

THE DURHAM RECORDER.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOLUME 90.

DURHAM, N. C., DECEMBER 8, 1908.

NUMBER 61.

SUPERIOR COURT NOW ON

The Judge's Charge a Scoring for the City.

LIST OF THE GRAND JURY CHOSEN.

Many Minor Cases Called and Dealt With.—Small Jail Cases to Claim First Attention.—Court Room a "Sweat Box."

Durham Superior court for the trial of criminal cases is now on in full swing. Judge E. B. Jones is presiding and Solicitor Jones Fuller is looking after the interests of the State.

The first thing on docket Monday morning was the selection of the grand jury and the charge of Judge Jones. The following jury was selected to act during the present term:

Mr. A. W. Tilley was made foreman of the jury and the other jurors are as follows: Messrs. O. M. Perry, Ed. V. Barbee, J. C. Upchurch, John Hancock, L. G. Pickett, J. W. Howard, J. M. Barbee, H. T. Bowling, E. L. Watts, J. T. Hicks, T. J. Jones, N. Crabtree, Will Woods, Bedford Hill, W. A. Ferrell, James Pickett and J. H. Maynor.

The charge of Judge Jones was what might be commonly termed handing out the county a lemon. In the beginning he stated that he would not in all probability come back to Durham to hold court, but he wanted to have a say about the court house. "It is a shame," he said, "that a county with $28,000,000 taxable property should be crowded in a sweat box like this for a court room. Get out from this place. Get a place where there is air for the prisoners and where court room can have a breathing space.

After the charge of the judge began the investigation of the cases before them.

James M. Cagle was sworn in as court crier.

The court then opened there were 271 cases on docket and of that number 80 of them were jail cases, and the court intimated that there was little chance that the bond and capital cases would be reached during this short term. The following cases were disposed of Monday:

- Ed George, disturbing religious worship, continued.
- Stedman Conklin, retailing. Called and failed, capias to follow.
- William Fletcher, larceny. Defendant escaped from officers and capias to follow.
- Albert East, assault with deadly weapon. Capias and continuance.
- W. R. Herndon, nuisance, continued.
- Sallie Austin, retailing. Capias and continuance.
- F. J. Cheek, assaulting an officer. Called and failed, capias to issue.
- State vs. J. L. Love, larceny, nol pros with leave.
- Hilman Hinch, carrying concealed weapons, nol pros with leave.
- B. Gouldburg, embezzlement, alias capias and continuance.
- Mark Sneed, larceny, nol pros with leave.
- Silas Allen, John Peoples, Lonnie Hester, Ben Chavis and James Fuller, gambling, Allen and Peoples called and failed. Capias to follow.
- Ramuel Lener, carrying concealed weapons, called and failed, capias and continuance.
- Frank Linney, Ed Sowhan and Dan Neal, gambling, nol pros with leave.
- Tom Wright, retailing, nol pros with leave.
- Fred Clay, carrying concealed weapon, called and failed.
- Stedman Conklin, retailing, called and failed, continued.
- Tim Wilcox, assault with deadly weapon, called and failed.
- Jim Hogan, retailing, continued.
- Leaster Overton, larceny, called and failed as to Overton, continued.
- Charles Taylor, carrying concealed weapons, called and failed.
- Henry Hicks, assault and battery on a woman, continued.
- W. Mangum, ditto, continued.
- W. Mangum, ditto, continued.

FROM ROUTE 5, ROXBORO

Local Happenings and a Sermon Outline from Roper.

R. I. Satterfield says that Mr. C. H. Garrett made 25 barrels more corn than any other farmer in this community.

Roy Howard recently caught a rabbit and a coon and put them both in the same box and they sit side by side and seem to be on friendly terms with each other.

W. T. Gentry now has his grandmother's wedding dress, which is over a hundred years old. The goods cost $1.00 per yard and was neatly made and has been well kept.

W. A. Barton and Robert Ashley recently joined teams and took a load of the weed to the Durham market. Did not hear them say, but supposed they realized good prices.

I have of late sold 25 Greenville Washers to my near by neighbors and I yet have to hear the first word of complaint. The business is looking up and Archie Tapp is going to take part with me in handling these washers.

