NEWS FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENTS

Items of Interest from Various Places as Viewed and Told by Those on the Field.—Personals.

From Timberlake.

G. H. Jones and his son Ira passed this way on last Tuesday evening to attend a masonic meeting that night in Roxboro.

Considering the inclement weather the farmers are doing lots of plowing, and we see nothing to prevent making another crop.

Some were hoping that this would be a good fruit year as it was also prohibition year.

One of our mail carriers left 100 courtship cards in my box a few days ago, and I told him that any time had passed for sparking and to dispose of the cards to the best of his ability and I think that he would like to have kept about half of the cards for his own use.

"Give unto them eternal life and they shall never perish," John 10:28

I In what does eternal life consist.

- In a growth in grace.
- Studying the way of life.
- Laying hold of eternal life.
- The worship of only one God.

- A steadfast faith in God.
- Perfect obedience to His will.
- Trusting God for eternal life.

II. See what is eternal life.

- As a life hid with Christ in God.
- A life forever sealed in His blood.
- A life never plucked out of God's hand.
- A life obtained in this life.
- A life never to be lost.
- A life to be enjoyed with God in heaven.
- A life living as long as God.

- The consolation, shall never perish, possessing eternal life.
- Never perish having the bread of life.
- Never perish subsisting on His mingled life.
- Never perish in satan's chains.
- Never perish by a false hope.
- Never perish in the judgment.
- Never perish in the broad way.
- Never perish not wrapped in the flames of hell.
- Never perish being at the Savior's right hand.

I will close with these words, obtain eternal life while you have opportunity, for that life is not attained after death nor at the judgment neither in heaven. At death man's destiny is forever fixed with joy or woe.

I heard a very sensible man say that he was going to vote for prohibition as he wanted strong drink put out of the way of himself and his children, for said he "I love the alluring temptation and if I am left subject to the temptation I am afraid that it will be an endless curse to me." If thousands of other people could only see the strong drink evil in the light that this man does we would carry the state dry by a respectable majority.

Some of our people seem to think that Person county will go wet, and a good lady said if it did go wet that she would be glad to see all the wet voters tied to a strong unmoverable post and that she could have the post.

of using all the horse hide whips that she wanted freely. Whenever a lady speaks we men had better submit. However the men prefer persuading me to see the wrong rather than bring them to see it.

Messrs. Bowls Chambers and Company have opened up a new store at this place and they have a splendid assortment of goods in their line. Give them a showing and they will treat you right.

Messrs. Laws and Blalock are successive salesmen to Mr. Bowls & Chambers at the store of Reade Bros. & Company. They are clever and polite young men and doubtless will handle lots of goods at this old reliable place of business.

Helena is on a boom; several residences completed, others to be completed, and six stores now doing a very good business, which keeps Mr. J. A. Tarry, the new depot agent, busy handling out the freight as it arrives. Mr. Tarry is strictly up to his business.

Moriah Public Schools.

March 17, 1908 was the date on which the Moriah Public School, taught by Misses Emma Rhew and Maggie Bowling closed.

The occasion was a complete success and was enjoyed very greatly. A very large crowd attended, much larger than the previous year. A good while before the hour for the speaking the house was crowded with people eager to hear Dr. B. F. Dixon, State Auditor of North Carolina, deliver an inspiring address on education, which stirred the people to a more active and deeper interest in education, while I would not have you forget the people of Moriah were already interested in education.

I heard our teacher say once during the school that the average then was 50-5 and enrollment was 60.

The exercises opened at 11 o'clock a. m. with a song, "Come Thou Almighty King," by a chorus—music by teacher.

Then scripture reading, prayer and introduction of the speaker by W. A. Malone, one of the county board of education.

After the excellent speech by Mr. Dixon and song, "North Carolina Hills," by chorus, thirteen diplomas and five souvenirs for attendance were delivered by G. F. Holloway, our worthy county Superintendent, to the following pupils souvenirs: Hattie Turner, Izona Riggs, Iola Day, Henry and Crawford Newton.

Diplomas—Daisy Humphries, Cora Meadows, Hallie, Annie and Mary Clayton, Lessie, Susie, Uva, Lennie Newton, Alphonza Riggs, David, Seth and Harvey Turner. Then a song, "Columbia, The Gem of the Ocean."

After an intermission of one hour for dinner, the entertainment began, which was successfully conducted.

From Stem.

Farmers in this section are busy bedding corn land, and fixing to plant corn, tobacco, and other farm planting. Tobacco plants are looking fine in this section.

Rev. C. H. Ralston preached at Stem last Saturday and Sunday.

and all that heard the sermon pronounced it to be excellent.

George Gooch passed away at his home the 24th of March. The cause of his death was cancer, and he has been suffering very much for three years or more. He was a quiet, peaceable man, a member of the Methodist church, and when the summons came he was ready to answer. He leaves a wife and eight children, two brothers and three sisters, and a large number of relatives to mourn his death. The funeral was held from Stem Methodist church by Rev. C. H. Ralston.

Mr. Owens Resigns.

At the meeting yesterday of the board of county commissioners, Mr. C. A. Owens, tendered his resignation and the appointment of another commissioner will take place today.

Mr. Owens will live in Norfolk with which city he divides his residence in Durham. At the past two or three meetings he has been unable to be in attendance and the important road matters coming before him demand a substitute. It was expected that Clerk C. B. Green would name his successor yesterday but this was not done.

Mr. Glidewell For District Elector.

The friends of Mr. P. W. Glidewell will present his name to the District Convention for the nomination for elector, and will press his claims for the honor. Mr. Glidewell is a sterling young Democrat, fluent speaker and an aggressive campaigner. When asked by a Review man if he would accept the nomination he replied that he would, if the representatives of the party desired him to have the position.

The friends of Mr. Glidewell assert that he has good ability as a speaker and we predict that he will make a brilliant canvas of his district for the National ticket.

He has never held any political office, but before moving to Rockingham was nominated for Clerk of the Court in the rock-ribbed Republican county of Stokes and came near scoring a victory over his very popular rival for the office.

The position as elector is purely one of honor, there being no compensation, and the party holding the place is expected to make a campaign of the District and defray all his expenses.

The Review acquiesces in all the complimentary things said of Mr. Glidewell and would be delighted at seeing him honored by his district with the appointment. There is no more loyal and deserving young Democrat in the State, and we know of no one so young who would make a more brilliant presentation of his party's contentions in the campaign.—Reidsville Review.
