

THE DURHAM RECORDER.

E. C. HACKNEY,
PROPRIETOR.

WEDNESDAY, June 5, 1895.

Governor Evans, of South Carolina, according to the dispatches from Columbia, is clearly guilty of an act of rebellion against the United States in ordering his dispensary police to seize all liquor they can find which does not bear the brand of the State stores. This is a defiance of the injunction recently issued by Federal Judge Simonton, who decided that it was a violation of the inter-State commerce law to confiscate the liquid refreshments imported from another State by South Carolina gentlemen for the use of themselves and their friends.

The grand jury of Danville, Illinois, where the late lynching of two white braves occurred by the mob, had adjourned without indicting a single one of the party engaged in it, though nearly all of them were well known. The jury also refused to endorse the efforts of the judge, sheriff and mayor of the town to preserve order there. We hope our Northern contemporaries will not fail to give due publicity to this proceeding of lawless lynching, and to state distinctly that it occurred in Danville, Illinois, a Northern State, and not in Danville, Ky., in the South.—Lynchburg News.

On Miss Winnie Davis' departure at the close of the reunion at Houston, Texas week before last she said with feeling: "This has been one of the happiest weeks of my life." She was sought after and regarded with positive adoration and she received all manifestations with the simple graciousness, depth of feeling and womanliness so strongly characteristic of her. When ex-Governor Lubbock of Texas, went up to shake hands with her and said: "My child, it was I who carried you in my arms into the prison to your father." Minnie Davis threw her arms around the old man's neck and mingled her tears with his and not a looker-on could claim a dry eye as his own. She gave her hand to the roughest old soldier as heartily as she gave it to Generals Gordon, Joseph Wheeler or A. P. Stewart.

Mr. Romero, the Mexican Minister at Washington, gives his views in the North American Review of the experience of Mexico under the silver standard. The silver standard in Mexico is familiar enough, however, to Americans who travel and have business ventures in that country and who find the silver dollar of the United States readily exchanged for two of the Mexican kind. In Mr. Romero's view, "such an exchange means that the Mexican dollar is sold for the price of the bullion it contains, while the United States silver dollar is the representative of a gold dollar, and is therefore merchandise bought to pay debts in the United States and Europe." This is the clear view of a Mexican who may not intend a warning by it but nevertheless provides one to the effect that coinage in this country would be attended by the same results.

Evangelist Oakes having taken the famous Keely cure now returns to North Carolina, and in a sermon delivered at Faisons last Sunday week declared himself to be free from the thirst of liquor for the first time since he was a child. So says an exchange.

A curiosity from the sea is a porcupine fish, exhibited in the Haberdasher's window. It is as round as a ball, will about fit a peck measure, and is ringed with spikes from one to three inches in length. Mr. Chas. Moseley bought the fish at Southport. It came from the Indian ocean.—Charlotte News.

The Lenoir Topic has a foreman, Horton by name, who for fast type setting is a record breaker, having recently surpassed all previous efforts made in these parts, and set up in one hour 1,728 ems. This is dood work—a regular machine.

The Roxboro Courier says: The distillery of Colonel D. M. Andrews was seized by Deputy Collector S. G. Woods last Wednesday evening. The distillery was not running, and we understand that the officers, Messrs. Mabane and Causey, who examined and recommended the seizure, reported the warehouse and books of Mr. W. R. McBroom, the former storekeeper, all right in every particular.

Mr. J. E. Buchanan, a merchant of Manly, Moore county, has a unique way of catching a thief. He does the work with a steel trap, and successfully it works, too, for having missed several things from his store, he became pretty well satisfied that some one had a key, so he set the trap, and on going in after breakfast and found his cook fast, with $25 taken from the drawer. The Burlington News is responsible for this.

Mr. Albert G. Corpening, of North Carolina, proposes putting up a canning establishment this summer. The Morganton Herald says: "Mr. Albert G. Corpening, of North Carolina, is preparing to go into the canning business on a large scale. He has visited the large canneries of Eastern North Carolina and made himself familiar with the details, and purchased a complete plant of the most improved pattern. Peaches and tomatoes will be the principal fruits canned. Mr. Corpening has on his farm a very large peach orchard and has this season planted over five acres in tomato plants.

