Sunday Reading.

THE GREAT WARFARE.

Christianity is well termed a warfare; for a warfare it is, wherein no danger can be prevented, no enemy conquered, no victory obtained, without much courage and resolution. I have not only many outward enemies to grapple with, but I have myself, my worst enemy, to encounter and subdue. As for those enemies which are not near me, by the assistance of God's Spirit, I can make pretty good shift to keep them at the sword's point; but this enemy, that is gotten within me, has so often foiled and disarmed me, that I have reason to say, as David did of his enemies, "It is too strong for me;" and, as he said of the chief of his kingdom, "shall one day fall by the hands of Saul; so I have too much occasion to say, I shall fall by myself, as being myself the greatest enemy to my own spiritual interests and concerns. How necessary is it then, that I should raise and muster up all my forces and courage, put on my spiritual armor, and make myself strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might! I know I must strive, before I can enter in at the strait gate; I must win the crown, before I can wear it; and be a member of the church-militant, before I can be admitted into the church triumphant. In a word, I must go through a military wilderness and conquer many enemies, before I come to the land of Canaan, or else I must never be possessed of it. What, then, shall I lose my glory to baulk my duty? Shall I let go my glorious and eternal possession, to save myself from a seeming hard-ship, which the devil would persuade me to be a trouble and affliction? Alas! if Christ had laid aside the great work of my redemption, to avoid the undergoing of God's anger and man's malice, what a miserable condition had I been in! And, therefore, whatever rumors and reproaches I meet with from the presumptuous and profane, the infidel and atheistical representatives of the age,—let them laugh at my profession, or mock at what they are pleased to call proselytism; let them defraud me of my just rights, or traduce and blemish me of my good name and reputation; let them rent the arrows of their poisonous malice and envy upon me,—I have this comfortable reflection still to support me that, as I suffer all this for Christ's sake, so in the cause of him who suffered a thousand times more for mine, and therefore, it ought to be a matter of joy and triumph, rather than of grief and dejection, to me especially who, considering that those my light afflictions, which are but for a moment, will work out for me a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory."—Dent.

GRATITUDE.

Sanctified gratitude is heaven begun—The city of the living God abounds with worshipers. It resounds with hallelujahs. The voice of angels is praise. The language of the saints is adoration. The anthems of the church below are her response to the symphonies of the church above. Gratitude is the music of heaven's choir. The full swell of the benevolence of the Most High meets a most perfect concord in the everlasting gratitude of the redeemed.

Let gratitude then abound on the earth. Let it continually actuate every believer's breast. Let us set ourselves diligently to prayer. "Pray without ceasing," says the apostle; and immediately adds, "in everything give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you." 1 Th. 5: 17, 18.

Obey this command, O believer. Look around you for causes of thankfulness. Be eagle-eyed to discern your mercies rather than your miseries. Look not always at the dark spots in every picture, lest your mind be darkened like them. Fix your eyes also on the bright and beautiful, that your mind may reflect their image. Let the one teach you to pray. Let the other teach you to praise.

The tide of gratitude increases as it flows. It rises higher, and higher, both before and around us, and extends itself widely on every side. When we render thanksgiving to our God and Saviour for one mercy, the second presents itself to view; then a third; then a fourth; then others successively arise, and roll in upon our remembrance.—The goodness and the mercy of the Lord are like the mighty deep, unfathomable.—His acts of love are as the ocean waves, innumerable; and innumerable, therefore, should be our acts of thanksgiving.

"My soul, in glowing wonder lost,
Thy blessings thus surveys,
Where shall my grateful lay begin?
Or where conclude thy praise?"

LIVING DAY BY DAY.—When you lie down at night, compose your spirits as if you were not to wake till the heavens be no more. And when you awake in the morning, consider the new day as your last, and act accordingly. Surely that night cometh, of which you shall never see the morning, or that day of which you shall never see the night; but which of your mornings or nights you know not. Let the mantle of worldly enjoyment hang loose about you, that it may be easily dropped when death comes to carry you into another world. When the corn is forsaken, the ground is ready for the sickle—when the fruit is ripe, it falls off the tree easily. So when a Christian's heart is truly weaned from the world, he is prepared for death. A heart disengaged from the world is a heaven, when our heart is before us.

