THE PRIDE OF DURHAM.

Capt. E. J. Parrish's Display of Smoking Tobacco.

Keats tells us in one of his poems that "A thing of beauty is a joy forever: its loveliness increases." This was the impression made upon the mind in beholding the Z. I. Lyon & Co.'s exhibit of the "Pride of Durham" smoking tobacco at our recent Exposition. A mere glance would not satisfy you. The happy conception and excellent arrangement, grew upon you the more you beheld it. Its beauty hung upon the cheek of the exhibits like a rich jewel in a lovely maiden's ear. Four arches spanned the exhibit and they were decorated with national colored bunting a d two rows of their granulated tobacco in packages. On either corner were square pyramids of their packages, smoking tobacco and from the top of each of these was a column surrounded by naked long-cut tobacco; the four corners presenting a very pretty effect with the graceful arches, above described, bending down to meet them. Under the central arch, on the right, was an arched entrance and around this arch in letters, made of granulated tobacco, were the words: "Z. I. Lyon & Co., Pride of Durham." In the centre of the exhibit, were bags of Prides of Durham, arranged in a broad square pyramid, surmounting this, the exact image of a lion—the brand of their tobacco—with mane and tail of long cut, and body covered with granulated tobacco. This was a decided unique arrangement, and in keeping with the uniformity of this elaborate exhibit, there were numerous glass globes, filled with manufactured tobacco before it has been put up in packages, and as a relief to the manufactured goods so admirably arranged to the best advantage were about half dozen growing plants. It was one of the neatest and best displays of smoking tobacco we ever saw. It was a winning card for this energetic, rapidly growing, and wide-awake firm. The "Pride of Durham" struck a chord of admiration in the hearts of the visitors, and its splendid display, will long be remembered. Capt. E. J. Parrish is at the head of this firm, and he takes a pride in doing things well—not only in putting up tobacco but giving his patrons a good smoke.

Calvin Cox Killed.

GREENVILLE, Oct. 15.—Calvin Cox was killed by Bud Venters and W. H. Branch at Calico, in this county, on Saturday, after the speaking. All were drunk. Venters and Branch are in jail. They were all white men, and Cox has been a well known character in this county for the past thirty-five years. He was an inventor and man of genius. He gave promise in early manhood of great usefulness and distinction, and was some thirty years ago Grand Masonic Lecturer for the State. The election of his brother, Thomas Cox, to the Legislature in 1858, over Dr. William Blow, one of the most popular and accomplished men of Pitt county, was one of the political surprises of that day; created much comment and was the subject of endless fun and merriment throughout this and adjoining counties. The affair is a very unfortunate one, but is not necessarily an outcome of the county campaign.

Special Tax Bond Case Called.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The case of the North Carolina special tax bonds was called up in the United States Supreme Court to day. After counsel on both sides had announced their readiness to proceed the Justices held an informal consultation. The Chief Justice then announced that the court desired a full bench to hear this case, as it involved a constitutional question, and, as Justice Matthews was ill, the court would adjourn a hearing for the present.

Chief Justice Fuller then stated that owing to the illness of Judge Matthews, the Court might be equally divided on the question involved, and that would not be satisfactory to either side. The argument was then adjourned for hearing before a full bench.

A Clergyman's Sudden Death.

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 16.—The Rev. F. McNamehan fell dead in the pulpit of Mount Zion church, in Surry county, on Sunday, as he was about to preach a sermon to an assembled congregation. A cry of horror went up as the clergyman expired. He was just seventy-two years old.

A FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.

Seven Men Instantly Killed and 26 Seriously Injured.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., October 16.—Another terrible accident occurred on the Lehigh Valley railroad this morning. A construction train was unloading ties at the Tamond Siding near Lost Creek, on the Pottsville branch, when a fast Pennsylvania freight came along and dashed into the construction cars. Of the forty Hungarians, who were at work unloading ties, seven were killed outright and twenty six were injured. A brakeman on the freight train was instantly killed. Twenty of the freight cars were wrecked.

