Buffalo News.

Glad to know the readers of The Recorder haven't buried Buffalo in the dark shades of oblivion. The writer was absent from Buffalo a week, consequently could not write. I spent several days on Flat River and Durham. I enjoyed my visit on Flat River very much. The only thing that marred my pleasure in Durham was the sickness of a dear friend.

We are having frequent showers, a good time for farmers to work, so cool and pleasant. Everything is growing nicely. One of our most prosperous farmers is cutting the golden sheaves Tobacco plants never has been as scarce, some planted a good crop, while others didn't have plants. We ought not to murder, and I don't think the farmers do, as their faces are wreathed in smiles, and they laugh and pat their foot and sing lively songs.

Fishing seems to be the order of the day. A group of boys has passed going to Buffalo, their hearts seem wild with joy at the idea of catching a bucket of minnows. A lad was fishing yesterday and drew up an eel, he tried to take off his eel and it was so strong, his courage began to desert him and he left his fish line and poll and run for dear life.

Jimmie is re-planting tobacco. His face is the very picture of happiness, says he is going to make another trip to Durham soon.

We feel blessed in our community, because there is but very little sickness. J. F. Garrard, of South Lowell, is suffering with a severe spell of neuralgia. His kind wife does everything she can to ease his pain, but yet he suffers a great deal.

On my return home I found flowers and tokens of love in my room. Hope God will shower blessings on those who so sweetly remembered me during my absence.

The Redmountain people anticipate a great time Children's Day. They have a good pastor, and he seems to work in the vineyard of the Lord with a true christian heart.

A young man was riding home not long since at full speed when, lo! and behold he lost his license, and had to put off stealing his precious jewel until next day. One of his friends insisted on knowing why he didn't go for his bride, he only replied, "do not be too curiously inquisitive."

Misses Nellie and Alma Gray spent an afternoon with Mr. Lote Wilson and family. M. K. C.

Ullisa, Route 1.

Weather continues too cool for growing crops.

There is right much sickness in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ferguson and little son, Tommie, of East Durham, spent last week in this neighborhood visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Sallie Ferguson and family spent Saturday and Sunday night in East Durham with J. G. Ferguson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Nichols, of Gorman, spent Sunday with Mrs. Nichols' father, A. Ferguson.

C. G. Hill and family went to see Mr. Hill's father Sunday, but when they arrived Mr. Hill found that his father was dead and had been buried some days before.

W. A. Martin, of Morrisville, Route 2, was in this community Monday hunting pigs. The writer supplied his wants and sent him back home.

W. H. Ferguson is in a very feeble state of health but we hope he will soon be well again.

H. M. O'Neal has been having chills for his company, and suppose he does not like such company.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. O'Neal has been very ill but at last reports was some better.

J. H. Edgerton, of the Durham county home, spent Sunday with homefolks.

J. B. Tilley, of Cary, route 1, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tilley.

Mrs. W. D. Peed and Misses Lizzie and Lucy Paed spent one day recently with J. H. Pinny's family.

Miss Rachel Ross spent one day recently with Mrs. Sallie Ferguson. J. E. F.

From Timberlake.

Wheat is looking fine but is somewhat late. Wheat harvesting will commence this week in our community.

Mrs. W. A. Barton has had a bad case of sore eyes, but now her eyes are improving.

Rev. George Harris is supplying for Antioch church.

It was reported that Tater Brooks went rowling down the road a short time ago. Well Tater if you want to succeed keep on the upward road.

Messrs. J. F. Reams and Willie Tapp visited homefolks on last Saturday night and returned to their boarding place on last Sunday evening.

The writer's little boy, Birt, has been somewhat feeble for the last few days with something like flux.

Ernest Reams colt is now so choice and particular as to what he eats that the animal recently eat Mr. Ream's sister's tube roses and a cup of jelly.

"I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people."—Luke 2:10.

I. Think of the good tidings of the text.

a. Good tidings, the glad news of our Savior's advent.

b. Good tidings, the glad news of our Redeemer's coming.

c. Good tidings, the glad news of the world's light.

d. Good tidings, the glad news of our soul's healed in Christ.

e. Good tidings, the glad news of our sins borne away in Christ.

f. Good tidings, the news of our great reforms coming.

g. Good tidings, the glad news of our salvation complete in Jesus.

h. Good tidings, the glad news the Gospel brings.

II What do we understand by the expression, great joy?

a. It is the joy of unspeakable love in Christ.

b. It is the joy of our sins forgiven in Jesus.

c. It is the joy of his pardning mercy.

d. It is the joy of a Savior leading in glory.

e. It is the joy of our Savior removing transgressions from us.

