I am Very Truly, E. C. HACKNEY.

Pueblo, Col., Jan. 18.

THE consensus of the Republican meet in Raleigh indicates fusion in State affairs with separate electoral tickets.

WHEN Professor Roentgen's X rays are so perfected a newspaper reporter can put one in his pocket and have it register what is in the brain of passing people, it will be highly appreciated.

CONGRESS continues to talk about the Cuban affair, but does nothing. It reminds us of the bladders boys blow up at hog killing. Stick a pin in it—and—s-u-i-i-d-e. The wind is let out, and its only a limp rag.

THE New York Mercury is after the chamber of commerce in that city with a full head of steam on. It says the chamber "just missed making an ass of itself again yesterday," from which we infer it had before accomplished that feat, which they attempted to repeat.

Advanced Civilization.

Ruskin, who was considered standard authority on such matters, said years ago that neither free trade, over production, or ought else would cheapen the value of brains. We are not quoting him verbatim, but giving the sense of his remark. Most probably the statement was true when uttered but it is not now. It might have been if brains had been true to themselves—had not prostituted themselves to the lust of greed and gold in the open market. In this age of so called advanced civilization, there is no incentive for the man of money to educate and inform himself for the business of life—he can hire what knowledge he needs in any department at less cost and time than it requires for him to learn it. This state of things has brought about such competition for bare subsistence among those who have spent their substance and the flower of their youth in pursuit of valuable knowledge, that ground down by the merciless shysters, they are forced to put their brain on the market, and take whatever it will bring. Nor would this be so intolerable, if there was a proper gradation of prices. There is not. Ability is sold like tobacco in the warehouse floor—sawdust lugs some times bringing as much as the best wrappers—because, we suppose the buyer has no discrimination, or because lugs are the same as wrappers to him.

Advanced civilization should also mean advanced religion and morality—humanity at least. But, does it? True it has organized societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals. The horses, dog, and other brutes of the rich are treated with kindness and every comfort, while human beings, quite or more than their equals in all that goes to make humanity respectable, unless veneered with gold tinsel, are less considered than their beast of burden.

When brains, forgetting what Burns said of "man's inhumanity to man," first prostituted themselves to the golden calf for the oppression of their kind, they did not expect to be themselves caught in Moloch's maelstrom. Yet today muscle and brute force bring more on the market than the combined accomplishments of an erudite scholar.

A Gold Candidate.

If the national democratic party or any other party, expects to elect a president solely by the vote of New York City and the eastern states, independently of the balance of the country, it will be all right to nominate a single gold standard candidate, and John G. Carlisle will fill the bill as well as another; if it expects the west and south to have a voice in the matter, and wants to bury the party beyond the hope of resurrection, let them adopt a gold platform and enthrone Jno. G. Carlisle in its center.

As Gorman shattered, shattered and scattered the democrats of Maryland, John G. has entombed them in Kentucky, and he has the ability and tenacity of purpose to render like results to the national democracy. The voice of people and press will howl unceasingly against such departure from our ancient landmarks, and the majority in each and every party will refuse to support such a candidate. The time has come when the yeomanry of the country, upon whose shoulders the safety of our liberties depend, can be no longer driven by the party lash to violate principle and self interest at any ones dictation. The people of the country have waked up and will kick off the shackles of moneyed oppression.

All Together.

Any man who talks to the people or reads the papers, is aware that the democratic party in North Carolina is terribly split up. Its leading organs have sounded this for some time and have been counseling unison on the fundamental principles of the party without avail. Nothing political is more certain than a complete stampede of democratic forces unless they "get together" quickly and largely. Interested parties had as well consider the matter seriously or submit to a knock out in the first round.

The populist and republican can and do get together whenever it answers the purpose of party ends, while the democrats of North Carolina, viewed from a non partisan standpoint, appear to be so badly flushed it will take an adroit man to yelp them up. Yet, no one of its champions throws himself in the breach to take chances of immolation on the party altar. Perhaps though some statesman of that faith is gathering his strength quietly—waiting for the turbid waters to settle ere he launches his ark.

