Worn Down, Out of Heart

Georgia Lady, Worn-out and Tired, Tells How She Was Helped by Ziron Iron Tonic.

THE personal experience of Mrs. Nannie Phillips, of Powder Springs, Ga., is printed below in her own words: "I was in a worn-out condition. My stomach was out of order. I didn't sleep well. I was tired all the time. I couldn't eat, and didn't rest well at night. "I would get out of heart and blue. I would feel like I was going to be down in bed. Yet I kept dragging around. "We heard of Ziron, and from what I read, I was sure it wouldn't hurt me. It didn't. I found it really helped me, and I sent back for more. I ate better, felt much stronger. I am sure Ziron is a splendid tonic. "Many people, who are worn down and disheartened, due to stomach disorders and nervous ills, find relief by toning up their blood with Ziron Iron Tonic. "Tell your druggist you want to try Ziron on our money-back guarantee."

LIVER DIDN'T ACT DIGESTION WAS BAD

Says 65 year Old Kentucky Lady, Who Tells How She Was Relieved After a Few Doses of Black-Draught.

Meadowville, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Higginbotham, of this town, says: "At my age, which is 65, the liver does not act so well as when young. A few years ago, my stomach was all out of fix. I was constipated, my liver didn't act. My digestion was bad, and it took so little to upset me. My appetite was gone. I was very weak. "I decided I would give Black-Draught a thorough trial as I knew it was highly recommended for this trouble. I began taking it. I felt better after a few doses. My appetite improved and I became stronger. My bowels acted naturally and the least trouble was soon righted with a few doses of Black-Draught." "Seventy years of successful use has made Theodor's Black-Draught a standard, household remedy. Every member of every family, at times, need the help that Black-Draught can give in cleansing the system and relieving the troubles that come from constipation, indigestion, lazy liver, etc. You cannot keep well unless your stomach, liver and bowels are in good working order. Keep them that way. Try Black-Draught. It acts promptly, gently and in a natural way. If you feel sluggish, take a dose tonight. You will feel fresh tomorrow. Price 25c. a package—One cent a dose. ## CLINTON SCENE OF COLD-BLOODED MURDER.

LEWIS E. RAMEY SHOT DOWN BY A STRANGE NEGRO AT HIS STORE IN THE NORTHERN SUBURBS OF CLINTON—MURDERER AT LARGE.—BLOODHOUND FOLLOWS TRACK TO ROAD CAMP—RAMEY BURIED AT JOSIAH BAGGETT GRAVEYARD.

Probably, the most cold-blooded murder ever perpetrated in this section was that of Lewis E. Ramey at his store on the northern border of Clinton last Saturday night. Ramey, who as an orphan child had been taken from an orphanage by the late Mr. Josiah Baggett and reared by that excellent gentleman, had recently erected a little store on the outskirts of town, and on the night of the tragedy, he with young Bertus Herring and Livingston Ashford, the latter colored, were in the store, when a strange negro entered, with cap pulled somewhat over his face, stamped around a bit, remarking that it was cold, and then asked for a dime's worth of apples. Mr. Ramey served the customer and was handed a quarter. Ramey drew a number of coins from his pocket and started to make change when the negro said, "Hands up," or "Hold up," to which, spoken in rather an ordinary tone, Mr. Ramey is said to have replied, "I am making change." Again the negro said: "Hold up; I mean it," and then started to draw his gun. Ramey, seeing what was happening, also made a motion for his gun, but the negro had drawn and instantly shot the merchant in the upper breast, killing him dead, the only word spoken by the murderer man being an "Oh". The negro then dashed out the door and ran westward, or toward Coharie. The two men present did not see the negro get any money, but they state that Ramey had two pocket books, but only one could be found later, and it is supposed that Ramey had the pocket book missing in one hand. The negro was changed with the other and that it was snatched away in the twinkling in which the whole tragedy was enacted. The young man present made haste to report the tragedy in town and soon a throng, including the sheriff and town officers, was present. Tracks of the murderer were found and, after trying in vain to get phone communication with Mr. King, of Warsaw, who was said to have a bloodhound, O. J. Peterson, Jr., and Wilton Boney, by the direction of the Sheriff, hurried to Warsaw in a car, returning shortly after one o'clock Sunday morning with Mr. King and his young hound.

The dog immediately took up the chase and followed the road to the road camp on the Stevens Bridge road, and there stopped and could not be got to go further. All the men of the camp being accounted for and no one of them recognized by Herring and Ashford as the man they had seen do the shooting, no arrests were made. It is probable that the murderer went to the camp to throw suspicion on its occupants.

Dr. J. R. Parker, having been appointed as coroner to hold an investigation in the absence of Dr. Sessions, a jury was empaneled and the body observed at the scene of the murder, and on Sunday afternoon the men from the camp were heard, together with Herring and Ashford. The verdict of the jury could scarcely throw any further light upon the author of the crime. The jury was composed of Messrs. J. H. Jackson, C. A. Deal, J. R. Butler, J. B. Williamson, Robert Tew, and one other not recalled.

