

SHORT LOCAL ITEMS

Pridgen & Jones have a new ad in this issue to which your attention is called.

Julie B. Warren, who has been teaching school at Gastonia, is at home for the summer.

Mr. P. B. Cheek is confined to his home on Parker street with typhoid fever. His condition is not considered serious.

Five colored people filed on the calendar of the next term of Durham court pleadings for divorce in one day this week.

Many of the student of the Southern Conservatory of Music returned home last week after the commencement exercises were over.

Mr. W. E. Holt, who has made Durham his home for a number of years, has decided to move out west and will sell all his property here.

Mr. S. O. Yates, who has been with the Main Street Pharmacy for some time, returned to Raleigh last week, where he will reside in the future.

Two alarms of fire were sent last Monday night. The damage did not amount to anything and the response of the fire companies was unnecessary.

Bishop J. C. Kilgo returned to Durham this week from Ashville, where he had been attending the conference. He was elected and ordained during the session just closed.

An eclipse of the moon Monday night attracted considerable attention and caused many people that had been watching the comet to have something new to look at.

The remains of Lonnie Maynor, who die in Portsmouth, Va., were brought here last Friday for interment. The funeral and burial took place Friday afternoon at Rose Sharon church.

A negro by the name of Andrew Rogers was arrested Wednesday charged with embezzlement. The case against him is that he collected money for the building of the church and failed to turn same over.

The funeral of Mrs. J. B. Cates, who died Sunday at Watts hospital, took place Monday. Mrs. Cates was 43 years of age and had been an invalid for a number of years. She was survived by three children.

Miss Nellie Powell was united in marriage to Mr. J. T. Reade Tuesday morning of this week at the home of Mrs. W. M. Speed. The young couple left immediately for a bridal tour before returning to this city, where they will make their home.

Miss Mildred J. Levy, daughter of the late Jacob Levy, was united in marriage to Mr. Sidney Jacobs, of Philadelphia, last Wednesday. Rabbi E. N. Calisch officiated. The bride and groom left at once for a wedding trip. They will make their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. B. N. Duke, who has been in the city for several weeks, is confined to his home by sickness. Sunday he was considered to be in a serious condition, but to-day his condition is much improved. He has typhoid fever, but his physician does not fear the consequences for him.

The Burch-Gorman company have rented the store room on Mangum street formerly occupied by John T. Pope, and will use it as their trunk store. They have carried this line for some time, but having more room will enable them to carry a more complete line.

The Lipscombe place was finally sold last Saturday. The purchaser was W. W. Mason and the price paid was $4,510. This is considered a good price for the place, but the place is of exceptional value owing to the fact that it is located near the N. & W. Railway on the Rougemont road, which is considered the best road in the county.

Merchants Take Action.

The merchants association of Durham, N. C., made and passed the following resolutions regarding the recent election of Rev. Dr. John C. Kilgo, to the bishopric, by the Southern Methodist Episcopal conference, recently held at Ashville, N. C.

Resolved: That the merchants association of Durham, N. C., has learned that Rev. Dr. John C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, one of our citizens, one who has always stood for the highest and best standards that go to make good citizenship in the broadest sense, has been honored by the Methodist Episcopal conference by electing him as one of its bishops, the highest honor in the gift of the church.

In thus honoring one of our citizens, one who has always stood for such high and broad standards, and one whose life has been given to the uplift of his fellowmen, Durham feels justly honored, and we, as business men of our city desire by this resolution to express our gratification at his election, and in this connection beg to express the hope that Bishop Kilgo will make in the future our city his home.

It was ordered that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to Bishop Kilgo.

