Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Shillit's Consumption Cure.
This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1. Porous Pfister, Sold by R. BLACKNALL & SON.

The people are tired of tricksters who cannot be relied upon. They want honest men in whom they can place confidence without fear of being betrayed. Cleveland gave the country an honest, clean and safe administration, and this is why the people want him again.

Those who are opposed to Force bills and monopolies will make the campaign lively for President Harrison. If he does not need something more than grandfather's hat before it is over, we will be greatly surprised.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. AUSTIN, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Eructation, Biliousness, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication."

"For several years I have recommended your 'Castoria,' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."

THE CERTAIN COMPANY, 17 HUDSON STREET, NEW YORK.

EX-SENATOR FARWELL, of Illinois, who was defeated about eighteen months ago by General John M. Palmer, has recently made a contribution to the campaign literature of the Republican party which will prove highly interesting, not only in Illinois, but throughout the country as well. He has written a letter to the editor of the Washington Post to inquire if Mr. Wm. J. Campbell, who was the choice of President Harrison for the position of Chairman of the National Republican Committee, is the same Wm. J. Campbell who was recommended by him (Farwell) three years ago for the position of Collector of Customs at Chicago—who had the endorsement of every Republican in the House from Illinois—and whose appointment was refused by the President on the ground that he was a "professional lobbyist and unfit for the position." The editor of the Post replies, "Yes, it is your Campbell," thus showing that Mr. Harrison is less careful about the character of appointees when sharp, shrewd political work is to be done, and he is to be the beneficiary, than he is when officers are to be appointed to transact the necessary business of the Government. The letter of Mr. Farwell will create a laugh throughout the country at the expense of the President, and at the same time will tend to enliven the campaign in Illinois. Evidently the defeated Senator has a poor opinion of the President's consistency in choosing men for important positions.

Chairman Simmons, If a change was to be made in the chairmanship of the State Committee, we do not know that a better selection could have been made than that agreed on by the committee Wednesday. Of the retiring chairman, Mr. Smith, we wish to say that he managed the last campaign with wisdom and prudence, and that he was untiring in his exertions. These are not mere words of compliment, but are our sentiments.

Hon. F. M. Simmons, the new chairman, enters upon the duties of the position with much experience, with ripe judgment, with a reputation for conservative views, and with the confidence of all who know him. He has been successful in conducting campaigns before this, and we may expect that he will arrange the details of the canvass so as to secure a victory both for the State and electoral tickets.

All Over this Country. The Arapahoe Indians are again indulging in the ghost dance, and the settlers are unduly alarmed.

The schooner Vera McLean, of and for St. John, from Boston, light, went ashore on Petit Manan, Me., during the storm Sunday afternoon. The crew landed safely.

In the district around Quebec prayers are being offered for the cessation of rain, while in Rimouski the supplication is for a few showers, as the crops are in danger from the drought.

Near Waynesville, N. C., Monday night, Grant Massey shot and instantly killed Lee Davis, a neighbor. Massey's wife, who was intimate with Davis, was the cause of the homicide.

Premier Dibbs of New South Wales will return to Australia via Canada. He will discuss with the Dominion Government proposals for a steamship line cables between Pacific ports in Canada and Australia.

The cattlemen who raided Johnson county were arranged before Judge Blake at Laramie, Wyo., yesterday, and pleaded not guilty to the charges of killing Kay and Champion and the burning of the Nolan ranch.

Wallie Connors, the noted New York bank sneak thief, was sentenced by Judge Reeder at Easton, Pa., yesterday, to three years and nine months' imprisonment for stealing $4,000 from the vault of the Easton Bank.

Get to Work. Well organized work is what is now needed in the Democratic ranks in this State and county. It would be well to get down to work, and that pretty quick.

Thorough organization in every township will be more effectual than a great many campaign speeches, though the speeches are also necessary.

The Atlanta Constitution, writing along this line, puts the matter in a nutshell, by saying: The committees will have to be organized; the literature must be provided; a fund must be raised and a corps of active workers must be organized.

It will not do in such a struggle to rely wholly upon a platform and a ticket. Our workers must get out among the people and sound the danger signal everywhere.

Inactivity among our leaders will cause apathy among the masses, and apathy is just what our opponents hope for.

A few speeches will not accomplish everything. From now until November what we need is work—intelligent work, organized work, determined, enthusiastic and untiring work! That's the way to win the fight.

The largest schooner in the last published government list is the Golden Age, 1,763 tons, built at Abbott's Bridge, Ohio, in 1883, and hailing from Sandusky.

HIS FIRST FEE.

A Soft-Hearted Bridegroom Who Pitted the Minister.

