DEATH RECORD.

DEATH OF MR. BRYANT.

The Charlotte News of Tuesday carried an account of the death of Mr. Henry Bryant, the father of Mr. Victor S. Bryant, of this city, Sunday last.

The Senior Mr. Bryant was a Providence, Mecklenburg county farmer. The item from the paper conveys these facts.

Mr. Bryant was stricken with paralysis a year or more ago, and since that time had been confined to the house. His condition varied, at times being better; at times his death was almost momentarily expected. He bore his affliction with patience and fortitude. His decline towards the last was gradual. The light of a glorious Easter morn flooded with its radiance shortly after his spirit had gone forth.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon by Rev. Mr. Parker, of Providence church, and the interment will be in Providence church grave yard. Mr. Victor S. Bryant of Durham, and Mr. Pegrum Bryant, of Statesville, sons of deceased, reached Charlotte yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and went to Providence by automobile. Mr. H. E. C. Bryant, of Washington, another son, will not be able to get here. Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Robey—the latter a daughter of Mr. Bryant—went to Providence yesterday morning shortly after receiving a phone message of Mr. Bryant's death.

MRS. J. J. ROGERS.

Mrs. J. J. Rogers died Tuesday morning after a short illness lasting less than a week.

The cause of Mrs. Rogers' death was congestion of the brain following an apoplectic stroke. She grew rapidly worse and Monday a number of her relatives came to her bedside. She lost consciousness several days ago and from the start it became apparent that she would have a desperate fight for her life.

She was sixty-five years of age and in her maiden life was known as Miss Barbara Ann West. She was a native of Cumberland county, coming from the vicinity of Fayetteville in 1837. She was forty-seven years married and leaves five children. These are Mrs. L. M. Holloway, Mrs. Olive Herndon, Mrs. W. J. Monk, Messrs. L. D. and C. J. Rogers. There are two sisters, also two brothers; Mrs. H. B. Downing, of Fayetteville, and Mrs. A. J. Gay, of the county from which came Mrs. Rogers, being the sisters, and Messrs. J. P. and A. N. West, the brothers.

She was six years proprietress of the Church Street hotel and was a prominent church lady, belonging to the Memorial congregation. The funeral services took place there Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. M. Bradshaw, the pastor, officiating.

DEATH OF MR. HOLT.

A message was received here last night telling of the death of Mr. E. P. Holt, of Willardsville.

Mr. Holt had been critically ill several days and since Monday there was offered no hope for him. He began with typhoid fever and developed into pneumonia. His father attended him throughout the illness and was assisted by physicians elsewhere.

Mr. Holt was the son of Dr. E. M. Holt, of Willardsville, and has numerous relatives here and elsewhere. He had visited Durham often and was known well to the people of this and other localities.

News was received in the city Tuesday of the death in Norfolk, Va., of Henry Plaz, formerly of this city.

DEATH OF MRS. F. M. CARLTON.

After Lingered Illness a Good Woman Answers the Final Summons.

After a lingering illness, covering a period of more than ten months, Mrs. Alice E. Carlton, wife of Frank M. Carlton, died at her home on McMannen street last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Carlton was born in Alamance county March 22, 1856, and was 54 years of age four days ago. In 1880 she moved with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Turrentine, to the city and had lived here since. She was married November 10, 1892, to Mr. F. M. Carlton, who survives her. Besides her husband she leaves a sister, Mrs. Annie N. Piper, Mr. W. D. Turrentine, a brother, Mrs. J. S. Measley, a sister, Mrs. P. H. Massey, of Durham county, a sister, Mrs. A. G. Elliott, of this city, another sister, and Mrs. W. R. Israel, Hartford Connecticut, a sister.

Since December of last year, Mrs. Carlton has been attended by her niece, Miss Lillian Massey, who resigned her position as teacher in High Point to come here and comfort her aunt during her last hours.

The funeral took place from the home Saturday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. T. Adams, of Trinity church, after which the interment took place in Maplewood cemetery.

Another amusing case was heard this week in which R. L. Jordan was suing for possession of his land. The full details of the matter were presented to the jury and they deliberated over it all night and finally decided the case in favor of Mr. Jordan. Many amusing things were brought out during the trial.

To Erect a Monument.

The Woodmen of the World, of this city, have decided to take steps to erect a monument at the Bennett place near Funston siding on the Southern railway about five miles west of Durham.

This historic place at which on the 26th day of April 1865 was the scene of the signing of agreements between Generals Johnston and Sherman, can be seen from the Southern train as it passes. This log house, in which the agreement was signed, has been enclosed by a board structure to protect it, and is now the property of Mr. B. L. Duke, of this city. The Woodmen propose to erect a structure here in the shape of a marble shaft that will mark it so that all who pass may know just where the place is and the historic interest that surrounds it. To this end a committee has been appointed to prepare a program and look into other matters relative to the carrying out of their plans outlined and have the marble marker erected and suitable exercises on the anniversary, which will be next April the 26th.

The Lafayette base ball team that played Trinity college last Thursday and Friday winning one game and losing one, was entertained by the faculty and students of the Southern Conservatory of Music Friday, and spent a very pleasant evening. Also the Amherst boys, who played Saturday and Monday were given a reception Saturday night. It is the purpose of the faculty of this institution to make it pleasant for boys of Northern colleges that come here and show them genuine Southern hospitality.