☞ Fear God and keep his Commandments—this is the whole duty of man.

Agricultural.

ORDER UPON THE FARM.

It has been very correctly said that order or method is the secret of success of many worldly men of the mercantile class. The above being true, the rule is equally applicable to the farming classes. What we mean by order, "a place for everything and everything in its place." By everything we mean all that a farmer uses in his business. A farmer should see that every rail and board about his premises is in its proper place; that his fences are in condition to prevent the entrance or exit of his own or other people's cattle without his consent. Every one who neglects this neglects his peace of mind as well as subjects himself to losses that must be repaired by means that could have been otherwise promptly employed.

I have known the cultivators of the soil to succeed well in maturing crops, but by neglecting to keep their fences in order, lose the most valuable part of their labors. But I am glad to state that such cases are not frequent in these times. In the next place, the farmer should not allow his cattle that are used in the farm work to be scattered indiscriminately over his fields, as much time is lost in getting them to their places, and as "time is money," it should be economized as much as possible. He should be careful to have his harness all in working trim, his working cattle near his harness house, then but a few minutes are required to prepare for his day's plowing and hauling. His implements, of every description, should be kept near his dwelling, that no time be lost in repairing those things that are out of order. Many persons will say that they cannot find time to do all these things. Stop dear reader, I know you can, because whenever you see a rail missing from your fence, go and put it back immediately, for then is the right time. In case the rail should be destroyed, appropriate the first idle one you come to. If you should have no idle ones, loose no time in procuring some, for if you do not, nine cases in ten you loose more by neglect than if you stop the plow long enough to make them. Whenever you are done using a plow, hoe, rake, hay fork, thresher reaper, or anything else, take it immediately to the barn—make this an invariable rule, and let all your men know it. The result will be that when anything is wanted, the person sent for it will know where to find it. I would have every farmer have some of the most necessary tools used in making and repairing his implements of husbandry for I know every one who is able to own a farm, is able to have such things. The rainy season, in which much could be done in the way of making and repairing, is always lost to most farmers, because they have not the implements of manufacture. During such time he might put all his farming utensils in excellent working order; whereas if it is neglected until fair werther, he has scarcely had it done before another rainy season overtakes him. Thus, all fair weather in which he might have plowed passes in repairing. To conclude: Farmers, preserve order in everything, and peace, prosperity and health will accompany you through life.

HOW TO INCREASE MANURE.

If you have not hitherto done so, permit us now to prevail on you to take this advice:

Have as many loads of rough materials hauled and spread over your cow yard as will make twelve inches in depth. In spreading, so fashion the materials as to be basin shaped, the lowest point being in the centre, to prevent the escape of the urine. While the rough materials are being placed in and spread on the yard, dust each layer so spread, with plaster, or with pulverized charcoal, and when completed, dust the surface with either of the substances named; then rolled the yard to consolidate its contents—the heavier the roller the better. Occasionally throughout the yarding season spread plaster over the yard, and from time to time add rough materials.—American Farmer.

SCRATCHES IN HORSES.

The approach of cold, wet weather suggests the publication of a few hints for this ailment, which, at this season, sometimes appears on the fetlock. It is caused, generally, by a want of proper care for the warmth and dryness of the feet, allowing horses to stand in their stalls after driving in cold, muddy weather with wet legs, and do nothing to clean them and prevent a chill. At such times their legs and feet should be well rubbed with dry hay, so as to get them warm, and as nearly dry as may be. If the disease has already appeared, wash the part affected with warm soap suds, and then with beef brine. This will effect a cure. Keeping them clean and dry by rubbing only, will generally produce the same result.

Horses with white legs and hoofs are said to be most frequently affected by scratches; but no colors are exempt entirely; nor are colts which winter in muddy sheds or yards, without proper care and protection. It is true, however, that some horses are more liable to the disease than others.—Wool Grower.

TO REMOVE WARTS.—Children are liable to those disfiguring excrescenses on the hands, if not immediately attended to.—They may be removed by dissolving washing soda in water to the consistency of cream, and applying it morning and night.