Wilmington Star: We hear much of a fifty-cent dollar these days, and much protesting by the anti-silver writers and speakers that it would be dishonest to pay a dollar debt with a fifty-cent dollar. As far as the people of this country are concerned the fifty-cent dollar is a pure assumption, for there are no fifty-cent dollars. It is only when we encounter the Government bondholder that the silver dollar becomes dwarfed and ceases to be a dollar. This doesn't affect the dollar which our people take and use in their business, for it passes for what it is stamped for, but it does affect the full usefulness of the dollar, and it affects the value of the bullion out of which the dollar is made. This is not the fault of the dollar, but the result of legislation which made the fifty-cent silver dollar which the advocates of "honest money" inveigh so much against.

THE CLOSE.

The Alumni association of Trinity college held their annual meeting in the chapel of the college inn, yesterday at 4 p. m., Prof. J. S. Bassett, president in the chair.

The annual address was omitted this year on account of the absence of the orator.

There were found to be four vacancies in the board of trustees and Messrs. Robert B. Durham, G. S. Bradshaw, Dr. J. C. Brown, and Hon. B. F. Long were nominated to fill the vacancies.

Rev. J. B. Hurley, of Oxford, was elected to deliver the oration before the association next year.

On the advice of President Kilgo, it was decided to establish county alumni associations in every county in the state and Rev. T. N. Ivey, Dr. J. C. Brown and Rev. J. E. Thompson were appointed a committee to select presidents for each county organization and report their action at the banquet last night.

It is intended to operate these associations on the university extension plan.

The object of the organization is to enable Trinity boys to help the masses of the people by the education they have obtained.

Mr. Kilgo's plan is for the college professors to attend these associations and mingle with the masses of the people and let them know that Trinity college feels an interest in them. It was also decided to extend membership in the association to all college students of Trinity. It has been the custom heretofore not to allow any to join but graduates of the college.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President—Prof. J. S. Bassett. Secretary and Treasurer—C. E. Turner.

Vice President—R. B. Hall.

THE BANQUET.

The commencement exercises of Trinity college came to an end last evening with the annual banquet held at Trinity Inn. The immense dining hall was full of joyous students—old students and their wives, mothers and sweethearts.

The affair was a complete success and showed much wisdom in planning. G. S. Bradshaw was master of ceremonies, and did his part well.

The different toasts and the menu are given below:

TOASTS.

"Our President."—Rev. Andrew P. Tyer.
"Ante-Bellum Days of College Life."—Rev. W. C. Wilson.
"Class of '95"—Charles E. Turner.
"Response"—Rev. T. A. Smoot.
"The Women of the Old North State, Especially the Mothers, Wives and Sweethearts of the Alumni"—Stonewall Durham.
"Conclusion of the Whole Matter"—Rev. John C. Kilgo.

MENU.

Grated Ham. Chicken Salad.
Lobster Salad with Mayonnaise.
Pickles. Olives. Biscuits. Crackers.
Vanilla Ice Cream.
Pineapple Ice Cream.
Lemon Ice Cream.
Strawberries from Barnes' Farm.
Chocolate Cake. Lemon Cake.
Assorted Cakes.
California Grapes.
Florida Oranges.
Georgia Peaches.
Royster's Candies.
Ceylon Tea with Lemon and Ice.
Mocha Coffee.

The speeches were all very fine and abounded with wit of the first order.

Dr. Kilgo made the closing speech and completely captivated the audience.

He spoke in glowing terms of his faith in Trinity's future, and declared that he believed it was destined to be the greatest institution in the south and called attention to the fact that the board of trustees and constituency represented the greater portion of the wealth in North Carolina. The speech carried the audience by storm and round after round of applause compelled him to stop.

We would like to give a synopsis of all the speeches, they all deserved it, but have not the space. In some respects this has been one of the greatest commencements Trinity ever had. Her sky looks brighter now than ever before, and we confidently predict that it is destined to be among the greatest seats of learning in all the lands.
