Board of County Commissioners Will Meet in Called Session Wednesday to Consider Similar Action for Durham Township and County—Quarantine Will be Maintained.

Following the lengthy joint session of some of the members of the board of county commissioners and the city board of health late Friday afternoon it was decided by the board of health to take action at once and compel every person to be vaccinated by Wednesday morning, February 1. The board of county commissioners were unable to take any action as a quorum was not present, and for the purpose of considering the question for Durham township and Durham county a special meeting was called for Wednesday. By the order of the board compelling compulsory vaccination, the strict quarantine regulations will be continued, and a fine of $5 will be imposed upon every one failing to comply with the vaccination ordinance for every day after the first of the month.

The ordinances as passed by the board of health are as follows:

Sec. 1. Each day such person shall violate this provision shall constitute a separate offense.

Sec. 2. Be it further ordained that if any person subject to the provisions of the foregoing section, claims that vaccination will be dangerous to his or her health, such person shall be examined by a reputable physician, and if after such examination, said physician shall be of the opinion that vaccination is dangerous to the health of such person such physician shall notify the health officer of the city of Durham, giving a full report in writing of said examination, and if said health officer shall approve such examination he shall give such person a certificate to the effect that the person holding such certificate shall be exempt from vaccination.

Sec. 3. Be it further ordained that any parent, guardian or any other person, having control of a child under 15 years of age who has not been successfully vaccinated as above provided and who is not immune from smallpox and fails to procure the certificate as above provided for, such parent, guardian or other person having control of such child shall be fined $5. Adopted at a regular meeting of the board of health of the city of Durham on the 27th day of January, 1911.

Shake-Up is Coming in Customs Service

New York, Jan. 30.—The rank and file of the local customs service is much exercised over the report which has been circulated here that more than a dozen names have been transmitted to Washington with the recommendation that they be dropped "for the good of the service."

COMPULSORY VACCINATION

This Action Favored at Joint Meeting Friday

WILL TAKE ACTION SOON

Board of County Commissioners and City Board of Health Meeting Friday Afternoon Discussed General and Compulsory Vaccination.

At joint meeting of Durham board of health and the county commissioners Friday afternoon the members present favored compulsory vaccination to prevent the further spread of smallpox. A general vaccination, without quarantine barriers, was also favored and letters from the secretary of health of South Carolina to Dr. Rankin, secretary of the state board of health of North Carolina, were read. Many of the members of the board of commissioners were in favor of the compulsory form although there were some to compelling every person to be vaccinated as that would create much dissatisfaction, on the other hand a general vaccination with no barriers on quarantine would mean that every town in the state would quarantine against Durham, thus injuring the merchants and manufacturers in the sale of their commodities.

Among those who spoke in favor of taking action along this line were Mayor Griswold, Dr. Manning, Dr. Mann and Mr. T. B. Fuller. Mr. W. A. Erwin stated that West Durham was willing to follow the lead of Durham in handling this situation, but that he was unable to require compulsory vaccination alone in his mills, when many of the residents of this section worked in other factories. Mr. L. B. Markham, chairman of the board of commissioners, stated that as only some of the members of the board were present he was unable to state their position upon compulsory vaccination.

It was stated that as long as there was in Durham men like Mr. E. O. Patterson, it would be difficult to handle the situation properly unless compulsory steps were taken. The view of the gentlemen present was that the best medical experts recommended vaccination for the disease and that this step should be taken, being the best information that they were able to obtain upon the subject.

League is Organized to Promote Paternity

Fort Valley, Ga., Jan. 30.—People in this state are beginning to believe that the stork nests on the pot of gold at the rainbow's end for every time he makes a journey into Georgia it means $100 to the home he visits.

The Parents' Home League of America, domiciled here, claims the credit for the increasing frequency and the enhanced profitability of bonus of $100 for each child born to one of its members and pays to heirs of any of its members dying from $700 to $1,200, according to the number of children left by decedent. The league, which declares its purpose to promote paternity, has established several hundred lodges.

Miss Helen Gould to be Head of Wellesley

Boston, Jan. 30.—Helen Miller Gould will be the next president of Wellesley College, according to reports that were persistently circulated in educational circles here Friday.

Lives of Mother and Babe Sacrificed

Rehoboth, Ga., Jan. 30.—Trying in vain to save the life of her daughter, whose clothing became caught in the shafting of a cotton gin, Mrs. J. D. Wilkes sacrificed her own life and that of her baby last Friday. The little girl screamed for help as she felt herself drawn into the machinery. Her mother, who was nearby, sprang to aid her. She, too, was caught, and the baby, which was in her arms was hurled to the floor and killed. The mother and daughter died soon afterward.