P. W. VAUGHAN, President.
J. F. TAYLOR, Secretary.

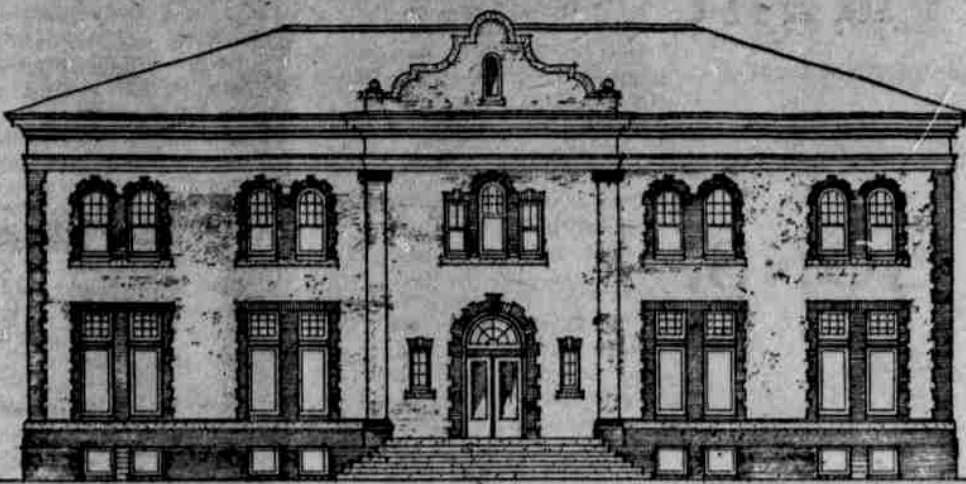

The strike of the clerks on the N & W railway has been declared off and many of the employes have returned to their work, and the indications are that the railway won in the fight. Four of the seven men that quit in Durham are again on their jobs and the work goes on in the office smoothly.

Invitations have been received to the wedding of Miss Louise Elizabeth Wyatt to Dr. Carl P. Norris, of this city, the wedding to take place Wednesday, June 8th at nine o'clock at the home of the brides parents in Raleigh. Dr. Norris has many friends in Durham that will wish for him much happiness.

Will Corner Blackberry Crop.

Mr. A. F. Messick has returned home from a trip to Statesville, Wilkesboro, Elkin and other places in an automobile in company with Mr. Paul Garrett, the big wine manufacturer of Weldon. They went to the places mentioned to inspect the outlook for the 1910 crop of blackberries. While away, they made contracts for 2,000,000 pounds of blackberries. Mr. Messick says that the outlook for a splendid crop of berries in this and adjoining counties is splendid this year.

The berries will be boiled in 300-gallon receptacles and the juice will be sent to Norfolk in airtight cans. The berries will be converted into non-intoxicating juice similar to grape juice.—Winston Sentinel.

9. The school for Post-Graduates and for Special Study.

The Arts and Crafts Industrial Institute aims to render fit for practical service the students taking the full course. Classes for women: Domestic Science, Plain Sewing, Dressmaking, Millinery, Sicknursing, Stenography and typewriting, Book-keeping, Bookbinding. For men Farming, Dairy, Market gardening, Forestry, Horticulture, Carpentry, Blacksmithing, Wagon making, Bricklaying, Plastering, Cement work, Upholstery, House painting, paper hanging, Mural decoration and Fresco, Printing, Restaurant keeping, Waiting, Machinery repairs etc.

The site for the location of this school is on the Southern suburbs of the city, just half a mile from the corporate limits, and is ideal for the location of such an institution. The property on which the buildings will be erected is worth about $6,000.

Four buildings are now being erected. They are two dormitories, an auditorium and dining room. The total cost of all the work now being done will be about $20,000.

Around the site of the beginning of this institution is a busy scene and it is the purpose of Dr. Shepard to have the opening on July the 5th at which time Judge J. C. Pritchard, president of the board of trustees will deliver the opening address.

Dr. Shepard expects next week to go North in the interest of this institution and will be accompanied by ex-Governor Glenn who has consented to make several addresses during the first part of the month. The result of this tour will mean much to the institution in a financial way.

The Durham Dulcet quartette will go north and sing at the meetings to be held and the impression created will aid Dr. Shepard in every way possible.

Attempt to Rob the Safe.

Wednesday night an attempt was made to rob the safe of the Durham Light & Power company, and the robber was disturbed in the act, but from the work he had accomplished it made little difference as he would have been busy a long time before he could have done anything the way he was getting along. He was trying to get into the safe by sawing off the hinges with a hack saw.

Mr. Sligo, the manager, happened to be down the street 11 o'clock and went by the office when he found the fellow, who immediately made his escape. The company do not pretend to keep any money on hand in this safe, and the fellow evidently knew little about the situation.

Mr. W. B. Irvin, who has been out west for several years is in the city on a visit to relatives. He expects to return to his western home by the way of New York, where he will spend several days on business.