III None are excluded from the benefits of the good tidings and of the great joy which shall be to all people.

a. Not one can render a valid excuse for the hardness of heart, Heb. 3:15.

b. Not one can render and excuse that Christ does not receive sinners, Luke. 15:2.

c. Not one can render an excuse for neglecting salvation, Heb. 2:3.

d. Not one can render an excuse that the Gospel was not ment for all, Rom. 1:16.

e. Not one can render an excuse for not being saved as "time and chance happeneth to them all," Ecc. 9:11.

f. Not one can render an excuse for going down to hell, as God gave His son to die for the world, John. 3:16.

g. Not one can render an excuse for not calling on the Lord for salvation, Rom. 10:13.

h. Not one can render a final excuse for being lost as Jesus propitiation for both saint and sinner, I John. 2:2.

Some one can answer the following questions if he see's proper: Which is the most credit or honor in for one to make a few mistakes in trying to do something, or to be something, or do nothing be nothing and not make any mistakes?

On last Thursday the lightning struck a large hickory in R. T. Satterfield's yard, and Mrs. Satterfield went from under the tree about three minutes before the stroke of lightning came.

The writer filled his appointment at Rock Grove church on the second Sunday and the congregation continues to increase. The members have completed the pulpit, which is very neat and attractive and they have carried the logs to the mill to make the lumber for the house. J. H. Pentecost, who is a member of Roxboro church, and is the superintendent of Rock Grove Sunday school, says that the Rock Grove people deserves lots of credit for the work they have done there in such a short time for the good Master's cause. After service on Sunday I spent the evening with Bro. Hix Yarboro, and I never eat better cabbage than those that sister Yarboro had served for dinner, and the cabbage were raised from plants that were planted last December. O my, how wife and I enjoyed that mess of cabbage that they gave me to take home. ROPER.

Suit for $20,000

Mr. Claudius Boavers, of Kelvin's Grove, this county, who has qualified as administrator on the estate of his son, Elton Clarence Beavers, who was killed at Wake Forest last Saturday afternoon, has engaged Mr. Chas. U. Harris to bring suit against the Seaboard Air Line Railroad Company for damages. It is understood that the amount asked for will be not less than $20,000, and probably larger.

The deceased was flagman on a freight train and had been in the service of the company about two years. In leaving the caboose at Wake Forest to close the switch while the train was moving, he fell and either the running gear of the car struck his head or it struck a cross tie, fracturing the skull and causing instant death. Mr. Beavers was twenty-five years of age and left a wife and a young child.—News and Observer.

The usual happened. When France Jones, the Charlotte bank cashier, ran away it was said that he had stolen $50,000. It turns out now to be nearer $80,000.—News and Observer.

The State Normal College.

The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement in this issue of the State Normal and Industrial College. We are also in receipt of their catalogue, which contains the following information:

The total enrollment for the year, including students in the Training School, was 845. The Faculty will be increased for the coming year, and additional dormitory accommodations will be provided in time for the opening of the fall term, September 18, 1907.

Tuition is free to students who take the pledge to become teachers in North Carolina for at least two years after leaving the College. Board is furnished at actual cost, but, owing to limited accommodations, not all free-tuition students can secure board in the college dormitories. Therefore all free-tuition applications should be in hands of the President before July 15th, so that (in case the large number of applicants from any county should make it necessary) a competitive examination may be arranged for. One-half of the available dormitory space is reserved for tuition-paying students. Applications from those who do not take the pledge to teach but intend to pay tuition, are filed and dormitory reservations made as the applications are received.

P. C. Graham Elected President.

The Durham Chamber of Commerce held a regular monthly meeting last Friday night. Mr. V. S. Bryant, who recently elected president, could not serve, and Mayor P. C. Graham was elected in his stead.

Reports of some of the officers were submitted and accepted which showed what has been done during the past year. It is to be hoped that much more may be accomplished by this organization in the coming year as the strength increases.

Jasper Phipps was before Justice Owens one day last week charged with breaking into the house of Hazel Castle, who lives just below East Durham, and stealing a pistol. He waived examination and was sent over to the superior court in a bond of $50, which he gave. Soon afterward he was arrested again on the charge of carrying concealed weapon, and a bond in the sum of $25 was fixed up.

Panama Canal—Erie Canal.

Machinery is digging the Panama Canal a thousand times quicker than the shovel dug the Erie.

Machinery produces the L. & M. Paint at 30 times less cost for labor than if made by hand.

The L. & M. gives the best job in the world, because L. & M. Zinc hardens L. & M. White Lead and makes L. & M. Paint wear like iron for 10 to 25 years.

It only requires 4 gallons of this celebrated Paint and 3 gallons of Linseed Oil at 60c. per gallon, to paint a moderate sized house.

If any defect exists in L. & M. Paint, will repaint house for nothing.
