Our Orphanages at Thanksgiving.
The Orphanages of North Carolina are performing a valuable service. They deserve our interest and support. Many of our people generously contribute to the maintenance and extension of the work of institutions so worthy.

Thanksgiving Day is special "Orphans' Day" in our State. At this season a people greatly blessed and grateful to God for His mercies express their thanks in a fitting, practical way by offerings to aid the work for needy, homeless little ones, a work for the kingdom of God.

The Giver of all Good is surely pleased with a spirit of gratitude in the hearts of men. And does not this method of expressing thanks meet with the approval of the wise and loving Father of the fatherless?

It is our sacred duty to help care for these children and, more than that, it is our blessed privilege.

At the Thanksgiving season, which is approaching, may even a large number of our people unite to do greater things for this cause than ever before. The demands upon our Orphanages have increased. The cost of living has advanced. These institutions are endeavoring constantly to do a more efficient work. Their needs are greater. Our people will, we trust, join together most heartily and liberally to assist in meeting these increased needs.

Get your friends to give you their ballots at once and send them in and make a good showing in the first list of names.

MOONSHINERS CAUGHT.

Three Bound Over By Commissioner Spicer to Federal Court

The county officers Saturday morning raided a distillery in Lebanon township, capturing F. L. Garrard and Eugene Dunnegan, white men who were operating the place, and Henderson Barbee, a colored man of Durham, who came on the premises and raised a gun to shoot when taken.

In the party were Deputies E. C. Belvin, J. D. Pleasants and Raymond Hall. They were called to the place by a complaint from Lebanon directed first to Deputy Marshall J. B. Jordan. When the matter was first reported Mr. Jordan could not come from Raleigh and the Lebanon citizen then went to Sheriff Harvard telling him of the condition and the officer sent his men. There comes the invariable conflict between the county and the regular revenue men's duties but the sheriff was forced to go when he had the matter before him.

Dputy Jordan came in and drove out. In the meantime the Durham deputies had captured the white men and the still and were waiting on the revenue officer when Henderson Barbee drove up with dogs and shotgun. The negro raised his shooting iron when the Durham men covered him with their pistols and made him ground arms. The negro went down on one side and dropped his weapon while Mr. Jordan took him captive.

They were brought to Durham and Assistant District Attorney J. A. Giles conducted the examinations for the government. There were brought three or four gallons of new whiskey in a big jug and the officers testified that the blockers were at work and to take it to Raleigh. In going down stirring the mash just as a good housewife watches her pots about the dinner hour. The capacity of the copper was about 75 gallons but it hadn't gotten a good start and Barbee had evidently carried the supply away faster than it could be made. He had him a big keg, odorant with blessed booze, and though he protested loudly that he was just out hunting no one understood why he was in a wagon on the big road and carrying such a handicap as a half barrel. He did have the dogs with him. Barbee gave the court the impression that like a celebrated biblical character who as severed that he fished for men and putting him under a $300 bond United States Commissioner Skinner held him securely. There was positive testimony that he was trying to shoot.

The white defendants went to jail about an hour under their $300 bonds and were released soon afterwards on securing the signatures of some well-to-do Durham people. Their cases will be heard at the next term of the eastern district court.

Deputy Jordan ended the afternoon's court in great mirth when he picked up the big jug of liquor and started up the steps he stumbled, fell headlong and dropped the jug as he fell. The momentum given the jug carried it full to the sidewalk where it exploded and scattered its radiating rankness all over town.

Mr. Jordan's accident was caused by a weakness of a limb which was injured in a raid sometime ago when he was shot. When he stepped upon it he gave way, stumbled and broke—his licker jug.

FELL FROM SCAFFOLD.

R. W. Harris, Painter, Sustains Serious Injury Wednesday.

R. W. Harris, a white painter working on the new Erwin cotton mill at West Durham, was perhaps fatally injured yesterday morning by falling from the painter's stage to the floor below and fracturing his head.

The drop was fourteen feet and he fell with full weight upon the right side of his skull. Workmen about him picked him up and bore him to medical aid, later taking him to the Watts hospital where an operation was performed with but the smallest show of relief to the injured man. Before he went under the anaesthetic Dr. B. U. Brooks questioned him as to his residence and family. He spoke confusedly but described his home in Raleigh at the intersection of Tarboro and some other street which the physicians later looked up. The streets which he mentioned parallel rather than cross and his location of his home did not help in finding his mother and his brother, J. W. Harris, both of whom he said live in Raleigh.

The operation at the Watts hospital revealed a fracture that is almost hopeless. Besides the break of the bones in the head there are possibly other injuries to the body and at midnight the patient was unconscious and apparently improving none. He is in a desperate condition.

Nobody knows how he came to fall but it is supposed that it was one of the unaccountable accidents. The workman's position was not regarded as necessarily perilous.

Mr. Harris had been here but a short time. Further than his two relatives in Raleigh nothing is known of his family. He is fifty-six years of age and is unmarried. The West Durham people up to 11 o'clock last night had not succeeded in finding any friends or relatives who could give information as to his family or his past life.

Broke a Leg.

While hauling timber one day last week Mr. Ollie Holloway the son of Mr. J. F. Holloway, living seven miles west of Durham, received a broken leg.

The young man was engaged in bearing lumber to a house to be erected on his father's farm when one of the heavy pieces fell on him and fractured the limb. It will lay him up a month or six weeks.

Two Marriages.

Miss Nannie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sorrell, was united in marriage to Mr. T. S. Waller, of Oxford, last Sunday morning at the home of the brides father. Immediately after the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Waller left for Washington and other points, where they will spend some time before returning to their home in Oxford.

Quite a surprise was sprung upon the friends of the young people last Monday when Miss Belle Sorrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Sorrell, of Nelson, was united in marriage to Mr. C. Bernard Green in this city. It was planned by the young couple to give their friends a surprise and they succeeded. They left home for the purpose of attending the exercises at Mineral Spring school, but instead came to Durham. They were happily married in the office of Mr. D. W. Sorrell, brother of the bride, by Justice Cox, after which they returned to their home at Nelson to inform their friends of the event. Both young people are well known in Durham and have many friends that will wish them much happiness.

The attorneys of Mr. C. P. Howerton have served notice on the city that suit will be begun against it for damages on account of a drain pipe which it is claimed that has been neglected by the city.