Dissolution.

THE firm of WILLIAMS, GILLESPIE & CO., was dissolved by mutual consent on the first day of July, 1857. The Notes and Accounts for 1856 must be paid forthwith. The Accounts for 1857 can run as usual and will be settled at the end of the year by L. S. Williams, who will continue to carry on the business at the old stand.

The late firm return their thanks to the public for the liberal patronage heretofore received, and their successor hopes, by manifesting a spirit of accommodation, to merit a continuation of the same.

PROSPECTUS
The N. Carolina Presbyterian.

The Presbyterian Church in North Carolina has long labored under a serious disadvantage from the want of a journal to advocate her claims and represent her interests. It is estimated that only 1000 Presbyterian Families are taken in the bounds of our three Presbyteries. We have 13,000 Communicants, and it is safe to infer that there are 30,000 Presbyterians in principle in the State. Our Synod stands fifth in the Union in point of numbers, and her membership is greater than that of any Synod South or West of Pennsylvania. Our sister States on the North and South, neither of which has a membership so large as ours, publish the Central, and the Southern Presbyterian, for the benefit of their people. The time has come when the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina should likewise do her duty to her children. It is a conceded and important fact, that hundreds of our members will take a State paper who will take no other. The Paper is needed to be the organ of our Synod and Presbyteries—to elevate and enlighten the piety of our membership by diffusing evangelical knowledge—to promote the cause of Education—to develope the talents of our Ministry, and to strengthen the attachment of our people to the soil and sanctuaries of their own State.

If our Church in other States, and other Churches in this State, can supply their members with a Religious journal why may not we? Are North Carolina Presbyterians inferior in talent, energy and patriotism to their neighbors on the North or South, or to Christians of other denominations at home? With the same or better opportunities of accomplishing this work, shall we leave it undone? In the language of one of our most able and useful Ministers, an adopted son of our State, "It ought to have been undertaken 20 years ago, but it is not too late to begin to do right."

In the last two or three months, a fund of about $5000 has been subscribed as a permanent capital. At a meeting of the contributors, held at Greensborough on the 14th of May,—Rev. A. Baker, Chairman,—the Paper was unanimously located at Fayetteville, under the name and title of the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN. Rev. Wm. S. Melvine and Rev. George McNeill were elected Editors; Rev. Messrs George McNeill, Wm. S. Melvine, A. Baker and C. H. Wiley, and Messrs. George McNeill, Sr., John H. Cook and David Murphy were appointed an Executive Committee, to establish the Paper and manage its business affairs.

It is our wish and design to make the NORTH CAROLINA PRESBYTERIAN a journal of the first class, equal to the best in the country in typographical appearance and in adaptation to the wants of our Churches. Its columns will afford the latest intelligence, both foreign and domestic, and special care will be taken to give a full and accurate summary of State news. The name of the Paper is designed to be an exponent of its character and contents. From conviction, it will advocate the conservative, orthodox, Old School doctrines and order of the Church.

Our first appeal is to our own people—to N. C. Presbyterians. Whilst we rely confidently upon their favor, we trust that the native sons of North Carolina who have found homes in other States, and the adopted citizens of our State who form so important an element in our Ministry and membership, will take a deep interest in this enterprise, and give it their hearty support.

TERMS: $2 per annum in advance, or on delivery of the first: $2 50 in six months; $3 at the end of the year. To clubs of 25 or more, paying in advance and when the Paper is sent to one address, a discount of 10 per cent. will be allowed. Our Ministers and Elders are earnestly desired to act as Agents, and all others friendly to the cause will please assist in procuring as many subscribers as possible, and forward the names, by August 1st, to this Office. As soon as 1500 subscribers are obtained, the first number will be issued. If a faithful and vigorous effort is made in the next two months by those who take a lively interest in this work, we will, without doubt, be able to begin the publication at the end of that time with a paying subscription list of at least 3000.

SANDFORD'S INVIGORATOR,
AS A LIVER MEDICINE.