Heard From.

In the elaborate account of the political gathering at Raleigh, yesterday's News and Observer quotes our townsman, Maj. W. A. Guthrie, as saying: "I am a candidate for the Populist nomination for Governor, and myself or some other populist will be nominated, and meet all comers at the cross roads."

This settles the question as to whether the populist would put up a candidate beyond all question of doubt. The major is authority, and means what he said. He was not talking through his hat, nor is the Herald when it predicts that Major Guthrie will be the nominee. Opponents can make their slates on this basis.

Strictly In It.

The Charlotte News, of the 17, has an item from which some idea can be formed of the number of newspapers using ready prints. The number, we suppose, includes several states. It says: The Southern Union plant in this city is being equipped with new presses, better facilities having been made necessary by its increased business. It is the largest ready print house between New York and Atlanta, and furnishes ready prints for 120 papers. The business here is well managed and the sheets sent out by the Charlotte house are peculiarly adapted to this section.

Death of Capt. Conrad.

GREENSBORO, N. C. March 17.—Mr. William Conrad, post-office inspector, was found dead in his room this morning at 5 o'clock. He was with a party of friends until 11 o'clock Saturday night, and then went to his room in the Y. M. C. A. building. Sunday morning he sent for the doctor and he said he had some congestion of the lungs or heart, but did not think it was serious. Last night at 9 o'clock, he was suffering very much, but he said he thought he would get through the night all right. The janitor of the building said he would stay with him or in the building. The janitor saw him at about 1 o'clock, and he seemed to be resting fairly. When he went to the room again at 5 o'clock he was dead. His family live in Washington, D. C., and the sad news was telegraphed to his wife at once.

Tough Judgment.

PHILADELPHIA, March 17.—Judge Butler, in the United States circuit court this morning, overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of the officers of the steamer Horsa, who were convicted of beginning a military expedition for the carrying of men and arms to Cuba to assist in the war against Spain, and passed sentence upon the prisoners.

The captain, J. H. S. Wiborg, was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and costs and to undergo an imprisonment of one year and four months in the Eastern penitentiary.

The mates, Jens P. Petersen and Hans Johansen, were sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and costs and to imprisonment of eight months each in the county prison.

"Go to the South."

That is what Chauncey Dewey says after a trip to this land of unlimited resources. "The net result of this visit to the South, to my mind, is just this—that the South is the Bonanza of the future. We have developed all the great and sudden opportunities for wealth—or most of them—in the Northwestern States and on the Pacific Slope, but there is a vast country with the best climate in the world, with conditions of health which are absolutely unparalleled with vast forests untouched, with enormous veins of coal and iron which have yet not known anything beyond their original conditions, with soil that, under proper cultivation, for little capital can support a tremendous population; with conditions in the atmosphere for comfortable living winter and summer, which exists nowhere else in the country; and that it is to be the attraction for the young who go out from the farms to seek settlement and not by immigration from abroad, for I do not think they will go that way, but by the internal immigration from our own country it is to become in time as prosperous as any other section of the country, and as prosperous by purely American development."

It developed here in a trial a few days ago that a negro woman married a decrepid old colored man for his property—a steer, an old Jersey buggy, and a ham of meat. She didn't care for any of your empty titles of foreign nobility. She chose wealth.—Rockingham Index.

Walked with Crutches Rheumatism—Eczema—Swelled Neck—Hood's Cured.

"For two years I have been sick, having been confined to the house for a year. I have had eczema for nine years, having killed physicians, but received no benefit. Last winter I caught cold and became afflicted with Rheumatism, which put me on crutches. Last July I commenced to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished one bottle I laid the crutches aside. After taking two bottles the eczema had left me and I was almost entirely free from the effects of a swelled neck. I know that it is Hood's Sarsaparilla that cured me and I think it cannot be recommended too highly. Although 57 years old, I feel young again." Mrs. S. P. SIMMONS, East Springfield, Ohio.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Is the Only True Blood Purifier Prominently in the public eye today. Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25c.
