The Coming Giant—Trust.

The modern "trust" companies are the off-spring of high protection; and high protection is a child of the Republican party.

Some of the high protection journals imagine they see an argument in the fact that certain articles can be bought as cheaply now as at some previous time.

Are "trusts" a myth? Not much. The modern "trust" is simply a monopolistic tariff, or tax, levied upon the people by the power and insolence of combined capital.

The Protestant Methodists, in conference at Adrian, Michigan, have closed their work and returned to their homes.

"I Won't, and I Will!" Mr. Blaine has written another letter in which he says: "Assuming that the Presidential nomination could by any possible chance be offered to me, I could not accept it without leaving in the minds of thousands of these men (his faithful supporters in the past) the impression that I had not been free from indirection; and therefore I could not accept it at all."

Mr. Blaine having delayed the writing of this letter until it became probable that he would be nominated regardless of his Florence manifesto and NOLENS VOLENS, perhaps his object, in this supplementary epistle, is to place himself in such a position that, if he should now be nominated in the face of it, there would no longer be any ground for the "impression" or imputation of "indirection" on his part, as he confesses there would have been in case it had not been written.

The Recorder is strongly of the opinion that he will be nominated and that he will accept.

How We Get Along. The secret why country editors—married editors—are such a jovial, and contented set has been "given away" by Mrs. Margaret Andrews Oldham.

The Prohibition Convention.

MONEY IN ABUNDANCE AND A HOT CAMPAIGN EXPECTED. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—The Prohibition campaign opened this morning at Elliott's hall, with 4,000 people present.

Mr. Dickie called attention to the fact that in the Providence of God every one of the nominees upon the National prohibition tickets for the past eight years had been spared to the day, while of the Republican and Democratic nominees, for the same period only four survived.

An address of welcome delivered by Colonel Eli Ritter, of Indianapolis, to which Mr. DeLaurie responded. The roll of States was called for membership of the various committees and a recess was taken.

The Southern delegates are nearly solid against woman suffrage. The fight will be very bitter, with the chances in favor of a victory for the ladies, whose partisans certainly outnumber the opposition.
