How Much Could You Get For Your Farm?

You are a farmer. You live near this town. You own land. Let us say that you own more than you need and would like to sell a hundred acres.

How much could you get per acre? Land values have risen lately. But has the value of your land risen as you think it should?

Your land is good land. You think it is worth considerably more than anybody has offered you. Well, let us see.

A man buying farm land naturally prefers to locate near a thriving, up to date town. He wants good home markets for his crops. He wants good schools.

Let us say your land is three miles from town. A farm that looks very much like yours is three miles from a town twice as big and twice as prosperous as this town.

If you were going to buy a farm for your own occupancy, wouldn't you pay a whole lot more for land near the town that is twice as large and twice as lively?

Of course you would. It would be good business.

Now, what makes a town big and bustling? Money. Money in circulation. Not in circulation in Chicago, for instance, but right in the town that wants to grow.

How much money have you sent to the big Mail Order houses in the city the past ten years? How much have your neighbors sent? How much have all of you together put out of circulation here at home?

It is probably beyond calculation. If all that money had been spent in your own home town, isn't it reasonable to assume that the town would have grown more than it has grown?

Wouldn't this town be a bigger and better town?

Wouldn't it have more stores to buy your produce?

Wouldn't it have more public improvements to make it more attractive to outsiders who might come here to live, to go into business, or buy your surplus land at a good figure?

Walker to Be Hanged.
The trial of Tom Walker, the negro of Fayetteville that killed two policemen sometime ago because they attempted to break up his blind tiger, was halted Tuesday on account of the fact that the prisoner attempted to kill himself by butting out his own brains against the cell. The trial was postponed until he was able to attend.

Fayetteville, N. C., March 27.
—The death watch is set over Tom Walker. He will pay the penalty of his crime of double murder on Friday, April 15. It took the jury but fifteen minutes to return a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree on the charge of killing Chief of Police J. A. Chason on the night of March 2nd. The killing at the same time of Officer Lockamy was also proved. The verdict was rendered at seven minutes past three o'clock. The jury was selected yesterday, and starting at 9:30 this morning the state had made out its case at 11 o'clock.

"Tell them I know they'll find me guilty but I'm sorry for what I done and ask the people to forgive me," was the message he requested Sprunt Newton, one of his attorneys, to give to the court. "Ask the judge to give me as much time as he can, so I can prepare to meet my Maker," he added.

This afternoon Walker was sitting up and said he was sorry he tried to commit suicide yesterday. Were it not for his bandaged head, the result of his horrible attempt, it could not have been told from his appearance. Dr. Rose stated that Walker was able to proceed with the trial, and he was brought in on a cot. In an hour and a half Solicitor Sinclair had made out a strong and convincing case for the State. Q. K. Nimocks assisted in the prosecution.

Again the court room was packed almost to suffocation. There has been no demonstration whatever at any time since the negro was returned from the penitentiary Monday. It was deemed best, however, to have the soldiers, thirty in number, under command of Major J. C. Vann, to guard the jail last night, though nothing happened to break their monotony. The two young attorneys are being congratulated on the manner in which they conducted the defense. The prosecution was handled masterly. The public is content, the law satisfied.

The University of Virginia's new pipe organ, the gift of Andrew Carnegie, has been formally dedicated.

Verdict for Dr. Pierce

AGAINST THE Ladies' Home Journal.

Sending truth after a lie. It is an old maxim that "a lie will travel seven leagues while truth is getting its boots on," and no doubt hundreds of thousands of good people read the unwarranted and malicious attack upon Dr. R. V. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription" published in the May (1904) number of the Ladies' Home Journal, with its great black display headings, who never saw the humble groveling retraction, with its inconspicuous heading, published two months later. It was boldly charged in the slanderous and libelous article that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for the cure of woman's weaknesses and ailments, contained alcohol and other harmful ingredients. Dr. Pierce promptly brought suit against the publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal, for $200,000.00 damages.

Dr. Pierce alleged that Mr. Bok, the editor, maliciously published the article containing such false and defamatory matter with the intent of injuring his business, furthermore, that no alcohol, or other poisonous, or habit-forming, drugs are, or ever were, contained in his "Favorite Prescription"; that said medicine is made from native medicinal roots and contains no harmful ingredients whatsoever; that Mr. Bok's malicious statement were wholly and absolutely false.

In the retraction printed by said Journal they were forced to acknowledge that they had obtained analyses of "Favorite Prescription" from eminent chemists, all of whom certified that it did not contain alcohol or any of the alleged harmful drugs. These facts were also proven in the trial of the action in the Supreme Court. But the business of Dr. Pierce was greatly injured by the publication of the libelous article with its great display headings, while hundreds of thousands who read the weekly defamatory article never saw the humble groveling retraction, set in small type and made as inconspicuous as possible. The matter was, however brought before a jury in the Supreme Court of New York State which promptly rendered a verdict in the doctor's favor. This his traducers came to grief and their base slanders were refuted.