From the Detroit Free Press.
The Rev. Dr. Blank, now a prominent pastor of a prominent church, had his first charge in a country district, and he tells this story:

"The first couple I married," he says, "came to the house where I boarded and had my study, for I was a bachelor then, and they were genuine specimens of the rustic lover—tall and gawky, she awkward, but pink checked and pretty, as rustic beauty goes. They came in a wagon and it did not take long to perform the ceremony. After it was over I thought it my duty to kiss the bride, and bent forward to do so, when the groom laid his hand on my arm.

"No you don't, mister," he said, good naturedly. 'I'll tend to that part of it myself,' and he proceeded to do so vigorously.

"I smiled and offered no argument, and as they started out I followed them to the front door. There the groom invited me to come out to the wagon, where he had something for me. He helped the bride in, got in himself beside her on the board seat, and reaching down behind him he lifted out a sack of potatoes and handed them over to me. I thanked him and took them as my fee, and was about to tell him good-bye, when the groom, proudly looking at the girl and at me, said:

"Ain't she a beauty, mister?"

"Very handsome," I admitted.

"Nothin' purtier in the country, is there?" he chuckled her under the chin.

"Not that I have seen, I'm sure," I assented cordially.

"Air you married?" he asked. "I thought."

"I'm sorry to say I'm not," I confessed.

"Ain't got no wife."

"No," I said.

"Nothin' like this in the house?" and again he chuckled the blushing bride under the chin.

"No, I'm all alone."

I guess there must have been a touch of sadness or regret in my voice, for the groom's face took on the grace of sympathy.

"Look here, mister," he said, "I'll tell you what I'll do. If you'll give me back them taters and half a dollar to boot I'll be blamed if you can't kiss the bride!"

"Of course I couldn't be so ungracious as to refuse the offer if indeed it would have been safe to have done so, and, handling over the potatoes and the only half dollar I had, I gracefully saluted the bride and sent them both on their way with my blessings."

One and One.
One I love,
One I love,
Is he false or true?

Perhaps he loves with all his heart;
Perhaps I am a little part.
Yes or no?

One I love,
One I love,
Little, little smile!

Will you shine just for today?
Will you last and last away?
Yes or no?

Two I love,
Two I love,
Two blue eyes I love!

Summerskies they, too, are blue,
But no clearer than are you—
One and one!

Two I love,
Two I love,
Two lips in a kiss!

Flower-honey to the bee
Sweeter cannot surely be,
One and one!

One I love,
Two I love,
Honey must be sweet!

Skies believe blue's always true,
Then, my love, I doubt not you,
One, two, yes!

Capt. Alexander Writes Again.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
U. S., WASHINGTON, D. C.,
July 1, '92.

W. P. Oldham, Esq.:
DEAR SIR—Your letter of the 29th, stating that you wrote the undersigned letter, received. In the letter to Col. Moore I stated from information relating to some of my critics, etc., I did not refer to all of them.

When I stated in that letter I supported the State and national ticket it did not occur to me that any one would doubt that I endorsed the State and national platforms any more than one would doubt a Presbyterian endorsing the "Confession of Faith." But that you may not misunderstand me, I state that I endorse the Democratic State platform made by the Democratic convention held in the city of Raleigh, N. C., in May last, and the Democratic platform made by the national Democratic convention held in the city of Chicago, Ill., held June last. I have been in every campaign since the war—sometimes as a private, sometimes as an officer, and have done my duty to the Democratic party as best I could. If there be some who want to fight me for the nomination or even scratch me at an election they have a right to do so. The Democratic party has always contended for the greatest liberty to the citizens. And while I would appreciate a re-nomination I would not have any one vote for me who is conscientiously opposed to me.

Yours truly,
S. B. ALEXANDER,
—Wilmington Messenger.

SOME queer things creep into the modern politics, particularly of the party which dare not fight for the main issue upon a square basis. The Republican platform dare not stand upon McKinleyism, yet dare not eliminate it; it dare not endorse free silver coinage, nor dare ignore it; it dare not endorse Tourgeism, nor dare not the "bloody flag," nor dare it advocate reciprocity, or declare against it. As the New York Journal of Commerce very truthfully says: It favors bimetalism and "demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money," but does not say how it expects to enforce that demand so to keep two metals at par on a fixed ratio when one of them is constantly declining in market value. It expresses a yearning for an honest ballot, but does not define this term, leaving it to apply alike to the due enforcement of a contract for votes in "blocks of five," with which its authors have been too familiar, and to the unbiased and unbought exercise of the elective franchise. It condemns, as we all do, jynching at the South, but makes no allusion to the recent outrages of like character in a more northern latitude.