W. T. Gentry is doing a fine business at Barton's mill, and has made 57 bushels of toll in the last ten days, and all his customers give him praise.

Messrs. W. A. Barton, J. E. Yancey, Mrs. Ida Reams, Johnnie Brooks, C. H. Tapp, and Barnett Moore, who have been running a feed cutting machine in this community recently, had a considerable break up of the inside movement of the machine, but will start up again as soon as they can make repairs.

Several of our neighbors are setting out cabbage plants so as to have early cabbage next spring.

It has been reported that Mr. J. H. Howard is going to move up on Hycoc.

I am glad to know that Mr. Charlie Day is going to cultivate the Rogers farm near Ai, for Mr. Day is a good neighbor.

I will give your readers one of my sermon outlines on the following text, which has been a great source of comfort to me and may benefit some one else:

"Cast thy burden upon the Lord, and he shall sustain thee; he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved."—Psalms 55:22.

I. Some of the many burdens to cast upon the lord:

1. Transgression.
2. Anxiety.
3. Blighted hope.
4. Misfortune.
5. Affliction.
6. The welfare of humanity.

II. If we cast our burden upon him he has pledged his sustaining care.

1. He will sustain us when the way grows dark.
2. Sustain us in times of extreme loss.
3. Sustain us in the hour of death.
4. Sustain us when before the last judge.
5. Sustain us if persecuted.
6. Sustain us if our cross be heavy.
7. Sustain us if sad and cast down.
8. Sustain us if we lose all in this life.
9. Sustain us in the thought of heaven won.

III. Possessing his sustaining care he will never suffer us to be moved.

1. Will not be moved from our first love.
2. Not be moved from his first work of grace.
3. Not be moved from the hope of his reward.

of darkness.

5. Not be moved by the snare of temptation.

6. Not be moved as our redemption was completed in Jesus.

7. Not be moved from an everlasting crown.

Reade Bros. Co. have moved into the new department of their store and one would not find many stores more complete in some of the large cities. Their greatly enlarged trade compelled them to enlarge and expand their store. John Jones, their new clerk, and Mr. Laws are both fine and clever young men and are bringing things to pass in the way of trade for the firm.

Mangum Street Methodist church was dedicated last Sunday with appropriate exercises.

Dr. J. C. Kilgo preached the dedicatory sermon and a large congregation was present.

NEW BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. J. W. Allen Elected Chairman Without Opposition.

The old board of county commissioners met in the court house Monday morning just long enough to turn the business of the county over to the newly elected commissioners.

The new commissioners sworn in were as follows: J. W. Allen and F. M. Tilley of the old board, and L. B. Markham, T. E. Belvin and J. D. Hamlin, newly elected.

When the matter of electing a chairman came up Mr. J. W. Allen was unanimously elected.

The matter of offering a reward for the murderer of Engineer Holt will be considered at this meeting.

Quite a number of detail matters, such as looking over bonds of recently elected officers and the election of various people for positions in the work of the county, will consume the time of board at this meeting. It is not likely that they will adjourn before Wednesday or Thursday.

From The Chapel Hill News

Rev. W. R. Royall has a pear-tree in his yard that is somewhat of a curiosity at this season of the year. The tree was set out early last spring and today it has a nice mellow soft pear on it. It is the Keifer variety.

On Saturday Nov. 1st, Mr. O. B. Barnes' house in the country near Chapel Hill burned. On Nov. 20th, the Chapel Hill Insurance & Realty Co. paid Mr. Barnes the $300 fire insurance he carried on his house. If you are not insured see W. L. Mann, or write Chapel Hill Insurance & Realty Co.

KNIGHT-PRATT.

There was a marriage in Greensboro on the 24th ult., in which Chatham and Orange are interested. The contracting parties were Mr. Claude M. Knight and Miss Annie L. Pratt. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. J. Pratt, of Creek's township, this county, and quite popular. She has been living in Greensboro for sometime holding a position with Smith & Smith. The groom is a native of Chatham county, and holds a position with the well known hotel man, W. F. Clegg. Rev. J. L. White, D. D., performed the marriage ceremonies after which the bride and groom left for Washington on their bridal tour.

Mrs. Nancy Crabtree, aged about 88 years, died Saturday morning at her home in West End. She had been in very feeble health for several months.
