DURHAM, N. C., April 17, 1908

ALL GOOD MEN AND LEADING.

There are supporters in Durham of each of the three candidates for governor and if you want to find out how each of the candidates are getting along in the campaign, just ask any one of them.

A supporter of Horne will easily say that he is sure of the nomination, while the Craig man will say there is not any doubt about Craig being the choice of the convention, and the friends of Kitchin will explain to you how easily he is to get the nomination. This shows plainly that each knows just about as much about what will take place when the primaries are held and delegates sent up to the convention as he is anxious for. To find a disinterested man and get his opinion would be an impossibility.

From the very first of the fight we have been heartily in favor of the nomination of W. W. Kitchin, and our reason for this is not a consideration of his past record, but if the records of all the candidates running were gone into, he would have the advantage from points of party loyalty and a clean deal in all his affairs—but the main thing that causes us to be for Mr. Kitchin is the fact we believe he will make the best governor of the state.

Whatever may be your opinion, we are not falling out with you, but you will make no mistake whatever in supporting a man as clean and fair to all as W. W. Kitchin has been.

WHEN you think of the number of good men fully capable of filling any position in the State in Durham and remember that we only have one candidate in the field and that for a district position, Durham should tell others to join in and help us out. For this reason alone Mr. Fuller should receive the nomination for solicitor. However, there are many other reasons why Mr. Fuller should have the nomination for solicitor of this district. He is a good lawyer, a courteous gentleman, and his record has good and he come from a family that have done good service to the party. There is little doubt but Mr. Fuller will receive unanimous support in Durham, and here's hoping that Jones Fuller will be our next Solicitor.

They are making a great to-do over the fact that Hon. J. William Bailey, former editor of the Biographical Recorder, has come out publicly and is supporting Craig for the nomination for governor. This is Mr. Bailey's privilege and there is no special objection to his support being placed where he chooses. In consideration of Mr. Bailey's past utterances and party loyalty, we fail to see why his endorsement will amount to very much in Democratic ranks.

WHEN some candidates start out to get what they want they remind us very much of the fellow with the patent medicine. They begin by citing testimonials of their former efforts. The main consideration should always be not what a man has done, but what will he do in the future for the up-building and development of the State and Nation.

If you find that it is too much trouble to get up a prohibition speech for you are afraid you would have no hearers were you to go out in the interest of some of the candidates, you still have a chance to get your name in print by joining a club.

GOVERNOR GLENN has announced that he will not be a candidate for the Senate in opposition to Mr. Overman, which is to be commended, and which will add weight to his great fight for State prohibition.

You just keep your eyes open and see if some of the fellows that are saving the State—Wilmington, Salisbury, Winston, and some other places do not come in and claim their reward.

WILLIAM A. GRAHAM.

Of Lincoln For Commissioner of Agriculture.

The many friends of Major William A. Graham of Lincoln County, N. C., are presenting his name for the nomination at the hands of the Democratic State Convention for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture. He is a farmer who has been to a large extent a leader in his section in improved methods of farming and in the raising of live stock. He has always been true to the farmers' interest as the measures he has introduced in the Legislature and on the Board of Agriculture show. No legislator in the history of the State perhaps has introduced as many bills of a practical nature and which still stand upon the statute books of the State after thirty years trial. He began his service to the Democratic party in 1867 and has served in every campaign since. His nomination will add strength to the ticket and put an able campaigner at the command of the Executive Committee and be a recognition by the party of his faithful services rendered both as legislator and as a member of the Board of Agriculture for the benefit of the whole State.

C. T. HOKE,
Of Lincoln County.

A MOTOR LINE TO CHAPEL HILL.

The First Trip Postponed—Plain of Incorporation.

Without much talk a company was formed and a large motor car ordered to establish a motor line between Durham and Chapel Hill. The car has arrived and was to have made the first trip Wednesday, but on account of the rain was deferred. In the near future the rain or mud will not hinder the trip as the Orange portion of the road between Durham and Chapel Hill will be ballasted.

Messrs. W. M. Yearby, T. J. Lambe and J. B. Sykes are named as the incorporators and others are interested in the financial end of the proposition and the public will have a convenience that will be greatly appreciated.

Until the car is put upon the road and goes out on regular trips nothing definite can be said about the schedule or the price, but it can be well said at this time that the traveling public can save both time and money and at the same time the company behind the move will make of it a paying investment. However, it may be stated at this time that it is the intention of the promoters to put on a schedule of three daily trips.

The date set for the old fiddlers' convention in the interest of the chimes of St. Phillip's church is April 24th and 25th. Every effort will be made to eclipse anything in this line that has been held in this section and from the number of good old time fiddlers that have been secured at this time, there is no doubt about the result.

HOWE'S GREAT LONDON SHOWS.

Royal Roman Hippodrome—Mammoth Menagerie and Museum—A Word or Two About Elephants.

"There is sometimes as strong an attachment between the elephant and his keeper as between husband and wife, and should the keeper be attacked by man or beast, the elephant will pull up his stakes or break his chain to come to the rescue. It is also often true that an elephant will form such an attachment for another elephant that he will brook no abuse of his favorite.

"In nearly every instance where a keeper has been killed by his elephant the crime was preceded by some act of cruelty or foolhardiness on the part of the man himself."

"The elephant's trunk is one of the wonders of the world. Cuvier, the great French naturalist, estimated that there are 40,000 muscles in this wonderful organ! One does not wonder at this after seeing the many wonderful movements of the elephant's trunk. He can, by means of the little finger as its tip, pick up very small objects, perhaps not a pin or needle, as has been sometimes stated, but certainly objects that are quite small. He can also use it to lift a very heavy weight or strike a mighty blow. It is through the trunk that the sonorous and far reaching noise known as trumpeting is made."

The largest and smallest elephants in the world are included in the herd carried by Howe's Great London Shows, to exhibit here, Monday April 27.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and astringent. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal root, Stone root, and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, hang-on chronic coughs, bronchitis and pulmonary troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering, hang-on coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs, especially that of the stomach, catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach), it is a most efficient preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric (stomach) acidity."

"Golden Medical Discovery" enriches and purifies the blood curing blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings and old sores, or ulcers.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the native medicinal roots composing this wonderful medicine. There's no alcohol in it.
