NEWS FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENTS

Items of Interest from Various Places as Viewed and Told by Those on the Field.--Personals.

From Roxboro Route 5.

Robert Satterfield was improving last time we heard from him, but he has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever.

Charley Allen and wife of Roxboro route 5, spent Sunday with Mr. J. P. Tingen of Timberlake route 1.

The Timberlake route 1 by Barton's mill and through our immediate community has been discontinued, so we get our mail now from Roxboro route 5.

J. H. Howard recently spent a few hours with the writer, and in his remarks he stated that he was going to vote for prohibition, if he did so alone, so Mr Howard you will have plenty of company this time.

Miss Laura Tingen, who was thought to have contracted fever is now improving which will be good news to his many friends and relatives.

A man passed here a few days ago and said in three months there would be more robbing and plundering than was ever heard of before, as so many people would be out of employment on account of the President's election. He further remarked that the trusts were planning everything they could for cheap laborers, and wanted more than any thing, a Cleveland panic, and did not care a straw who was elected, just so he carried out such measures as the trust wanted. Here I beg to add that we have never known of any country to abound with prosperity in times of low priced labor, and when labor goes down everything else goes down.

The farmers of this community are getting about ready to plant their corn, and they want to commence planting on the 21 of this month.

I have an invitation to make a talk at Bethel Hill the 14th, on prohibition and the 15th to speak on education, and the good people of Bethel Hill are working diligently to build up their school, and we have never yet known honest working people to fail in any undertaking that is for the right.

A man by the name of Long who is representing an over shot water wheel company of Pa., came to Barton's mill on last Wednesday to sell the owners of the mill on over shot wheel. Mr. Long is handling the steel wheel, and believes that one would pay at Barton's mill.

Mr. Wrenn, of Roxboro, was in this community on last Friday and Saturday, putting up phones.

Fifteen years ago I paid $5. for a Bible, and a few Sundays ago the Neptune people gave me a bible which is more valuable to me than my $5 bible, as the helps are greatly improved. So I greatly prove and appreciate my new bible.

Add Lee Jeffers of Mill Creek, to your subscription list.

According to the old theory, the dog wood blooms have gotten their growth, and the moon will soon be old, so you may go to planting corn. ROPER.

Solicitor Brooks to Speak at Patrick Henry Institute.

Perhaps one of the most interesting events at present to a great many Durham county people, is the approaching commencement exercises of the Patrick Henry Institute, Patterson Township, April 17, 1908.

This occasion marks the closing of a very successful year's work done at this school.

The programme will begin at three o'clock p. m. Prof. W. D. Carmichael, Supt., of the Durham city schools will speak to the audience, and present Solicitor A. L. Brooks, who will deliver an address. The remainder of the programme for the day will consist of a picnic spread in the grounds at sunset, followed by an entertainment by the school, which will begin at 7:30 p. m.

The coming of Solicitor Brooks to Patrick Henry will be hailed with heartiest enthusiasm, not only by the people of that community, but by a magnificent following from this city, and other parts of the county.

The school is preparing to entertain a large gathering, and extends a cordial invitation to the public at large to be present.

The enthusiastic interest that is being manifested by the patrons of the school in the visit of Solicitor Brooks, regardless of political differences, is a signal proof of the personal popularity of this man, and the high esteem in which he is universally held. Democrats, Republicans, and Prohibitionists alike anticipate the event with equal pleasure.

Hon. E. B. Winborne, of Mericosboro, N. C., for Attorney General.

It affords me great pleasure to recommend the above named gentleman to a generous public for the office of Attorney General of North Carolina. I have known him personally for thirty-five years, and have had many business and legal transactions with him, and found him at all times a great lover and advocate of right and justice, a staunch Jeffersonian democrat in the true sense of the word and a lawyer, that is seldom equaled in any State in the Union, and one that has won the respect and admiration of all that know him. He has been a faithful worker for the democratic party in North Carolina, and has always given his time and talent most liberally in every time of political strife, and has accomplished much for his own county of Hertford and the State of North Carolina, as well.

He is a gentleman of the most lofty type, always prompt to business true to his clients, his fellows, and his county, one that will not be side-tracked or intimidated. Nominate and elect him, and he will fill the office with credit to himself, with profit and satisfaction to public generally.

C. W. PARKER, Menola, N. C., April 8, '08.

Death of Mr. Martin.

Alonzo R. Martin, son of Mr. W. E. Martin, of this city, died Sunday night at his home after a long tubercular illness.

