The consequences of this miserable sgits too have been of the most unlancholy kind and there earned no conspicuous distinction. The attachment which formerly united the Morth and the South is fast disappearing, and extrangement, alienation, and ill will are taking its place. The two sections of the pulful doctrine of availability that the first part of the country are learning to look upon each political annals of this country have ever other as natural enemies. This state of shown His claims for the office of President returned in the state of the limited States rest upon the fact feeling renders it impossible for the National Legislature to legislate calmly judicious that, in a popular contest before the people by dispassionately, for the common good of the whole country. Congressional debates have degreerated into mutual windpressions need we do more than advert to the fact, and demunications, and are diagraced by the most off-naive personalities.