W. D. CARMICHAEL MADE PRESIDENT

City Public School Superintendents Elected Officers

OPPOSE TEXT BOOK BILL

Bill to Establish School to Teach Feeble Minded and Erection of State Administration Building Encouraged—State Superintendent's Recommendations.

Raleigh, Jan. 28.—The North Carolina Association of City Public School Superintendents, in annual session here last night, elected officers as follows for the ensuing year: President, W. D. Carmichael, Durham; vice-president, S. L. Sheep, Elizabeth City; secretary, A. T. Allen, Salisbury. The association adopted a resolution endorsing the bill in the general assembly providing for the erection of a state administration building in which to house the various state departments and keep the state's valuable manuscripts and other records safe from fire. The bill to establish a school to teach feeble minded was also endorsed. The association engaged in a heated discussion yesterday afternoon of the resolution regarding the membership of the state text book commission. Supt. Bruce Craven, of Winston, led the fight against the proposed bill of State Supt. J. Y. Joyner, providing that the text book commission shall be composed of the state board of education and seven teachers. Professor Craven argued that the text book commission should consist of teachers entirely as they are the ones who should know exactly what books are best for the child. State Superintendent's Recommendations.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, state superintendent of public instruction, was here invited to address the association. After telling of his pleasure at being in attendance, he spoke concerning two of his recommendations to the legislature, which he said he understood had been criticized by members of the association. The first of these was as to having added to the present state text book commission of seven, which is the state board of education, two primary teachers, two city superintendents, seven in all. He said that he was clear on this point, and that he would never agree to having turned down the state board of education, composed of men good and true, or reflecting on them by having an entire new board. His plan was to add a professional board of equal number, and that this ought to be satisfactory, and there would be professional and business interests represented; that the people at large elected the state board and were entitled to recognition. He declared he would maintain his position in this recommendation.

The second recommendation was as to uniform text books in country and city. He thought this to be wise and economical, but in view of various local conditions, that if the superintendents' association voted that it did not want this, that he would not press or insist upon it, but would be guided by the action of the superintendents. If, however, this was the view of the organization, then no city superintendent could, with respect to himself, be on the state text book commission to select books not to be used in the city schools; that it would not be showing respect to the country schools. His purpose was for a closer union of the schools, but if the superintendents thought it best not to have uniform text books he would abide by their decision.

There was great applause for Dr. Joyner, and he prepared to leave, as his recommendations were to be discussed, but Superintendent Bruce Craven and Superintendent Alex Graham, of Charlotte, declared that the association would be glad to have him remain.

Ballinger Declares Enemies Don't Count

Boston, Jan. 30.—In the opinion of Secretary of the Interior Richard A. Ballinger, many of the present-day reformers do their work by uprooting the endeavors of good men and leaving the roots exposed. At a speech delivered at an alumni banquet of Williams college Friday, he said that his enemies did not matter, and he did not intend to show his scars of battle by relating his experiences.

TELLS OF FIGHT OF SCHENK JURY

Juror Heyman Ordered Out When Returns

SAYS ONLY DID HIS DUTY

Mrs. Schenk Was Released on Bail Today and Her Attorneys Expressed Belief That She Will Never Be Tried Again—Husband Was Disappointed.

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 28.—The story of the fight behind the door of the jury room during the ten hours, actual deliberation over the guilt or innocence of Mrs. Laura Schenk, of the charge of attempting to poison her millionaire husband, was told by Isaac Heyman, the one juror who all day stood out for conviction against the eleven clamoring for acquittal. "This is my first jury experience, and I hope to God it's my last," Heyman said. He was pale and his eyes were bloodshot. The effect of the vigil showed, too, in his nervously working hands. Heyman formerly was traveling salesman for the Myers Provision company.

"It isn't fair." "They're saying around town that I was influenced by money," he said hoarsely. "That isn't fair. It isn't right. Why, I've lived here 40 years. Before God, it isn't fair."

"Why, I'm up against it. I went up to the Myers company a little while ago, and they ordered me out—fired me out. Do you understand? A little clerk tried to put me out. He swore at me. I went to see the boss. 'Am I forbidden to stay in here?' I asked him. He said 'Yes.' See what I'm up against?"

"And it's just because I couldn't forget my oath. I would have stayed in that jury room until I rotted before I would have voted to free that woman. I couldn't."

"First, we voted 8 to 3 to free her. One fellow was too weak-kneed to say what he thought. "The second ballot was 9 to 3. It stood that way all Wednesday night. Thursday morning the ballot was 11 to 1. I was the one."

John Schenk, the millionaire husband of the woman, was disappointed when he heard that the jury had failed to convict. He also denied emphatically that there would be any reconciliation, and announced his intention of fighting for the children.