He was 26 years old and besides his wife and one child leaves a father. He was a member of the Second Baptist church and from that place, this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the funeral will be held, Rev. W. C. Barrett conducting the services. The interment in Maplewood cemetery.

Big Fire Sweeps Boston.

Boston, April 12.—Fire devastated more than one square mile of the manufacturing, business and tenement district of Chelsea to-day entailing a loss estimated at fully $10,000,000. The fire started at 10:40 a. m. near the Boston Blacking Company's works on West third street, near the Everett City Line, and crossed the city, a distance of one mile and a quarter to Marginal, opposite the East Boston shore. So far as can be learned there was one fatality. Half a hundred persons were injured.

Among the buildings burned were 13 churches, Frost Hospital, Childrens Hospitals, City Hall, Fitz Public Library, five school houses, a dozen or more factories, and about 300 tenements and dwellings.

The residential section of the city where the wealthier classes reside, escaped the flames.

In the retail section, through which the fire passed, were 20 business blocks which were destroyed. The United States Marine buildings were not damaged.

The Chelsea fire was practically under control at 9 o'clock to-night. Two women are known to be dead as a result of the fire. Neither body has been identified.

The fire originated in the rear of the Boston Blacking Company's works of West Third Street, near the eastern division of the Boston & Maine Railroad and in close proximity to the Everett City line. A terrific gale from the northwest, which at times had a velocity of 60 miles an hour, carried burning shingles, embers and myriads of sparks to a score of wooden buildings, most of them of cheap wooden construction.

The fire started almost in the extreme southwest section of the city and cut a path to the end of Maverick street of the extreme southeastern end of the city, which borders on Chelsea creek. This point is about one mile and a quarter from the point where the conflagration began. The flames swept through the heart of the retail business section, which was about midway between the two extreme limits reached by the fire.

Among the structures destroyed were the 13 churches, two hospitals, the public library, city hall, five school houses, 20 business blocks, nearly a score of factories and upwards of 300 tenements and dwelling houses. The flames reached Broadway, the principal street of the city, at a point between Third and Fifth streets, and destroyed the Masonic hall, Odd Fellows hall and Bennett block.

Death of Mrs. Gaaney.

Mrs. W. G. Gaaney died Friday morning about half past five after an illness with pneumonia.

She leaves a husband and several brothers and sisters. The funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. W. C. Barrett, of the Second Baptist church. The burial took place in Maplewood.

Marriage Thursday.

Mr. John F. Terry and Miss Maggie Ladd were married Thursday evening at 7:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. G. W. Fisher, pastor of the Durham Circuit, officiating. Miss Ladd is a daughter of Mr. R. J. Ladd. Mr. Terry is a prosperous young farmer of that section. He has a nice home at Bumpass cross roads and the young people will reside there in the future.

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS.

Read the change of ad in this issue of Taylor & Phipps Co. and see what they have to tell you about plows.

Messrs. Eubanks and Howerton, of this city, are arranging to hold a fiddlers convention and the proceeds will be given to the chimes of St. Phillips church.

A card in this issue calling your attention to the fact that Judge B. B. Winborne is a candidate for attorney general. Read what is said of him in the card referred to.

The fire companies were called to Hayti last Saturday night about nine o'clock on account of a fire in this section. The loss was about $500 with a small amount of insurance.

The registration books of the county will be open on the 24th of the present month. A new registration is not necessary unless you have moved to another voting precinct.

The Coney Island Shows, a carnival company, is holding the boards here this week in the interest of the firemen. They expect to realize quite a nice little sum to help in their trip to the tournament.

Messrs. Rigsbee and Dixon have been awarded a contract to do a large amount of grading for the city, which will put the streets recently macadamized in good shape. They will begin work at once.

"Buster," the big hog of E. B. Cozart, that has been on exhibition here for a week, was carried away last Saturday. Mr. Cozart goes from here to Coney Island, where he will exhibit his hog for some time.

The congregation of the Second Baptist church have decided that the ladies attending services will remove their hats during the sermon. There is something unusual and is doubtless brought about by the extra large size of the present style of hats.

The Trinity College base ball team left here last Thursday afternoon for a Southern tour. They won the first three games. The first two games were played Friday and Saturday with Georgia Technical school, and the third game was played Monday with Mercer, the score being 5 to 1 in favor of Trinity.

The negroes should be careful how they threaten to make trouble for the republican party in the north by voting the democratic ticket if the party does not put up candidates to suit them. The south has demonstrated that there is a way out of it when the negro does not vote to suit the dominant party. And they make a grave mistake when they think that the people of the north think more of them than we do.—Morning Herald.
