

POSSIBILITIES OF SCIENCE.

Again, in what physiologists now call the hypnotic state, it is clear that the commands issued even from afar by one who had produced that hypnotic state, and even by others to whom he has transmitted his authority, are heard and obeyed. We have no notion how they are so heard and obeyed. But it is clear that what is audible or visible to one organ in a state artificially produced by what we call the hypnotic trance, without in the least knowing what it means, might well be audible or visible to a differently constituted organ in its natural state. And therefore it is not at all impossible that there are in existence organs which convey to other creatures, without any hypnotizing, those same messages which only become articulate to us under conditions which resemble the sudden giving out of what is called "latent heat" by the physicists.

But if any one supposes that what is now established as "thought reading" is due to the carrying of a new kind of quasi electric message through the ether, and that the exercise of a strong volition renders this thought reading possible—so that an organization properly qualified for the purpose, as a hypnotizer may be supposed to be, can, as it were, speak to a distant friend by force of will alone without uttering any audible sound—we do not know to what developments this kind of sympathetic whispering may not lead. Apparently organizations not naturally qualified for thought reading may, by the help of the hypnotizer, be artificially rendered sensitive of these more or less subconscious communications, so as to result in actions which would ordinarily be interpreted as proceeding from knowledge of what is at a distance and far out of the hearing or sight of the person who appears to be influenced by that knowledge. In other words, on this theory of the phenomena, vibrations of the ether, which would otherwise be lost upon a man may, by careful preparation, gain access to him, just as vibrations of sound, which are otherwise lost, so preserved by the telephone as to be audible within two or three hundred miles.

Now, if by what we usually call a mere moral effort, a thought or even a sentence, can be directed to a given rain, just as the apparatus of the telephone directs it, there is no particular reason why some means should not be found of intercepting some of the lower animals and another, so as to tap them in the same way in which an electrician at an intermediate point taps the electric cable of a message intended for a more distant goal. And so the fair story fancy that a man might be endowed as to overhear the conversations of insects or birds might be realized. All these speculations are of course pure dreams, but they are dreams which are suggested as not altogether impossible, but the extraordinary extension of the possibilities of a vibrating ether, accepted by the science of our day. To the generation which has become familiar with the phonograph and thought reading it will hardly seem a sheer impossibility that we might one day be able to arrest and decipher the less intricate messages of purely instinctive import which pass between the ants of a single nest, or the rooks of a single rookery, or the chimpanzees of a single family. Indeed the last feat has, according to an American naturalist, been partially accomplished already by the help of the phonograph, though not by virtue of anything analogous to the thought or feeling reading between man and man.—London Spectator.

When all the fellows who want office get a job, the national capital will have to be moved down to Texas to give them standing room. And even then there will be a few more to be accommodated.—Pottstown Star.

DA. G. C. OSOONO, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KIRCHELO, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.
"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Sprain cured and crutches thrown away. Bad Gall on his horse's neck cured in 3 days.

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 11, 1900.
Lyon Mfg. Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Gentlemen:—For fifteen years I have used Mexican Mustang Liniment, and I consider it the best liniment on earth. I am never without it. I recently used it on a bad gall on my horse's neck and it cured it in three days. I had, also, a bad sprain in my leg and had to use crutches several days. As soon as I began to use Mustang Liniment I felt relief, and in a few days was entirely well. I recommend it to anyone needing a liniment for horses or for self, with confidence that they will get their money's worth. Yours,

Don't Buy Any Seed YOU CAN GET 30 PAPER FREE.
All our readers need either FLOWER OR VEGETABLE SEED, and believing that we should not make an offer that would be more appreciated than to give 30 Papers of Seed to Each of our Readers, we concluded to make arrangements for enough seed to supply all our readers with this quantity, and do not propose to charge them even postage on same.
What Kind of Seed are They?
Naturally you ask the question, for it is all-important that only good seed be planted, if good crops are expected. The seed we offer you were collected, and offered for sale by an expert, who was awarded Medal and Diploma by World's Fair Authorities For Best Collection.
We therefore presume that the seed collected by him are the best to be had, and you need not fear that they are not of the best quality.
They are not a cheap inferior seed, as the proprietor could not afford to send out that kind now in the beginning of his seed business.
Why We do This.
Because we wish to save our readers money and thus gain their good will. We believe that your neighbor will wish to read our paper just as much as we wish to have them read it.