That Mrs. Schenk will never be tried again was the opinion expressed by her attorneys, O'Brien and Boyce. Mrs. Schenk was released on bail today.

Woman Freezes to Death in Yadkin

Winston-Salem, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Calvin Tucker, whose home is near Hamptonville, Yadkin county, was found last Monday near Long's bridge on the Hamptonville and Yadkinville road by Mr. J. F. Long in a dying condition. She was not dead when found, but died in a few minutes after. The Elkin Times says she had left home Sunday afternoon or night and the family and neighbors had been out hunting for her. When found by Mr. Long she was lying near Deep creek and her clothing was wet, and Mr. Long thinks she had been in the creek, and the opinion is expressed that she died from freezing. Her mind was unbalanced and it is reported she had been in the hospital for the insane at Morganton.

HOUSTON DOVE IS HELD FOR CRIME

Coroner's Jury Places Blame on Him For Roycroft's Death

TO BE TRIED NEXT WEEK

Attorney Victor S. Bryant and General Royster Will Represent Defendant who is Alleged to Have Killed Roycroft in a Fight Friday Night Near Bennahan.

As a result of the verdict of the coroner's jury, which held an inquest late Saturday afternoon as to the cause of the death of Mr. Joseph Roycroft, who was killed Friday night in a fight in the near-beer saloon of William McAlvery, one-fourth of a mile from Bennahan, as told in Saturday's Sun, G. Houston Dove is being held without bail charged with the crime. The fight which led to the fatal killing was the outcome of the men being drunk, and the testimony heard by the jury showed that Dove and Roycroft had fought over a trivial matter, the latter receiving a severe cut across his throat, which severed the jugular vein, and caused death.

Coroner's Inquest. The coroner's jury, composed of C. M. Llewellyn, J. W. Hester, W. H. Averett, E. E. Chappelle, J. H. Wheeler and J. E. Cooley, after hearing a number of witnesses, who testified that Dove and Roycroft had engaged in a fight at the saloon, that Roycroft had broken a beer bottle over the head of Dove and that in return the latter had attacked Roycroft with a knife, rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a knife in the hands of G. H. Dove, and that the defendant should be held without bond. The prisoner stated that he had fought with Roycroft but that he lost his knife when attacked with a bottle by Roycroft, and that afterwards he assisted the family in locating Roycroft, who was found cold in death in a field nearby, Saturday morning at 2 o'clock.

Both Men Prominent. As told in the Sun Saturday afternoon, Joseph Roycroft was a well-to-do farmer, but was always ready to fight when he was under the influence of liquor. G. Houston Dove, the prisoner, was well-known here, and was formerly a member of the firm of Dove, Keith and Connelly. Roycroft was formerly in business also, being a member of the firm of Ruffin and Roycroft. The funeral of the dead man was conducted Sunday afternoon from his home. He is survived by a wife and seven children, and several brothers.

Trial Next Week. Houston Dove will be tried at the next term of Granville criminal court, which begins next Monday. He will be represented by Attorney Victor S. Bryant, of this city, and General Royster, of Oxford.

Manager E. F. McCulloch has announced a schedule of 23 games for the Carolina baseball team. Eleven are on the home diamond and twelve away. The three games with the University of Virginia have been arranged and come—in Greensboro, April 8; in Charlotte, April 10, and in Charlottesville, Va., April 21. I. plays in Chapel Hill for the first time since 1907. Davidson has two games, one of which will be played in Durham. Wake Forest has two games, one to be played in Raleigh. The Guilford games are Greensboro and Chapel Hill. The northern trip, which begins with the third Virginia game in Charlottesville, will include games with Catholic University and Georgetown at Washington, Navy at Annapolis and the first return game to be played with Lafayette at Easton, Pa. Apart from the fact that the two Virginia games had to come so early in the season, the schedule is regarded as being very well ordered. Manager McCulloch, it is thought, took a wise step when he got these two games on Saturday and Monday, with a day for rest intervening.

The schedule is: March 17, Oak Ridge at Chapel Hill. March 25, Wake Forest at Raleigh. March 27, Davidson at Charlotte. March 28, Amherst at Chapel Hill. March 29, Amherst at Chapel Hill. Sensational Suit in Madison County

Asheville, Jan. 30.—One of the most sensational suits tried in Madison county for quite a while came to a close Saturday when the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendant in the suit of Enoch Rector, Jr., against Henry Worley. The suit involved the validity of two notes, one for $589, supposed to have been given November 17, 1898, and another for $125 of date of September 14, 1904. A large number of witnesses were introduced and it is said the whole county divided up into two sects, one favoring Rector and the other Worley. The defendant set up as a defense the allegation of fraud and the jury found with that side. The plaintiffs were represented by Gudgeon and McElroy and the defendants T. S. Rollins, and Zachery and Roberts. The court costs amounted to $300.

