

THE DURHAM RECORDER.

E. C. HACKNEY,

PROPRIETOR

WEDNESDAY, June 19, 1895.

SENATOR SMITH, of New Jersey, says on a subject in which Democrats are greatly interested: "I am not committed to any candidate yet, but it goes without saying the Hon. William C. Whitney would make a most admirable President. He is popular; he is conservative; he is able, and he would unite the Democratic party. I think he would poll the entire Democratic strength."

The decision of the Illinois Supreme Court declaring the Whisky Trust an illegal combination in restraint of trade and in contravention of sound public policy is not the first judicial declaration against trusts, but it seems to be the first rendered by a court of last resort which smokes out a trust from its attempted concealment behind a corporate charter. The Whisky Trust calls itself the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company, but the court holds that this is only another name for the old Distillers' Cattle Feeding Trust.

Trees already grown or partially grown are of inestimable value to a city, says an exchange. They are sources of health and gratification, not only to their owners, but to all who live near them and pass by them. They are quasi-public property. It takes years to replace them. The cutting of a beautiful tree, unless absolutely necessary, is in the nature of a crime against the community. We need all the trees we have and as many more as we can get.

ONE of the planks of the Iowa platform is indicative of the increasing wrath of the Populists at the fact that so many contracts are being made payable in gold in order that the creditor may be sure that he will be paid finally in 100-cent dollars and not in 50-cent silver or 5-cent fiat scrip ones, says the Chicago Tribune. The Iowa farmer who sells his land on time does not want to be cheated in his old age out of half the earnings of his lifetime, and he stipulates for payment in gold. The Iowan who has saved up a little money and lends it to a neighbor to improve his property with, lends dollars which are as good as gold and he stipulates for repayment in gold dollars. In the hope of stopping the making of these lawful contracts, which will protect some creditors in the event of a flood of cheap silver or cheaper paper, Iowa Populists "demand a State tax of 10 per cent. upon all future contracts made payable in gold, the same to be paid by the holder."

It is a rare thing to find the iron market advancing and booming along without the aid of the railroads, but that is the singular situation today, says the Philadelphia Times. The past week presents an unbroken record of advances and has been one of the most stirring in the history of the trade. The Iron Age, in its summary, shows that this upward tendency has developed without the powerful aid of heavy purchases on the part of the railroads, the principal consumers, and the Central West leads in the general growth. Evidently the good, all-round work of the new tariff schedule is trimming industrial sails in ways of prosperity that even its enemies must acknowledge as the material facts come to light.

Sound money sentiment, says the Baltimore News, is being aroused in all sections of the country. Since the beginning of the crusade against the free silver movement of the South, inaugurated by Congressman Josiah Patterson, of Tennessee, there has been a decided revolution of feeling in that section on the subject and large numbers of former staunch supporters of false financial theories have come out openly in favor of a stable currency.

There has never been any doubt as to the position of a majority of the business men of the South on the currency question. They have all along been in favor of a dollar that would be accepted at its face value in all countries, but the major portion of the farming and industrial working communities has been lead astray by the silver leaders, who, in the absence of any attempt, until quite recently, to refute their statements, have made the people believe that their prosperity and the prosperity of the country depended upon the adoption by this government of free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. But these followers of the western silver mine owners are now realizing that they have been duped in supporting such a crime, and they are abandoning it without ceremony.

One of the most hopeful features of the situation is the pronounced stand in favor of honest money taken by several of the most influential southern papers that have been heretofore for free silver. Sound money clubs are being organized in nearly every southern state, and will be a tower of strength to the cause they represent.

Miss Pescud was burned about the neck and shoulders, and Mr. Pescud about the arms. Although the
