The St. Paul Globe says: Republican Administration has been unsatisfactory to the farmers and working classes in South Dakota. Promises have been held to the ear only to be broken to the hope, just as has been done here in Minnesota. With fair promises of doing a great many things that were never intended to be fulfilled, the Republican leaders in South Dakota have sought to keep the farmers in line in support of the Republican party, just as the Republican leaders have been deluding the Minnesota farmers. It was presuming a great deal upon the ignorance and subservience of the agricultural classes to suppose that this chicanery could always be successful, yet the Republican leaders have been guilty of the presumption.

"IT'S GETTING DARK."

The Closing Scene in the Life Drama of Jos. J. Kelley.
Roanoke Herald

The death of this unfortunate gentleman was announced in the Herald on Sunday morning, and, from information derived from Dr. Gordon Simmons and other friends who soothed his dying hours, the closing scene was a most affecting one.

As the end drew near, he called repeatedly and piteously on "Father!" and "Mother!" and then exclaiming, "It's getting dark," he passed away before Father Lynch, who had been again summoned, could reach his bedside passed away, we trust, to realms of light eternal, where darkness never comes.

His father, William J. Kelley, of Baltimore, arrived by the morning and his mother by the evening train, and the remains were escorted by a large number of sympathizing friends to the depot, whence they were conveyed on the Shenandoah Valley road to his former home. He was twenty-seven years of age and a prominent member of the Kenilworth Club, of Baltimore.

AN ADDRESS.

To the Voters of North Carolina by the Democratic Executive Committee.

ROOMS OF STATE DEM. EX. COM.,
RALEIGH, N. C., June 16, 1890.

TO THE VOTERS OF NORTH CAROLINA:—At a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee, held in this city on the 10th instant, it was resolved that the Democratic State Convention be held in the city of Raleigh on Wednesday, the 20th of August, 1890.

It will devolve on this convention to nominate for vacancies now filled by appointment of the Governor a Chief Justice and one Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and Judges of the Superior Court for the First, Fourth, Fifth and Eighth Districts. Also Judges of the Superior Court for the Second, Sixth, Seventh and Eleventh Districts, to succeed the present incumbents, whose terms expire; and to adopt a platform of principles and for such other business as may properly come before it.

The convention is called to meet later than in 1888, to suit the convenience of the great masses of the Democratic voters, so that a fuller representation, reflecting a more general sentiment, may be insured; and it is desirable that the delegates shall attend.

The Democratic party congratulates the people of the State upon the material and moral advancement made under its beneficent administration of affairs, and, having redeemed its pledges in the past, presents its claims to them for a continuance of that confidence to which it is justly entitled, fully assured that they will be recognized, and the interests of all classes thus subserved.

The term for which Hon. Zebulon B. Vance has been elected to the Senate of the United States will expire next March, and the Legislature to be chosen this year will be called upon to fill it. It behooves us to see to it that no Republican is elected to the Senate from this State. The committee most earnestly requests a thorough, early organization in every township and county in the State. It is essential that this preliminary work shall be done at once, so that we may be ready for an active and energetic campaign as soon as the convention adjourns. It will not do to assume that our opponents, because they are inactive now, have no life. They can organize with celerity and stand ready to take advantage of any apparent leathery on our part; and, if we wish to prevent opposition, we must demonstrate, by our organization and strength, its futility. In 1882 over-confidence and apathy nearly resulted in the loss of the State, and again in 1886, from the same cause, the control of the House of Representatives of the State was lost to the Democrats and given to our opponents. Such a result must be carefully guarded against this year.

It is important that the various County Conventions be called at such times as will best suit the masses of the party, to the end that a full and free choice of candidates for the offices may be had and no discontent engendered.

The Republican party of to day is the same as in the dark days of Reconstruction, and only awaits the opportunity to inflict upon our people the same disgrace and humiliation. Its action in the Federal Congress indicates too plainly that it is the party of Force, without respect for law or order.

The despotic usurpations of the petty tyrant who has been placed by them in the Speaker's Chair only to dishonor it; the deprivation of legally elected Democrats of their seats in both branches of Congress and the seating of Republicans in their stead without the least vestige of right, for partizan purposes, and the effort to perpetuate themselves in power by the passage of a Federal Election Law by which the control of Congressional elections will be transferred from the State authorities to the hands of irresponsible agents—appointed at the dictation of unscrupulous partizans at the National Capital, thus striking a serious blow at our cherished institutions and the rights of the Sovereign States; the reckless appropriation of the public funds for illegal and unnecessary purposes, by which not only is the surplus left in the treasury at the end of Mr. Cleveland's benign administration, entirely swept away and a large deficit created but also the opportunity of giving relief from the burdens of taxation is retarded; all admonish us that our only safety lies in a return to Democratic rule in country and its continuance at home. Should they succeed in their aims we might expect Federal Supervisors backed by Federal bayonets at the polls, and a re-enactment of the scenes of 1868 in our own and sister States.