Bishop Cheshire to Visit Durham March 5

Rt. Rev. Joseph B. Cheshire, D.D., bishop of the Diocese of North Carolina, will make his official visit to St. Philip's parish, this city, on Sunday, March 5th—the first Sunday in Lent. Those who contemplate coming in full communion with the Episcopal church, and are studying the rite of confirmation, are requested to make the fact known to the rector, Rev. S. S. Best, as soon as possible, so that the confirmation class may be formed. The visitations of Bishop Cheshire to this city are always looked forward to with pleasure, and he is heard here by large congregations. The bishop was the first rector of St. Philip's church in its infancy, and while a student at Chapel Hill he frequently walked over to Durham, held services, and then walked back to the university.

A Pig With Eight Legs

Lumberton, Jan. 30.—Mr. W. H. Stalvey had on exhibition at his barber shop here Saturday a curiosity in the shape of a pig having eight legs. This pig was purchased from a farmer living near town and is a perfect specimen with the exception that he has enough legs for two pigs.

FOR AND AGAINST PIEDMONT CO.

Delegations Will Swoop Down Upon Raleigh This Week

RAILROAD HEARING TUESDAY

Raleigh Has About Abandoned the Idea of Securing Commission Form of Government From This Legislature Unless State-wide Bill is Enacted to Change Charters.

Raleigh, Jan. 30.—Delegations numbering into the hundreds will swoop down upon the legislature this week from High Point and Greensboro, the former to press their claims for the establishment of Piedmont county, with High Point as the county seat, and the latter to oppose the movement. For months the people of High Point and surrounding territory have been waging the campaign for the new county carved out of portions of Guilford, Davidson and Randolph, and ever since the general assembly has been in session Piedmont headquarters have been maintained at the Yarrowborough here. The Piedmont advocates have chartered a special train of ten coaches to bring the delegation from High Point to Raleigh Tuesday, and every factory in High Point will shut down that day to give their employees an opportunity of coming here to lend their help in making the determined fight for the new county. Equally determined against the movement will be the large delegation that will be here Tuesday from Greensboro and surrounding section. A largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in Greensboro Saturday resolutions of protest against the dismemberment of Guilford were adopted and the Greensboro delegation will have some of that city's best speakers at the hearing Tuesday afternoon and evening before the joint senate and house committees on counties, cities and towns. Each side will come to Raleigh confident of victory and the contest will not only prove interesting but spirited and hard fought. The joint committees will announce their decision Tuesday as to whether or not they will report favorably on the proposition to establish Avery county out of Mitchell and Caldwell. The question of establishing Hoke county out of Cumberland and Robeson has already been reported favorably, and will be fought out on the floor of the senate and house as a special order in each house during the week.

It looks like Raleigh has about abandoned the idea of securing commission form of government from this legislature, unless possibly there is the enactment of the state-wide bill to allow cities and towns to adopt and change their charters at will, subject to the approval of the attorney-general of the state as to constitutionality. The aldermen are moving now, through a legislative committee, to procure amendments to the present charter that will allow the election of aldermen by the voters of the city at large, two from each ward. The present system is for each ward to elect its own representatives on the board of aldermen. The aldermen are also planning to secure the right to issue street improvement bonds. Some want $150,000, others want $250,000, and the more progressive and daring in such matters are insisting that not less than $500,000 should be provided for the work during the next two years.

Uniform Bill of Lading

The uniform bill of lading measure is to have its final hearing before the judiciary committee No. 2 Tuesday afternoon. This is the bill for which the banking interests of the state are making the principal fight and the railroads are strenuously opposing. It would make bills of lading for cotton absolutely negotiable paper that can be hypothecated by the holder at will, the carrier issuing it being liable for the cotton it represents and for any fraud that may be practiced in its issuance by any agent.

Hearing on Railroads

There will be a hearing by the senate committee on railroads Tuesday afternoon on the Bargett bill. They propose to force the railroad companies to pull mileage on the trains instead of requiring mileage tickets, by requiring all railroads that refuse this concession to sell tickets at a 2-cent rate instead of 2 1/2 cents allowed under the passenger rate act, under which it is charged that the railroads have taken advantage of the state and the traveling public in exacting the mileage ticket "nuisance" as it is denominated. The railroad authorities are to be here in force it is said for this hearing.

Lumberton, Jan. 30.—Mr. W. H. Stalvey had on exhibition at his barber shop here Saturday a curiosity in the shape of a pig having eight legs. This pig was purchased from a farmer living near town and is a perfect specimen with the exception that he has enough legs for two pigs.
