment to the Supreme Being who rules the universe for his protecting care vouchsafed to our fathers in their successful revolutionary struggle, and hitherto manifested to us, their descendants, in the preservation of the liberties, the independence, and the union of these States.

2. The perpetuation of the federal Union and Constitution as the palladium of our civil and religious liberties, and the only sure bulwark of American Independence.

3. Americans must rule America, and to this end native-born citizens should be selected for all State, federal and municipal offices or government employment, in preference to all others; nevertheless,

4. Persons born of American parents residing temporarily abroad should be entitled to all the rights of native-born citizens; but

5. No person should be selected for political station, (whether of native or foreign birth,) who recognizes any allegiance or obligation of any description to any foreign prince, potentate or power, or who refuse to recognize the federal and State constitutions (each within its sphere) as paramount to all other laws, as rules of political action.

6. The unqualified recognition and maintenance of the reserved rights of the several States, and the cultivation of harmony and fraternal good will between the citizens of the several States, and to this end, non-interference by Congress with questions appertaining solely to the individual States, and non-intervention by each State with the affairs of any other State.

7. The recognition of the right of the native-born and naturalized citizens of the United States, permanently residing in any Territory thereof, to frame their constitution and laws, and to regulate their domestic and social affairs in their own mode, subject only to the provisions of the federal constitution, with the privilege of admission into the Union whenever they have the requisite population for one representative in Congress. Provided always, that none but those who are citizens of the United States, under the constitution and laws thereof, and who have a fixed residence in any such Territory, ought to participate in the formation of the constitution, or in the enactment of laws for said Territory or State.

8. An enforcement of the principle that no State or Territory ought to admit others than of the United States to the right of suffrage or of holding political office.

9. A change in the laws of naturalization, making a continued residence of twenty-one years, of all not hereinbefore provided for, an indispensible requisite for citizenship hereafter, and excluding all paupers and persons convicted of crime from landing upon our shores; but no interference with the vested rights of foreigners.

10. Opposition to any union between Church and State; no interference with religious faith or worship and no test oaths for office.

11. Free and thorough investigation into any and all alleged abuses of public functionaries and a strict economy in public expenditures.

12. The maintenance and enforcement of all laws, constitutionally enacted, until said laws shall be repealed, or shall be declared null and void by competent judicial authority.

13. Opposition to the reckless and unwise policy of the present administration in the general management of our national affairs, and more especially as shown in removing "Americans" (by designation and conservatives in principle) from office, and placing foreigners and ultraists in their places; as shown in a truckling subserviency to the stronger, and an insolent and cowardly bravado towards the weaker powers, as shown in re-opening sectional agitation by the repeal of the Missouri Compromise; as shown in granting to unnaturalized foreigners the right to suffrage in Kansas and Nebraska; as shown in its vacillating course on the Kansas and Nebraska question; as shown in the corruptions which pervade some of the departments of the government; as shown in disgracing meritorious naval officers, through prejudice or caprice; and as shown in the blundering mismanagement of our foreign relations.

14. Therefore, to remedy existing evils, and prevent the disastrous consequences otherwise resulting therefrom, we would build up the "American party" upon the principles herein before stated.

15. That each State Council shall have authority to annul their several constitutions so as to abolish the several degrees, and substitute a pledge of honor instead of other obligation, for fellowship and admission into the party.

16. A free and open discussion of all political principles embraced in our platform

AYER'S PILLS.

A new and singularly successful remedy for the cure of all Bilious diseases—Costiveness, Indigestion, Jaundice, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Fevers, Gout, Humors, Nervousness, Irritability, Inflammations, Headache, Pains in the Breast, Side, Back, and Limbs, Female Complaints, &c. &c. Indeed, very few are the diseases in which a Purgative Medicine is not more or less required, and many sickness and suffering might be prevented, if a harmless but effectual Cathartic were more freely used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails; besides, it soon generates serious and dangerous disease, which might have been averted by the timely and judicious use of a good purgative. This is alike true of Colds, Feverish symptoms, and Bilious derangements. They all tend to become or produce the deep seated and formidable distempers which load the bearses all over the land. Hence a reliable family physic is of the first importance to the public health, and this Pill has been perfected with consummate skill to meet that demand. An extensive trial of its virtues by Physicians, Professors, and Patients, has shown results surpassing any thing hitherto known of any medicine. Cures have been effected beyond belief, even by such apparently stubborn diseases as Dropsy, Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Ulcers, Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Headache, Piles, Blindness, Neuralgia, Worms, Heart Disease, Dropsy, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, when originating in Biliousness, and Female Complaints. Indeed, they have performed such wonders in the cure of every variety of disease that they have excited the astonishment of even those who have witnessed their effects upon trial.

These Pills, the result of long investigation and study, are offered to the public as the best and most complete which the present state of medical science can afford. They are compounded not of the crude tinctures, but of the medicinal virtues only of Vegetable remedies, extracted by chemical process in a state of purity, and combined together in such a manner as to insure the best results. This system of compounding medicines has been found in the Cherry Pectoral and Pills both, to produce a more efficient remedy than had hitherto been obtained by any process. The reason is perfectly obvious. While the old mode of composition, every medicine is burdened with more or less of acrimonious and injurious qualities, by the each individual virtue only that is desired for the curative effect is present. All the inert and noxious qualities of each substance employed are left behind, the curative virtues only being retained. Hence it is self-evident the effects should prove, as they have proved, more purely remedial, and the Pills a surer, more powerful antidote to disease than any other medicine known to the world.

As it is frequently expedient that my medicine should be taken under the counsel of an attending Physician, and as he could not properly judge of a remedy without knowing its composition, I have supplied the accurate Formula by which both my Pectoral and Pills are made to the whole body of Practitioners in the United States and British American Provinces. If, however, there should be any one who has not received them, they will be promptly furnished by mail to his request.

Of the Patent Medicines that are offered, how few would be taken if their composition was known! Their life consists in their mystery. I have no mysteries.

The composition of my preparations is laid open to all men, and all who are competent to judge on the subject freely acknowledge their correctness of their intrinsic merits. The Cherry Pectoral was pronounced by scientific men to be a wonderful medicine before its effects were known. Multi-experiment Pill previous have declared the same thing of my Pills, and every more confidently, and are willing to certify that their anticipations were more than realized in their effects upon trial.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first cause of disease.

Being sugar-wrapped, they are pleasant to take, and being purely vegetable, no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

For minute directions, see wrapper on the Box.