Death of Young Herndon.
W. T. Herndon, a nephew of M. C. and W. B. Herndon, living near Berea church, some five or six miles from town, died this morning about 7 o'clock from typhoid fever. He was sick about one week, having taken his bed today a week ago. He was twenty five years of age and leaves a mother, two brothers, a sister and a large circle of relatives and friends. He was an industrious farmer, had joined the church about six months ago and his death is attended with peculiar sadness, as he was engaged to be married to-morrow to a young lady in his neighborhood.

Big Excursion.
The managers of the big excursion which leaves for Norfolk, July 14, have succeeded in getting specially low rates. On steamboat from Norfolk to Washington and return, only $3.00.

Also the hotels have offered to accommodate the people at the following out prices: New Atlantic, $2.00; Purcell, $1.50; Granberry House, $1.00; and other smaller boarding houses at still lower prices. For further particulars address the managers. FREELAND & CHRISTIAN.

Mr. Cleveland Writes a Word About North Carolina.
Wilmington had a big ratification meeting Wednesday night. The following letter was read by the chairman:

GRAY GABLES, BUZZARD'S BAY, MASS., June 30th 1892.

Wm. R. Kenan, Esq., Ch'm, Etc.:
MY DEAR SIR:—It would give me great pleasure to be present at the ratification meeting to be held in Wilmington on the 6th day of July; but I regret to say that I am unable to accept your courteous invitation. I hope your meeting will be a successful and enthusiastic one, demonstrating that the principles of Democracy still hold the allegiance of North Carolina. The hope which our opponents sometimes profess to entertain, that through discontent and division among the Democrats of your State, we can no longer rely upon her steadfastness, seems to me preposterous. The people of North Carolina understand well the doctrines and purpose of the Democratic party. They know, because they have felt, the determination of the party to protect them from evil and secure to them the rights and benefits due to them under our institutions. They know that its efforts in this direction have grown out of, and are the result of, party principle and are not in the least discredited by the shallow pretences of demagogism. They know, too, that the mission of the Democratic party has not changed, and they cannot fail to see that the most fearful menace all they have and all they are, if temporary hardship or delusion or irritation should swerve them from Democratic allegiance.

I cannot think that in the most important and vital struggle immediately awaiting us, North Carolina will be found anywhere but in her accustomed place.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) GROVER CLEVELAND.

Motions for Investigation Committees in Both Houses.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—The conflict between the workingmen at Carnegie's works at Homestead, Pa., and the Pinkerton Detectives was called to the attention of the Senate first by Mr. Gallinger, who offered a resolution for an investigation committee on education and labor; and afterwards by Mr. Peffer, who proposed the appointment of a select committee of three Senators, "of different political parties," to inquire into the existence of employment of Pinkerton detectives since their first appearance in the United States; how they are organized, how, for what purpose and by whom employed, and what legislation is necessary to prevent their further illegal use and employment.

The first official recognition in Congress of the troubles at the Homestead, Pa., mills appeared yesterday when Representative Camentiti introduced a resolution calling for the appointment of a select committee to investigate them.

We have received a copy of the Prospectus of the Normal and Industrial School. This is the new State College for girls and women, established by the last Legislature, and located at Greensboro. It will begin its first year's work on the 28th of September.

It has an able faculty, and will do a high grade of work. It is gratifying to see from the Prospectus that while the faculty represents the culture and training of the leading colleges throughout the country, yet every member of the faculty, except one, is a native of the South, and over half of them are North Carolinians. The main work of the institution will be in the Collegiate, Normal, Business and Domestic Science Departments. Vocal Music and Elocution, Industrial Art, and Physical culture under the direction of a resident female physician, will be special features. There is no better place anywhere for a North Carolina woman to receive a good strong education.

The institution is supported largely by the State and the Peabody fund, and, therefore, while the opportunities for culture are the very best, the expenses are exceedingly moderate. Address President McIver at Greensboro.

Electropoise

SIMPLE IN CONSTRUCTION, PERMANENT IN DURATION, EASILY APPLIED, IT'S SKILLFUL USE QUICKLY LEARNED

The Electropoise is an Instrument for the Cure of Disease Without Medicine.

BASED on new theories of the cause and cure of disease, it deals with the electrical and magnetic conditions of the body and the gases surrounding it in the atmosphere, controlling the these conditions at will. It is NOT ELECTRICITY. DISEASE is simply impaired vitality. The Electropoise constantly adds to the vitality and only assists NATURE, IN NATURE'S WAY, to throw off the trouble.

A 40-page book, describing treatment and containing testimonials from all sections, and for the cure of all diseases, mail FREE on application. Address ATLANTIC ELECTROPOISE CO., Washington, D. C. Charleston, S. C. Atlanta, Ga.