On Sunday morning, one Henry Mett, a colored man who was met a few minutes after the murder coming toward town and who then said that he was coming from the home of Ed. Oliver, the colored barber, was taken into custody by Chief Price, but Herring and Ashford failed to identify him as the man. However, he was held in custody. In fact, it seems that there may have been three men, as indicated by other tracks of running men, one of the tracks being discovered leading from behind the store.

Messrs. Ira and Eborn Baggett, sons of Mr. Josiah Baggett, who, as above stated, had reared Ramey, being informed of the tragedy, came Sunday morning and directed the body to be prepared by Mr. J. C. Holliday for burial at the Baggett graveyard in Mingo township, which was done, the body leaving here about two o'clock Sunday evening in Mr. Holliday's automobile hearse.

Mr. Ramey should be remembered as the young white man who came near being killed when the boiler of the Powell sawmill on Six Runs exploded last summer and killed a negro, Pat Sikes, and wounded Ramey and another negro, a brick being hurled against Ramey's head.

Mr. Ramey, who was twenty-five or thereabouts, was a man of gentle and friendly disposition, and as not one word of reproach has been heard against his character was evidently a man of sterling worth. Information as to the place of his birth and surviving relatives is lacking at this time.

COTTON AND TOBACCO MEETINGS IN RALEIGH.

The great cotton and tobacco meetings in Raleigh last week were attended by several farmers from our County of huckberries. There may be others but the following men are recalled as being present: J. H. Hill, J. R. Peterson, Marion Butler, McD. Davis, J. J. Matthews, A. V. Willford, S. T. Wallace, J. E. Burgess, Duncan Weeks, R. L. Royal and R. T. Melvin.

Our Mr. "Jack" Hill took a prominent part in the discussion at the tobacco meeting when a prominent tobacco merchant mounted the platform and attempted to throw ice water on the meeting and tried to show us how we were not so badly off as we thought and how we were indebted to the tobacco buyers who had condescended to buy our crop. Mr. Hill interrupted him with a reply some very pointed questions which started a movement which sent our friend (?) the tobacco merchant back to his seat.

Ex-Senator Marion Butler was made a member of the Committee on nominations and resolutions at the Cotton Meeting. Mr. Jno. R. Peterson was elected Vice-President and Senator Butler a member of the Executive Committee.

"MISS EMLINE" DEPICTS THE DRUNKARD.
Mr. Peterson, you don't publish my reply to Cousin Hat. And we do think a little hard of that. However, we commend you for the good you're doing—The "whiskey dealer" you're still pursuing. That's right, let's raise the flag for prohibition—Let everybody kneel in deep contrition, and Pray to our Father as never before. To let us pass through mercy's door. For there's no language that can express the humiliation and distress. That's caused by the whiskey-seller, who gets his living out of the poor ignorant fellow. Who thinks, (when he's drunk) he knows it all. But in the ditch he's sure to fall. And he gets muddy from heel to collar. Where hogs only are expected to wallow. He'll drive his horse till he's out of breath. Scare his poor wife almost to death: Will throw his harness on the ground. One of these his bridle found. His costly robe looks like an old rug; In the foot of his buggy there's an empty jug; The buggy looks like a brick machine—The muddest thing you've ever seen. All left standing in the rain or frost—It makes no difference how much it cost. If you say, "You've ruined my buggy, brother." He will curse and say, "He can buy him another." Throwing his money everywhere. For he feels like he's a millionaire: Will change a twenty into dimes and nickels. Just to buy oysters, cigars and pickles. Can't sell it all, boy, he does caper—Not enough time, ink, nor paper. He just simply acts the fool. He's got enough money to burn a wet mule. Sometimes he won't eat nor drink a swallow. Especially if he's in the notion to hold it. If he eats at all he'll eat a peck, you can touch it with your finger down his neck; Then the next thing you'd better do Get out of the way, for he's going to spew. Here comes the oysters, cheese and That seems to give him some relief; Now fix the bed and let him lie down He won't pull off his shoes, or wait for his gown. Feels too bad to get off his clothes, So headlong crosswise to bed he goes. And if you've ever heard a lion roar, You would think it one when he begins to snore. Now if you're a faithful wife or daughter You must get your tub, soap and water; But when you go to wash those clothes Hold your breath or stop your nose. For nobody has ever been able to tell How bad a drunken spew does smell. But when the poor fellow wakes he doesn't feel very funny. For he has lost a good name as well as his money.
MRS. EMMA KELLY.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Benton and family arrived from Marshville, N. C., last week. He will farm with Mr. W. B. Lamb this year. We extend to them a hearty welcome to the community. The people of Tomahawk and along the highway from Tomahawk to Ingot have subscribed $1,000.00 for the grading of the road. This is the amount they proposed to raise, if the county would grade it. Work will begin in a short while.

MRS. W. O. GILBERT.
Mrs. Wiley O. Gilbert died at her home near Clinton, N. C., on December 25, 1920, after a lingering illness of more than a year. Then a devoted husband lost a constant, steadfast helpmeet; the children, that dearest possession, a mother in its truest, deepest and loveliest meaning; brothers and sisters, an unusual sister; the community, one of its strongest forces and sweetest characters; and the Baptist church, one of its most devout members.