It was three hours before help could be procured, and during that time the injured lost so much blood that it is feared many of them will die. A special train carrying physicians arrived three hours after the accident, and the men went to work dressing the wounds of the injured. The killed were horribly mangled. One man was cut into a dozen pieces, and his remains were placed in a tool box.

News Items in Brief.

Lena Silleck, a domestic, has made an affidavit charging Colonel Dowdall, postmaster of Peoria, Illinois, with an attempt at felonious assault. The Georgia State fair will open at Macon next week.

Professor Frederick A. Porcher, for years professor of English and modern languages in Charleston College, in Charleston, S. C., died on Monday morning in that city.

Col. F. R. Southmayd yesterday made a report of his work in the yellow fever district before the executive committee of the national association of the Red Cross, Miss Clara Barton, presiding, in Washington.

The reports of the governors of Idaho, New Mexico, and Dakota received at the Interior department yesterday show great growth in national wealth and population during the past fiscal year.

Emperor William and King Humbert started for Naples yesterday morning.

There were 58 new cases of yellow fever yesterday in Jacksonville, and only 2 deaths. Of the new cases 14 were white, and 44 colored.

Bertie's Magnanimity

Little Bertie was one day very, very naughty, and her mamma had been compelled to correct her severely.

After pouting for a quarter of an hour in a corner she heaved a deep sigh and said: "You may come and kiss me, darling mamma; I forgive you."

A Dozen Ladies Arrested.

GRAND FORKS, D. T., October 16.—About a dozen women were brought here under arrest from Thompson today. All attempts to close the saloons there having failed, the ladies raided them, breaking up the furniture and spilling the liquor on the ground, for which they were arrested. Great interest is manifested in the trial and there is much bitter feeling.

"Porcelain Blue" this Fall.

So says the New York Herald, which goes on: "Every season has its new color as well as its tax-list. Of late years it has been the correct thing to go wild over some old shade and wear it to death. As soon as the color gets prevalent below Fourteenth street it's then time for another. Every dog has his day, and so does every color. The dingy red of 'Jersey mud' that of late held sway in gowns, hats, gloves, and stockings, has been run into the ground, where it appropriately belongs. Its fate was the same as that of the poor 'crushed strawberry,' the 'aesthetic terra cotta' and the 'Junelike 'heliotope.' 'Porcelain blue' is the last favorite. Already it's cropping out on Fifth avenue and along Broadway on a pleasant afternoon. The color is easily distinguished because it's an odd one, and looks much like that of a lowly winter sky. When you see a girl in a dress that looks as though there must be a snow-storm hidden somewhere about her you may know it's plumb up to par on fashion."

Judge Sawyer yesterday, in the United States Circuit Court of San Francisco, affirmed the constitutionality of the recent Chinese act and held that all Chinese now in the harbor, as well as those on the way from China, must be sent back.

What an Editor Sees in Virginia.

West Robinson in Orange Observer. After ten days of almost continuous rain we felt gloomy, but on Wednesday morning at an early hour we cast our eyes toward the opulent orient, and we were treated to a scene which surpassed in grandeur and gorgeousness of its colorings the richest creations of Angelo, Rubens or Titian. It was indeed a Deity-wrought and Heaven-stretched panorama of loveliness, of beauty, of sublimity. We first saw a high, rugged, cloud-built hill, adown whose jagged sides a thousand rippling streams of sparkling gleams came trickling in one grand and harmony-woven union of burnished glory, while ever and anon a fissure in that bank would creep, and lead the way to such luminous ripples of splendor that its fountain head alone could be the radiance-pavilioned home of God. As we stood in spell bound awe, a glorious transformation began. Arrows of light began to pierce the bosom of night, the darkness fled from the sky, and then the dissolving views began, and it seemed as if angels—God-sent they must have been—shifted the magnificent scenery of the skies, and revealed glory after glory in such quick and thrilling succession, as the great orb of day came forth from his curtained couch, that even an atheist would have trembled with reverence, and felt that God Himself was there, and that the gloriously crimsoned panorama was but a reflection from the royal and gorgeous robes He wore.

