

Durham Licks Greensboro—High Point Wins Two Carolina Defeated N. C. State On Riddick Field

HITS AND ERRORS FEATURE IN BOVINE VICTORY—RODGERS HAD TROUBLE, BUT TOOK THE GAME

The Durham Bulls spotted Charlie Carroll's Greensboro Patriots four runs yesterday afternoon and defeated them, 9 to 8. The outcome of the game was in doubt right along until the ninth scene which made the game interesting despite lots of errors and freakish plays.

Both teams uncorked errors at critical moments and the pitchers were in trouble most of the time they spent on the hill.

The tallies that locked the game up for Skipper Lee Gooch's herd came in the seventh when Vann Stringfield belted a nice single to center with the bases anti-Volstead. It was the third safe bingle for the former Wake Forest captain in the game.

The visitors sent Lankanau, spectacled moundsman, to the hillcock for the opening of the game. Manager Gooch pinned his faith on Rodgers. Lankanau pitched well for three innings. Afterwards the Bovines found his offerings easy and the visiting pilot removed him at the end of the sixth. Jerry Jackson, brother of the former "Sheless" Joe, substituted for him in the seventh in sufficient time to get credit for a defeat.

The visitors ratted on Rodgers at certain stated intervals. The worst part of the romping occurred in the second scene when the visitors rapped out five hits and produced four markers. The nine additional hits credited to Greensboro were made via the scatter shot route.

Both teams did quite a bit of nice playing. But the opposite kind of baseball took the day. Charlie Carroll, the guest of honor, had a horrible day at third. He just couldn't seem to manage the intricate plays that fell to his lot. He received credit for two miscues, both of which counted in the manufacturing of Durham runs.

Probably the outstanding player on the visiting team was a former Bovine, Tommie Magrann. The short stop snagged every chance in his territory. He made one had throw trying to get a runner at third. With the stick Tommy was the elephant's piano keys. He slapped out a single, double and triple during the game.

For Durham, Stringfield took a star role. He was, however, ably assisted by Paul Dannielly, George Resco, Henie, Meyers and Benson. This sextette provided the Cellars with a boost in the percentage column.

The fans thought the proposition a hopeless one when the Bulls spotted the Patriots four runs in the second. The home team had the necessary punch, however, and took charge of things after the third. In the second Molly Cox opened with a single to center. He was arrested at second, however, who threw to ground. Teague trotted to second when Brittain failed to hold one of Rodgers' fast balls and scored on Conley's rap to center. Conley went to third on Carroll's single to left. Lankanau grounded out to left when Magrann dashed to second and scored. Brittain grounded out to left and Magrann got familiar with the home plate.

The Bulls drew a run in the fourth. With one out Benson and Resco led over short. Meyers and Brittain walked, filling the bases. Brittain bounced a one to Lankanau who scored from third. Brittain and Benson scored from first. Brittain was thrown out at first.

In the fifth the Patriots added a score. Shay opened with a single to center, but was thrown out at second when O'Hara's second and Benson, O'Hara stole second and scored on a passed ball.

The Bovines rushed across five runs in the same scene. Every man on the team had a bat in this inning. The runs resulted from three singles, a double and a triple, aided by four errors.

In the sixth the lead went out and took the lead. With one out Stringfield reached first on a fielder's choice. He went to second on Dannielly's hit and scored on a wild pitch.

In the seventh the visitors tied the score. With one out O'Hara drew a free hit and Teague tripped to right scoring O'Hara and Teague.

In their share of the seventh the home team also scored two runs. Meyers opened the frame with a single. Resco walked. Brittain hit a single. Rodgers walked. Menie flew out to left. Stringfield singled to center and Resco and Brittain scored. Greensboro put one run across in

ELDRIDGE EXHIBITS MARATHON PITCHING

Pitched and Won Both Games of Double-Header At High Point

High Point, May 28.—With Eldridge pitching, both games of the Pointers took both games of this afternoon's double-header from the Winston-Salem Twins, the first being a 5 to 0 shutout, and the second by a one-run margin, 5 to 4. The High Point pitcher had the visitors baffled throughout both games, allowing only 11 hits in two contests while the High Point batters registered 20.

In the first game the locals bunched five runs in the first three innings and quit scoring. In the second battle, which was close, Winston kept the score tied through the sixth frame, but the Pointers registered a winning run in the seventh when Thrasher singled to center, scoring Kane, then on third, before an out had been made. The second game was played in seven innings by agreement.

