NUMBER 4.

NEWS FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENTS

Items of Interest from Various Places as Viewed and Told by Those on the Field.--Personals.

Gorman Notes.

Another shower refreshed things very much and farmers finished planting tobacco, farm work is being pushed very rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Holloway, recently bought them a nice rubber-tire buggy that is a beauty. Hurrah! we like to see the Gormanites coming.

Miss Belle Markham, has returned after teaching as principal of Rogers Store School last session. Her old students at Glens were glad to have her back in time to attend their concert.

Miss Addie Wheeler and Mr. Arrington, of Providence, spent Friday night as the guest of the Misses Rogers.

The concert at Glens school Friday night May 15th could not be all carried out on account of rain. So was carried out on the 18th. A large crowd attended both nights and enjoyed it very much. The little folks deserves much praise especially in the doll drill and planting a rose garden.

Miss Annys Fullerton, Effie and Zono Forsythe, Lorena Polard and Fannie Moring, were the welcome guest of the Misses Markham, to attend the concert.

Misses Mabel and Ema Veazey, recently spent some time with the Misses Holloway, near here.

Miss Lucy Rogers, left Saturday for Creedmoor, she will be gone for some time.

B. Waller is at home for a few days.

Mrs. John Adkins and sister Miss Clapp, have returned to Alamance county, after spending a week with their sister Mrs. D. Rochelle. G. C.

Buffalo News.

Everybody on Buffalo seem to be enjoying life, some are hard at work trying to get rich. Some planting tobacco and working corn. Some fixing to get married, while others are trying, but none are planting flowers.

Mr. E. W. Wilson and sister Miss Myrtle spent Sunday at Bragtown, they were accompanied home by their sister Annie, who has been spending the week with Misses Annie and Lorena Hill.

Mrs. Bob Tilley Mrs. Beckie Harris, Mrs. Sote Wilson and two daughters Daise and Myrtle, Maggie and Blanche Laws, and the writer went straw-berry hunting last week. We had a real pleasant walk and talk, but didn't find many berries, had a "pic-nic" sure enough. We became very tired and decided to rest, one of the girls fell on a grassy mound and much to her sorrow she found she had worn a hole in her shoe and stocking she exclaimed sadly, if some fellow will get me some shoes I'll look for him this year, boys get a movin' you.

Mrs. L. Clark is improving from a severe attack of sickness. She was able to walk to her front door today for the first time in twelve months. So she gazed upon the green fields and beautiful flowers, she exclaimed, "How grand, how sublime oh nature are all thy works." I heard a girl say not long since, she could never love a man unless he dressed up in style, she admired a dude." Dear, never judge a man by appearances, a ragged vest may cover a bosom in which there is a heart of noblest impulses, and attained to sweetest shames of goodness.

Prohibition is not talked much in this community, most of our ladies say whiskey is a good medicine, good for consumption neuralgia, etc., but I am like M. M. T. I am out of it.

We extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roper. May their little cook be a life spring of joy in the home. M. K. C.

Sabama News Items.

Mr. James H. Southgate of Durham, will speak on temperance and prohibition here at Mount Bethel church next Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m. A large crowd is expected out to hear this distinguished speaker.

Luther Hill, of Turner Hill, visited at Bragtown, yesterday. The Mount Bethel Sunday school, we are glad to say is doing well under the superior tendency of Bro. J. A. Thompson.

D. S. Ball, R. F. D. carrier from this office some days, one day, one of his fine hens decided to make her nest in his buggy, and he had most made his trip, when he reached under the seat for something, out flew the hen. After a few minutes chase he safely landed her and brought her home.

Farmers have planted more tobacco and purchased more guano than any previous year in some time, its starting off and doing well, corn is also looking well, the stand is good. Hurrah! for the farmers, they are the "hub" of the wheel. J. D. C.

Engagement, Duke 4.

Farmers are very busy in this section planting tobacco, and most of them will finish this week.

Little Alma Cash is visiting her uncle near Moriah this week.

C. H. Tilley spent a short while at Noah Jeffries' last Sunday.

There will be two services at Bethany the fifth Sunday in May.

Mrs. R. J. Jeffries spent Sunday with Mrs. Al Rhew.

J. H. Rhew went striking Saturday night and was successful in getting one fish that weighed three pounds. Guess he will go again.