Photographed His Own Shadow.

Portland Oregonian. E. D. Dewert, of the Oregonian composing rooms, who accompanied the recent expedition to Crater Lake, taking views of charming bits of scenery, accomplished one thing which he did not look for—the photographing of his own shadow. He stood on Vide Cliff, two thousand feet high, and had the camera pointed at the lake in the distance. Between the camera and its object, and about sixty feet away, was another cliff, which is shown in the photograph. The upper portion of it is of a light dark photographic color, while the lower part is jet black and looks as if it had been painted with a brush. It is just above the jet black streak that the shadow appears. The form of a man in the act of removing the cap of the camera to expose the plate is clearly shown. It was 5 o'clock in the evening when Mr. Dewert took the picture and the sun was setting behind the romantic hills and cliffs.

Mayor Hewitt Willing to Withdraw.

New York, October 16.—Mayor Hewitt, in a letter to the citizen's committee, accepts their re-nomination for the Mayoralty, which, he says has been ratified by the County Democracy. He says that in order to test the sincerity of Tammany's lamentation of a divided local contest he will now renew his offer to withdraw in favor of a union candidate to be named by the citizens and endorsed by both Democratic organizations. In the course of his letter Mr. Hewitt declares that Tammany does not represent the Democracy. It is an irresponsible organization of chronic office seekers and exists for no other purpose than to furnish spoils for its leaders.

The Florida Orange Crop.

BALTIMORE, October 16.—Mr. Albert M. Ives, general manager of the Florida Fruit Exchange, has written to Messrs. Dix & Wilkins, of Baltimore, from Live Oak, Florida, to which place their headquarters have been removed from Jacksonville, stating that before the orange shipping season fairly opens the exchange will be prepared to fully supply its agencies with oranges. The shipping season for oranges usually opens the latter part of October.

Warner's Log Cabin Remedies—old fashioned, simply compounds, used in the days of our hardy forefathers, are "old timers" but "old reliable." They comprise a "Sarsaparilla," "Hops and Buchu Remedy," "Cough and Consumption Remedy," "Hair Tonic," "Extract" for External and Internal Use, "Plasters," "Rose Cream," for Catarrh, and "Liver Pills." They are put up by H. H. Warner & Co., proprietors of Warner's Safe Remedies, and promise to equal the standard value of those great preparations. All druggists keep them.

IN STATE BOUNDS.

Movements in which Tar Hells are interested.

Wadesboro Messenger: The membership of Wadesboro Baptist church was increased by the addition of nine new members received last Sunday.

Kinston Free Press: We are told that a negro boy was accidentally shot by his brother on Wm Coward's plantation in Greene county. The boy will probably die.

Tarboro Southerner: Reports of the cotton crop from many sections of the county are unfavorable. In fact, a farmer who acknowledged that he has a good crop, is few and far between.

Hillsboro Recorder: The crop of wheat in this section was almost a failure. The crop of corn is the same; the tobacco is perhaps the worst ever raised and cured, with here and there an exception.

Pittsboro Home: The revival meeting in the Methodist church resulted in the conversion of twenty-eight persons. Nearly half of these will join the Methodist church; the next largest number will go to the Baptist; others to the Presbyterian and yet some to the Episcopal.

Raleigh News Observer: The residence of Mr. W. W. Carroll, a hard-working and industrious builder and contractor, living on Riverside street, was entirely consumed by fire at 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The fire was caused from sparks igniting a defective flue.

Newbern Journal: A grape vine dispatch says that Buck Kitchin has Oliver Dockery traded over in the mountains, and the children of the neighborhood are trying to smoke him out while the old woman are heating the water.