Miller twirled in the initial meet for the visitors, and Ellington the second. Eldridge was without a doubt the brilliant star of the two hours and 44 minutes of playing. He held up remarkably well and was given splendid support by his teammates. In the first game the Twins were able to hit him for six scattered and ineffective safeties. In the second game he reduced their first total by one. He fanned only two men in the 15 innings, but at the same time allowed only two to take their bases on balls.

Other than Eldridge's marathon pitching, there was no individual playing in the game this afternoon that deserves note, although practically every player fitted into his position well. Lowry, High Point's first baseman, made three errors in the second game, and McCullough, second baseman team-mate two, but they did not cause serious consequences.

TRINITY TO PLAY SPORT SHOP TEAM

Game Arranged As a Feature to Durham's Memorial Day Program

Along with the other attractions for Memorial Day in Durham will be an exhibition baseball game in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock between Trinity and the Whitted Sport Shop team. The game will be played at Hanes field and will take the form of a practice game for the Methodists, who will next week play Carolina in the final game of the collegiate season. The game will afford supporters of the Trinity team an opportunity to see the aggregation in action prior to the big game, and will also give some idea as to the strength of the Sport shop club.

Manager "Red" Rowe of the Sport shop team, says his nine will line up much stronger than it did last season. He is counting on Mason, Lquire, Powell, Munday and Adkins for the pitching. Rowe, Dennis,

Any of the fans who have perchance been counting on High Point to collapse via "Rube" Eldridge will have another count due after reading the account of his "Iron Man" stunt. "Rube" set Winston-Salem down in a double header with apparent ease. He allowed only 11 hits in 15 innings of baseball and scored a shut-out in the first game.

The two teams to last season when the Twins were battling for the top perch Eldridge pitched High Point to three consecutive victories against Winston-Salem, storing first half honors.

A southpaw pitcher with control can ordinarily sit on top of the world. Added to this is a change of pace that few pitchers can boast. Taking these facts into consideration there is little reason to wonder at the Duke of Spiro's success.

ROANOKE RAPIDS SIGNS TRINITY TEAM FOR SUMMER-TOWE MANAGER

The Trinity college baseball team, champions of North Carolina for 1922, and strong contenders for southern honors, will play summer baseball with Roanoke Rapids, according to reports among the men this morning. Bill Towe, Trinity captain and a member of Dean Mordecai's first year law class, is managing the club to which the Trinity men will go during the summer.

Coach Steiner yesterday afternoon started a spurt in practice for the Carolina game which features alumni day during commencement on June 5. Final examinations have held up the practice for the past week. Several of the players have other exams scheduled for this week and will not be able to report every afternoon for work. To date the only contest which has been scheduled for the team since its defeat at the hands of the Wildcat Davidsonians on May 15 is the game with the alumni on Monday of commencement.

Workmen were busy today getting Hanes field in condition for the game. Forty-eight five-ton truck loads of play soil have been spread over the infield. This top soil covers the infield to a depth of several

CAPITALS WON OUT OVER DANVILLIANS

Heavy Hitting Featured 8 to 7 Game At Danville—Three Homers

Danville, May 28.—Two homers by Smith and Sessions that netted a total of five runs, and the splendid support given Friday by his team mates proved too much for the Tobaccoists here this afternoon and the Capitals took off the laurels by the half-breath score of 8 to 7.

The locals, though, made a near-final stab at victory, in the seventh but were unable in the last three innings to overthrow the one-run lead. The game was full of heavy hitting, the Capitals pounding out 13 hits while the locals swatted 11. Three two-baggers, four triples, and three home runs were registered during home runs were registered during the nine innings. Friday was hit freely, but was saved embarrassment of defeat by the effective fielding by the Raleigh players, especially of the outfield men, who more than once made spectacular catches of long flies close to the palings.

In the third inning Sessions lifted the ball over right center for a homer with one on bases. In the seventh Sessions singled. Graves followed suit, and Smith scored both with a powerful smack that sent the pill over the fence and then some. In the sixth Dorman pounded out one over the centerfield fence with a runner in front of him.

Carey threw his shoulder out of joint in the seventh inning while pitching the ball at a crucial moment, but succeeded in getting his man out. Edwards took his place at first.

DEMPSEY GOES ON EIGHT MILE HIKE

Great Falls, Mont., May 28.—Dempsey's camp presented a peaceful scene today, the only activity being an eight-mile walk by Jack Dempsey and party. The Lewis and Clark camp site of 119 years ago was visited. The champion devoted the greater part of the afternoon to reading. Dempsey will leave tomorrow with several Great Falls business men for a day's fishing trip. The rest of the week will be passed "just loafing."