A crowd of boys went seining at B. P. Bowling's mill and caught a nice lot of fish.

The Sunday school at Redmountain seems to grow steadily. L. J.

From Stem.

Most of the farmers in this community are nearly through planting corn and tobacco. Gardens are looking well.

There was an all day temperance meeting at Brassfield Saturday. Dr. Roberson delivered an address in the morning and exercises were held by the children in the afternoon. Dinner was served on the grounds. E. W.

Young Man's End.

Mr. Dallas Duke, a young man of 18, died Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock after an illness of months with consumption.

He was the son of Mr. G. W. Duke and leaves besides his father, three brothers and two sisters. He was a member of the West Durham Methodist church and from that place was buried Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. J. H. McCracken officiating.

Death of Mrs. Harris.

Mrs. H. C. Harris, aged sixty-nine, died Wednesday afternoon at the home of her son on Fayetteville road.

The end came unexpectedly the dinner hour. Mrs. Harris had been slightly ill several days, but was able to go to her meals. After eating dinner she complained and within a few minutes was unconscious. Acute indigestion was the cause of her death. She lived but a few minutes after leaving the table where she had dined with her family.

She was a member of Olive chapel, but the funeral was held in Moncure, Chatham county, where the remains were shipped Wednesday night. She leaves two sons, Messrs. J. B. Harris, of this city, and J. E. Harris, of the county where she lived.

Death of Mrs. Mann.

Mrs. Martha E. Mann died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Sallie Kirkland, on Seaman street, yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock. She had been sick for sometime and her death was not a surprise to her friends.

She was 73 years old and was a native of Chatham county. The remains will be taken to Chatham on the early train this morning and the burial will be at Mount Pleasant church this afternoon. Mr. B. O. Guthrie, a relative of the deceased, is here from Burlington and will accompany the remains.

Death of Mrs. Rogers.

Mrs. J. Fletcher Rogers died at her home on Lakewood avenue Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 after a long illness with a complication of troubles.

Mrs. Rogers was 55 years old and leaves a family of husband, six children, Willie, Ralph, Misses Maud, Daisy, Lucy and Rosa Rogers. She was the last of her immediate family. Mr. Rogers is an engineer on the Seaboard road.

Death of a Child.

The little nine-month-old child, Junius Crabtree, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Crabtree, died Wednesday afternoon at their home on Randolph street at 1:30.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home.

At the parsonage of the Second Baptist church on Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. John H. Blackwood, of Blackwood, N. C. and Miss Lizzie A. Weaver, of Chapel Hill, were united in marriage by Rev. W. C. Barrett. It was a very quiet affair, their most intimate friends not being aware of the fact. They left Wednesday morning for Wilmington. Mr. Blackwood is one of Orange county's most prosperous farmers and Miss Weaver is one of the teachers of that county.

To Build Street Bridges.

At the last meeting of the board of county commissioners the contract for the construction of the two bridges on the Roxboro road was let to the Carolina Construction company, of Burlington.

The plans for building the bridges over Little River and Mountain creek have been changed. It was expected that these two structures would be made of steel and they were figured in the contract awarded several months ago to cost something like $10,000. This was regarded as a low estimate and the bill that the county would have footed might have run as high as $12,000. By the change it is believed that there will be as substantial structure as was first bargained for and it will cost over the two streams, two separate bridges of course, about $7,000.

The bridges are to be made of reinforced concrete. There will be no steel about them but a solid stone-work in concrete that will be used as pillars and floor-way. It will probably be the only one of its kind in the state, certainly the only thing of its nature in the section.

Merchant Jailed.

John Anderson a small merchant doing business about the coal chute, was sent to jail from the court of Magistrate Owens upon failure to satisfy him for the costs in action bought at the instance of Mrs. Katherine Johnson and her daughter.

The trouble grew out of Miss Johnson's whipping a child of Anderson. The ladies testified that Anderson came there abusing them Sunday and swearing at an outrageous rate. He rebutted with testimony that one of them attacked him with an axe and the other with an iron pan. There was other evidence that hethrew Mrs. Johnson into the yard while in a struggle with her.

Squire Owens believed what the women said about him and taxed him with the costs, $11.59. He failed to pay it and went to jail.