Greensboro Patriot: Married this morning, 17th inst., at the residence of His Excellency, Gov. Scales, on West Market street, by Rev. J. Henry Smith, D. D., pastor of the 1st Presbyterian Church of this city, M. Jno Noble Wylie, of Danville, Va., and Miss Katie Lewis Scales, of Greensboro.

"Durham Leads."

Asheville Citizen. Mr. Robert Walker has returned from the above brilliant exhibit of the energies and progress of Durham. He says that the display and its environments far exceeded his expectations, though as a former Durham man, he thought he knew what his old fellow citizens were capable of doing. He was our only representative there. He thinks if the exposition had been a little later, West North Carolina would have been represented, and would have carried off the prizes in bright tobacco. As it was, our planters were not ready to compete, their cures not having been perfected.

It is now in turn for Asheville to prepare for like exhibition; and choosing her own time to have one, making such display of her capacities as we know she is capable of doing. Durham leads. Let us emulate her example.

The East Tennessee.

New York, Oct. 17.—The East Tennessee and Richmond and Danville Directors met to-day, and formally agreed to the lease of the East Tennessee to the Richmond and Danville Company. The East Tennessee Directors then ordered the officials of that company to turn over the property to the Richmond and Danville. There are reports current that stockholders of the Richmond Terminal Company will to-morrow apply for a mandamus compelling the return of the East Tennessee property to the stockholders of the company. The lease dates back to July 1st. No action was taken on the overdue dividend on the East Tennessee preferred stock.

You are Right Brother.

The Norfolk Ledger. You don't believe that any amount of money corrupt a sufficient number of voters of the Old North State to induce them to entrust the management of affairs to that party, but the fact that such active exertions are being made at the instance of Mr. Morton should serve to stimulate the Democrats to increased efforts.

A Chinese laundryman in Baltimore was sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary for a felonious assault on a nine year old white girl.

Electro Lebration Machine.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Oct. 8.—Varicus reports, calculated to do injury to the Electro-lebration Co., have been circulated about the sum paid by Mr. Eugene Morehead for treatment for consumption by Dr. Sandel. The facts are that Mr. Morehead paid in full of all demands the sum of one thousand, one hundred and twenty-five dollars for treatment from Nov. 1st to April 17th. The net cost to this company was a little over one thousand dollars.

Our success here in curing yellow fever demonstrates that we have beyond question the only remedial agent worth trying for any disease, acute or chronic. We shall be in Washington, D. C., by Oct 25th, prepared to treat all cases that may be presented to us, rates proportionate to the service rendered. We solicit correspondence of all who have any ailment no matter what its character or development.

Very Respectfully,
JOHN N. WEBB,
Electro-lebration Co.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures, as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at R. Blacknall & Son Drug store.

The Western Sentinel charges Col. Dockery with shameful conduct at Winston. It says he invited negroes to his room, treated them to whiskey and made them drunk. One of his sable voters got so drunk on Dockery's whiskey he liked to die, and was not fit for work for over a week. This happened at Dockery's rooms at the Merchant's hotel.

And yet Third party men, Tatum, Rogers, Burkhead and others, are aiding with all their might to elect this man Governor of N. C.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise.—A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove pimples, boils, salt rheum and other affections caused by impure blood.—Will drive malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all malarial fevers.—For cure of headache.

WEAK BACK.

Not one man in five can boast of a strong back. There are many indiscretions producing this complaint, and it may be relieved by B. B. B. as witness the following:

BALTIMORE, May 23, 1887. For five years I have been suffering with a weak back from result of an injury received, attended by rheumatism. I had to give up my regular business and take the position of night watchman. I have derived great relief and benefit by using "Botanic Blood Balm," and have regained my strength sufficiently to resume my regular work. I think Botanic Blood Balm has given me permanent relief. I am now able to perform work that I have not had strength to do for five years, and cheerfully endorse B. B. B., which has proven to be the only medicine that would give me relief.