Rev. W. J. Jones, of Salemburg, N. C., conducted the funeral services at Hickory Grove Baptist Church the following day. The remains were interred near her son Lloyd.

She is survived by two brothers and two sisters—Messrs. Jeff and Luther Wilson, Mrs. Minnie Fowler and Mrs. Alworth Weeks all of Clinton, N. C.; her husband, Mr. W. O. Gilbert who is now in Kissimmee, Fla.; and seven children—Fred and Robert of Kissimmee and Bell, Fla.; respectively; Tom, of Dunn, N. C.; Allen and Elliot of Clinton, N. C.; Mrs. George Bennett, England, N. C.; and Miss Lula who is teaching at Princeton, N. C.

Let us say with the poet: "A perfect woman nobly planned, To warn, to comfort and to command."

A PERFECT DAY.

BY FRANK L. ALDERMAN.
With the sailing skies of blue above
And a letter from a friend—away,
Then a smile from every one I see,
I call it a perfect day.
With the carol of birds in an apple tree,
In the blooming month of May,
And a purring stream—that trickles on,
I call it a perfect day.
The twilight comes and the stars shine out
And a friend comes by to stay—
With song of bird, a stream, a friend,
Now this is a perfect day.

OPPORTUNITY PRESENTED.

It seems that the first real opportunity has come for the farmers of Sampson County and the South to break down the great barriers which have kept our children out of school and our families out of the comfortable homes for which we have sacrificed our wives and children year after year but have never received. We have talked organization for a lifetime and have had organizations of various kinds and no one can say that we have not benefited by them but we have failed to touch the real core of our trouble. Our American Cotton Association has done a great work and we should be proud of its achievements and of the part which Sampson County has played in it. It has exerted a great influence morally and educationally and it is through its influence that the present proposed remedy only day laborers wages for our year's work and surrendered our crop to the speculators to reap the profits which are ours by right of having earned them. We have long ago realized that it is within our power to free ourselves from such a system but we have never reached the point where we were willing to make the supreme sacrifice which is necessary if we succeed.

Now we have the opportunity of forming an organization whose sole purpose is the marketing of our crop and it is squarely up to us whether we shall take advantage of it or surrender ourselves and our families to slavery for another generation. It is the first time we have ever tackled the problem from the business end and used the business man's methods. A branch of the Cotton Marketing Association has already been organized in Sampson County and a meeting is to be called by its President for January 31st. Every farmer in the County should be present at this meeting unless you are satisfied with the profits you have made from your 1920 cotton crop. If you are then the meeting is not for you. Every cotton grower's wife should rise up and demand, if necessary, that her husband join hands with the other farmers in putting this organization across or find some other means of livelihood by which he can give her and her children the comfort, which those of equal standing in other lines of business enjoy.

A similar opportunity is offered to the tobacco growers who have suffered almost as badly as the cotton farmers this season.

RESULTS PROVED GREAT SURPRISE
Mrs. Hughes Says She is Praising Tonic to Everybody—Restored Her Health.

"Although it has been several months since Tonic restored my health and built me up so wonderfully I am still feeling fine," said Mrs. P. T. Hughes, Durmid, Va.
"For several weeks I had indigestion so bad that everything I ate soured and bloated me with gas until I could hardly breathe, and I had such terrible pains around my heart it seemed that I would go distracted. My appetite failed completely and even what little I forced down seemed to burn my stomach like a coal of fire. "I got so weak I couldn't do my housework and would have to sit down and rest every time I moved around the least bit. I became alarmed over my condition and began trying medicine after medicine, but nothing helped me until I got Tonic. "It wasn't long before I could eat just like I did before I got sick, and I found I could eat anything I wanted without suffering the least bit from indigestion. "I picked up in strength rapidly and was soon feeling so well and strong that my housework was just like play. Ever since then I have praised Tonic and I am going to take it again if I ever need medicine."

Tonic is sold in Clinton by Page-Herring Drug Co., in Salemburg by C. S. Royal, in Roseboro by D. W. Tart, and in Kerr by D. P. DeVane.

WOMEN GIVE OUT
Housework is hard enough when healthy. Every Clinton woman who is having backache, blue and nervous spells, dizzy headaches and kidney or bladder troubles, should be glad to heed this Clinton woman's experience: Mrs. J. G. Hobbs, Stetson St., says: "I had a nagging pain in my back and joints. Mornings I was sore and stiff and tired easily. I couldn't do my housework and felt just as tired as when I went to bed. I also had spells of dizziness, my sight was blurred and my kidneys acted irregularly, too. Friends recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me and I started using them. Doan's relieved all symptoms of kidney trouble." (Statement given July 30, 1914).

Doan's Kidney Pills completely cured me of kidney trouble years ago and I am always glad to say a few words in praise of them. Doan's are surely a fine kidney and bladder remedy and what I said in my former statement holds good. 60c. at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.