THERE has long existed a demand for such a remedy that could be relied on as safe and effectual. This remedy has been prepared to meet that demand; and an extensive trial of its virtues has shown how universally it has accomplished the purpose designed. Among the complaints which have been specially cured by the use of the Invigorator, we mention Liver Complaint which is the cause of many other diseases—among which are, Biliousness, Headache, Pain in the Side and Loins, Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, Jaundice, Indigestion, Languor and Loss of Appetite, Listlessness and Irritability—all of which are caused by a diseased action of the Liver. The Invigorator in conjunction with particular reference to the Liver, and when that excuse is removed all the rest are cured, as the cause of them is taken away. A few doses of the Invigorator rarely ever fail to stimulate the Liver to a proper action, and by its continued use to remove the disease. It has been taken with great success in cases of Cholic, Dysentery, &c., and for these it has been found a very efficacious remedy. An occasional dose stimulates the stomach to a healthy action and restores the appetite and vigor. One dose will relieve the oppressive uneasiness experienced by eating a hearty dinner, as it excites the digestive organs to vigorous action. For a debilitated state of the system the Invigorator has no equal which experience proves, as it restores the system and removes the yellowness from the skin, which is the result of a diseased Liver.

Prepared and sold by Sandford & Co., 188 Front st. New York. Price $1 per bottle, containing 40 doses. Also sold by

THE GREATEST
MEDICAL DISCOVERY
OF THE AGE.

DR KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures

EVERY KIND OF HUMOR;

From the worst Scrofula down to a common pimple.

He has tried it in over 1100 cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both of cancer humor.) He has now in the possession over two hundred certificates of its virtue, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a raging sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of Pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of Blotches.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the Eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the worst scrofula.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Recently, I presided over a thousand bottles of this in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effect of it in every case. So sure as water will extinguish fire, so sure will this cure humor. I never sold a bottle of it but that said another; after a trial it always speaks for itself. There are two things about this herb that appears to be surprising; first, that it grows in our pastures, in some places quite prominent, and yet its value has never been known until I discovered it in 1846—second, that it should cure all kinds of humor.

In order to give some idea of the sudden rise and great popularity of the discovery, I will state that on April, 1853, I prepared it, and sold about six bottles per day—in April, 1854, I sold about one thousand bottles per day—in April, 1854, I sold over one thousand bottles per day of it.

Some of the wholesale Druggists who have been in business twenty and thirty years, say that nothing in the annals of patent medicines was ever like it. There is a universal praise of it from all quarters.

In my own practice I always kept it strictly for humors—but since its introduction as a general family medicine, great and wonderful virtues have been found in it that I never suspected.

Several cases of epileptic fits—one in a child whose case was considered incurable, have been cured by a few bottles. Or, what a mercy it is! it will prove effectual in all cases of that awful malady—there are but few who have seen more of it than I have.

I know of several cases of Dropsy, all of them aged people cured by it. For the various diseases of the Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Fever and Ague, Pain in the Side, Diseases of the Spine, and particularly in diseases of the Kidneys, &c., the discovery has done more good than any medicine ever known.

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults one table spoonful per day—Children over ten years doesn't spoonful. Children from five to eight years, teaspoonful—As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

CHESTER, S. C.
By J. R. NICHOLSON.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the travelling public that he has leased the large and commodious Hotel, in Chester, S. C., formerly known as the "Railroad Hotel," situated in the centre of the village, and that he is making every exertion to render it worthy the patronage of the travelling public; and that he is making every exertion to serve and please a continuance of the liberal patronage which has been bestowed on his predecessor, to him. He flatters himself that by strict attention to business, and a desire to please, he will merit a share of the public patronage. His tables will be furnished with the best the market can afford, and his bar with good liquors and cigars. His stables are large and commodious, and attended by careful and attentive hostlers. He will use every attention necessary to render the stay of those who may favor him with their custom pleasant and agreeable. His rooms are furnished with good beds, and he is prepared to accommodate families and boarders on reasonable terms. He will also keep on hand a good supply of provender, and be in prepared to execute orders to supply his customers with corn, oats, &c., at short notice. He will spare no expense or pains to render satisfaction to those who may favor him with their patronage, and solicits a liberal share of public patronage.