Utterly indifferent to the interests of the Southern farmer, all its legislation had been at our expense for the benefit of other interests and other sections, and the only hope of the agricultural South to throw off the legislative shackles that have crippled our prosperity and bound us to poverty is to move forward on the lines of those great principles of relief which the Democratic party has steadfastly advocated. To attain these ends the co-operation of all patriotic men who have at heart the prosperity of our agricultural and industrial interests and the material welfare of our southern people, is earnestly asked, and they are urged to enroll themselves beneath the Democratic banner.

Let every Democrat realize the responsibility that rests upon him and meet it. There can be no doubt of the grand victory if we do our full duty. Unceasing vigilance is the price which we must pay for success, but when we consider what defeat means to us, the sacrifice is small. Over estimate, rather than under estimate, the enemy and go into the fight determined to win it. We must prove equal to the emergency, and when the first Thursday in November shall have passed, victory will be ours and white supremacy, which is synonymous with Democratic rule, will be assured to us for a further term.

By the committee
ED. CHAMBERS SMITH,
Chairman.
B. C. BECKWITH,
Secretary

J. B. GATES, Sec'y.

The Way Gov. Buckner Does Things.

A little over-sensitiveness in matters of public responsibility is a wholesome thing. Governor Buckner, of Kentucky, was not legally responsible for the defalcation by which the state treasury had lost durper, his administration the sum of $50,000, but this was not the way in which he regarded it. He put his hand to his check book—he is a wealthy as well as an honest man—and paid over the full sum to reimburse the state. His conduct is worthy of commemoration in a day when this extreme sensitiveness of conscience in public officials is not the rule.

Chuck 'Em in and Bury 'Em Deep.

[Oil City Blizzard.]

When the corner-stone of the new city building is laid it would be a good idea to place under it, among other things, some of the city's antiquated specimens of humanity who oppose electric lights, street railways, free delivery, city buildings, hospitals, etc. Yes, chuck 'em in and bury 'em deep.

Sam Jones preached one of his best sermons last night, and ten thousand people listened to it with bated breath. The celebrated evangelist began his meetings in Richmond a week ago last Sunday and his popularity increased with each day of his stay. The almost unanimous opinion of those who heard him is that his preaching did a great deal of good. If he had done nothing but preach the sermon he did to those 12,000 men last Sunday afternoon his visit would have been worth a heap to the morals of Richmond. Mr. Jones left on the early train this morning for his home in Georgia, where he will take a needed rest for a day or two. His next meeting is in Norfolk and he will make things up there as sure as his name is Jones.

—Richmond State.

Sam Jones in Richmond.

Rev. Sam P. Jones closed a ten day's meeting in Richmond, Va., last Friday. We quote from the Times some things that was said and done at the close:

"VOTES TAKEN.

"Dr. Garland proposed a vote for all those in favor of Mr. Jones staying in Richmond to stand up. The vote was unanimous. Mr. Jones then made a statement. He said that some men were college-made, some were self-made, and some were made by God Almighty. "He made me, and I have not changed the job one bit. We people differ in a great many things, but we can never differ in regard to the truth; and I know the truth in these meetings has done a great deal of good. The sowing and reaping sermon was the one most kicked about, but, thank God, it did a great deal of good."

"THE BEER WAGON

"Mr. Jones then told of some prominent man who had heard the sermon and the next morning had told his wife that when the beer wagon stopped to let it pass on, and that he intended to break up the practice at his house of drinking wine or beer. That evening he came home and broke all the bottles of wine in the house. Continuing, he said: "What I said I said honestly, with a single eye to the good of the persons I was talking to. To you preachers I say preach the gospel, and I am going away, not for my sake, but for the truth; for I have preached nothing but the truth. And if you preachers don't preach the truth, the average member in your church will saddle and bridle you and ride you around the whole town."

"If you endorse me, I want you to endorse the animal in extenso. [All the preachers stood up.] You people stood up in endorsement of Sam Jones; but it is not an endorsement of me, but an endorsement of truth. I can tote my own skillet."

"CATYENNE PEPPER.

"Mr. R. H. Whitlock arose at this point, and said that he could not endorse Mr. Jones in everything he had said while in Richmond. "If you had used less cayenne pepper," he continued, "and more solid shots, you would have succeeded better."

"Mr. Jones was somewhat surprised, but at once replied. 'When a fellow has got sore spots he can't stand cayenne pepper.'

"This remark was a signal for the most unanimous applause that has ever been heard in the Tabernacle. Round after round of hand-clapping was indulged in, and the laughter bordered on boisterousness."

In displaying your judgment, don't put it in the wrong window.
