A BASKET OF CHIPS.

MAKE HASTE.—"Now girls," said our friend Mrs. Bigelow to her daughters, the other day, "you must get husbands as soon as possible, or they'll all be murdered."—"Why so, ma?"—"Why I see by the papers that we've got a most proper thousand post-offices, and nearly all of 'em dispute as a matter each way every day—the Lord have mercy on us poor widows and orphans!" and the old lady stepped briskly to the looking glass to put on her new cap.

MISTAKING THE TIME.—A boss machine having taken a new apprentice, awoke him the first morning at a very early hour, by calling out that the family were sitting down to table. "Thank you," said the boy, as he turned over in bed to adjust himself for a new nap, "thank you; but I never eat anything during the night."

FALSE REASONING ILLUSTRATED.—"Sambo, what you get dat watch you wear at meetin' last Sunday?" "How do you know I hab watch?" "Bekase I seed de chain hang out de pocket in front."—"Go way nigger! 'Spose you see halter round my neck, you tink dar is horse to side of me?"

—A lady making inquiries of a boy about his father, an intemperate man, who had been ill for some time, asked whether he had regained his appetite. "No, ma'am," said the boy, "not exactly; his appetite is very poor, but his drinkerish is as good as ever."

SENTIMENT.—A lady sitting down to a dinner of roast veal, the other day, exclaimed, while eating, "I do think that butchers are the most cruel creatures that ever lived these poor calves!"—another piece off the shoulder, if you please, Mr. Smith."

—"Father, ain't you opposed to monopoly?" shouted a little fellow, as his parent took up the brandy bottle. "Yes, my boy." "Then give me a drink too." The father broke the bottle on the floor, has not tasted liquor since.

—"My dear ma'am," said a doctor to his patient, "I am truly gratified to see you get a life. At my last visit yesterday, you knew I told you you had but six hours to live." "Yes, I know you did, doctor, but I did not take the dose you left."

A SPECIAL PLEA.—A young thief who was charged the other day with picking pockets, demurred to the indictment, "for that, whereas he had never picked pockets, but had always taken them as they came."

TO BE SURE.—If one asks a question, and another answers it, which is the oldest fellow?—The quarrelled. (Quorlist.)

—What color does digging make an orphan? It makes him grill or? (yellow.)

—Young Ladies are like arrows—they are all in a quiver till the beaux come, and can't go off without them.

Porter's Spirit of the Times has as its motto of a dreadful old fellow, who would rather tell a lie or two to murder credit, than tell the truth for cash!

—Fatigue follows laziness, and listlessness begets stupidity.

—It is supposed that the first person had the itch was the devil—hence his title, "the Old Scratch."

TO PREVENT EMPTY PURSES.

—To those persons who have any laziness in their composition we readily commend it:

"Make the following compound: 1 4 early rising, 1 4 hard work, 1 4 cork screw: 1-4 cast down thing, shake yourself well every morning and take a good dose. It seldom fails to work the desired end.

—"Sonny, dear," said a fond mother, "you have a dirty face." "I can't help it, Mom, that's a Black Republican."

—It is better to love a person you cannot marry, than to marry a person you cannot love.

PICKED UP PROVERBS.

—Half the glory crowns we see, are only gilded crowns of thorns.

Fierce foes make firm friends.

"Trust not always to the brightest;

—Know the winter roses the lightest."

—God sometimes cuts his flowers with a very rough knife.

—A first class youth brings a third class age.

The wild oats, of youth change into the briars of manhood.

Life is a company, Death is solitude.
Prosperity is not love.
The heart is often better than the head.

Grey hairs are the frostwork of age.
The skies won't go into mourning for our sorrows.

—The red colored cloak of silence often covers the spotted clothes of ignorance.

—Pleasant lies, once sown, come up prosperous.

—Your form is ever present to mind,
Thou, lovely, fair, in pity pray be kind.

CHARLOTTE HOTEL,

BY

J. H. HAMMOND,

CHARLOTTE, N. C.

THE Proprietor of the Hotel is still at his post ready to receive the calls of former friends and the travelling public. The utmost comfortable quarters can be found with him as any where in this vicinity. Being centrally situated in the centre of Charlotte, Business Men will find this Hotel a most convenient and desirable location. He has been engaged in the business of this State nearly eighteen years, and in that time he has made several additions to the House, and it has been greatly enlarged and improved, representing in front two story VERANDA 100 feet in length, of 12 feet in width, handsomely shaded by trees on the side walk, affording a pleasant promenade at all hours of the day.

The House has been thoroughly furnished throughout, and in every particular the guests are abundantly cared for, especially in the DINING ROOM where the "inner man" is "renewed" day by day.

Connected with this Hotel are Stables affording room for 100 horses, abundantly furnished with grain and provender, attended by faithful and obliging hostlers.

The Proprietor feels confident from his long experience and many new advantages, added to his former facilities, he is prepared to offer his friends and the "travel generally," as many comforts and as much genuine cheer as will be found anywhere, on the shortest notice.
