It is really Governor Morrison.

Let's not elect another governor for a spell yet.

No; don't repeat the primary law, but make it fair.

It is gratifying to hear that President Wilson grows stronger and stronger.

The article in last week's paper entitled "From Another View Point" should have been credited to Rev. A. R. Parsley.

It is estimated that South Carolina paid more for food and feed shipped into the State last year than its cotton crop was worth.

With both cotton and tobacco enough on hand already for two years at the present rate of consumption the farmers must perforce turn their attention to food crops.

Consolidated districts, modern school houses, resulting in better working conditions for teachers and a better morale among the pupils, is, it would seem, about the best remedy for the educational ills of the rural sections.

"Sell all thou hast and give to the poor" was manifestly offered to make the rich young ruler see, in the eyes of those who would refuse to sell a bale of cotton and give it to save the lives of eight or ten men, women, or children. This is a time to "sell" something at least, help save the lives of the starving.

Governor Bickett has made a most excellent governor. His administration has been marked by a consistent effort to benefit the average man and even his more unfortunate brother.

Secretary Daniels is right. If the world is not to disarm, then, let America have the biggest navy in the world. But America, itself stands in the way of a peace program, and only those who opposed the joining of the league can blame themselves if America must expend billions in preparing to defend itself in case of another war.

Maybe, the Legislature did right in raising the salaries of the state officers, but the fact that they were glad to spend good money getting the jobs at the old salary and when a dollar would not only buy nearly so much as it is likely to buy any time during the next four years would indicate that they could have gotten along without the increase.

If there is a young man among our readers who has the ambition to become a naval officer—let him make haste to make himself and his aspirations known to Congressman Brinson, who has two vacancies in the Annapolis Naval College at his disposal.

long ago set the example of the simple and democratic plan of inaugural and Woodrow Wilson never had to veto a plan already approved to have a great inaugural ball, and yet we have heard no exclamation of approval and wonder at such accustomed simplicity. But it is "wonderful" that a stand-pat Republican can even consent to such Democratic simplicity.

Rock Bottom Prices!

Prices are not only down, but they have struck Bottom, have reached the last low level. From now on there will be an upward trend. Full stocks and a reckless disregard of profits and losses have brought about this condition sooner than anyone expected. You have waited for lower Prices--they are here. BUY NOW and buy at the bottom.

Table with columns: THE BUMP OF LOW PRICES, FOR INSTANCE, THESE PRICES WOULD HAVE BEEN LOW BEFORE THE WAR, READ THESE PRICES, EXTRA SPECIAL IN LADIES SUITS AND COATS, PRICES DOWN!, STILL A FEW SPECIALS IN SHOES.

O. J. POWELL, Clinton, N. C.

DOWN, DOWN, GO PRICES!

EVERYTHING THAT GOES UP MUST COME DOWN. THIS IS AS TRUE OF PRICES AS ANYTHING ELSE. BUT IT IS EQUALLY TRUE THAT WHEN PRICES GO BELOW NORMAL--BELOW THEIR ACTUAL COST, THEY MUST COME BACK, THERE MUST BE A REACTION. YOU HAVE PUT OFF BUYING THE THINGS YOU WANTED, MERCHANDISE YOU REALLY NEEDED. YOU WERE RIGHT AS THE FOLLOWING PRICES WILL PROVE. NEVERTHELESS IT IS A WELL ESTABLISHED PRINCIPLE IN BUSINESS THAT GOODS MUST BE SOLD AT A PROFIT. THERE IS NO PROFIT TO US AT THESE PRICES. THE PRICE PENDULUM HAS SWUNG TO ITS FARTHEST LOW SIDE, IT MUST NOW START BACK. BUY NOW, IT IS YOUR LAST CHANCE AT PROFITLESS MERCHANDISE.

GASOLINE STILL 33c. WHY? I am still selling gasoline at 33 cents, while others are advertising it at 30 cents, which is a price at which it cannot be sold at a profit? Why is this? There is only one just conclusion and that is that it is an attempt to run out of business the station that first reduced the price below thirty cents. But suppose I am run out of business, what price will the station then have to pay for gasoline? When the wholesale price goes low enough to justify a thirty-cent rate I shall be glad to reduce to that price, but I cannot afford to lose money on every gallon in order to meet unfair competition. S. H. FINCH, Proprietor of the Inn and Out Filling Station. Jan. 8, 1920.
