

SIXTY FEDERALS KILLED IN FIGHT

Number of Wounded Will Reach Several Hundred

El Paso, Tex., May 11.—Secure in their control of Juarez the insurgents are today clearing up the wreckage in the town and preparing to defend themselves against the attack by the federal relief force under Colonel Rabago. The defenses which were badly battered by the engagements preceding the capture of the town are being prepared to stand another attack.

It is impossible to secure an accurate estimate of the dead and wounded as the result of the fighting at Juarez, but the insurgents today expressed the opinion that about 50 federalists and 15 insurgents were killed, 350 federalists and 100 rebels were wounded. General Madero today issued a proclamation to federal prisoners offering to take them into the insurgent army if any desired to join. It is reported that a number took advantage of the offer. It is believed that as soon as Juarez has been partly rehabilitated the insurgents will march south with the intention of attacking Mexico City, thus forcing Diaz to terms.

Dr. Tyree Accepts Call To High Point Church

According to a statement just issued Dr. W. C. Tyree, of Oxford, who some time ago received a call from the First Baptist church of High Point, has accepted. The Biblical Recorder in announcing the fact states:

We consider the First Baptist church, of High Point, exceedingly fortunate in securing Dr. W. C. Tyree as their pastor. As his great pastorate in Durham and Raleigh bears witness, and as all North Carolina Baptists know, Dr. Tyree is one of the wisest, soundest, most popular, and most effective of pastors in all the land. Since closing his pastorate in Raleigh, he has been kept busy quite every Sunday in supply work and revival meetings. There will be general rejoicing among our brotherhood that he is to remain in North Carolina and unnumbered benedictions will rest upon him in his new field.

Reservations Made For Big Elks Meet

Mr. W. G. Bramham has just completed arrangements for reservation at Atlantic City hotels for the North Carolina Elks who will attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge at that city in July. It is expected that at least 400 delegates from the different lodges of the state will attend the meeting. About 75 of the members of the Durham lodge will attend and several special Pullman cars will be reserved for the Durham delegation which will leave here on July 9th.

Two Killed in Wreck of Passenger Train

Leadville, Col., May 11.—After making a thorough search of the wreckage of the Rio Grande passenger train, which was derailed near Redcliffe last night, the wrecking crew has reported that two persons, Mrs. Catherine J. Martin, of Albany, N. Y., and an unidentified child were killed and between 25 and 33 passengers were injured.

Apprehension Felt in Condition of Pope

Rome, May 11.—It was learned today that the three sisters of the Pope are virtually acting as his nurses during his enfeebled condition. It is reliably reported that the Pope displays arterial degeneration and is rapidly losing the powers of resistance. The Pope's general condition is such as to excite apprehension.

General Strike of Tobacco Workers

Tampa, Fla., May 11.—Five thousand tobacco workers walked out today and a general strike is threatened in the cigar making trade as the result of the action of Judge Wall in the federal court upholding the verdict against three men charged with intimidating the non-union workmen.

House of Jones.

Jones painted his house last year. It looks dull, dead, no life in it. Smith painted his house 10 years ago. It looks clean, nice, and don't need repainting, because he used L. & M. Paint, and added three quarts of Oil to each gallon.

The Oil gave life and preserved it. Besides—adding the Oil reduces its cost 40 cents a gallon less than other paint. Thirty-five years use in N. A. & S. A. Longman & Martinez, Manufacturers, The L. & M. Pure Paints, Varnishes and Putty for every purpose, for sale by W. A. Mabry.

The Frost. Willie—What's the most ferocious animal in the circus, papa? Pa—The callopie, my son.—Woman's Home Companion.

THE RECORDER PATTERNS

8751. A New Dress for Mother's Girl. Girl's Dress With Body and Sleeve Combined and With Tuckers That May Be Omitted.

Pasant effects are charming for girls as well as for women and the style here shown will lend itself admirably to any of those season's popular materials. White dimity was used in this instance, with bands of embroidery for decoration. The portion of the tucker-outlined by the sleeves and covered portion of the tucker were of plain lawn. The gathered skirt may be made with or without the tucks. The waist has seams at the shoulders and underarm. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 3 yards of 36 inch material for the 8 year size, with 5-8 yard for the tucker.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

ASSISTANT POSTMASTERS

STATE ORGANIZATION FORMED IN GREENSBORO WEDNESDAY.

Greensboro, May 11.—Many of the assistant postmasters of the state met here Wednesday and formed an organization similar to the association of North Carolina postmasters. Recently the assistants have been placed on the civil service basis by the government. North Carolina has taken a lead in this organization, and a state convention will be called to be held in Greensboro, July 4.

At the first meeting Wednesday Mr. W. B. Bradford, of Charlotte, was elected president, Mr. John T. Pope, of Durham, was named as secretary and treasurer, Mr. S. A. Hodgkin, of Greensboro, first vice-president; Mr. T. C. Council, of Raleigh, second vice-president.

The executive committee is composed of Messrs. W. G. Elliott, of Wilmington; W. O. Ellis, of Washington, and James Wagner, of Asheville.

Explosion in Mine Claims Five Victims

Serfonton, Pa., May 11.—Five workmen are dead following an explosion and fire in the boss vein of the Boston colliery at Clarksville today.

STATE MISSION SOCIETY ENDS ANNUAL SESSIONS

Raleigh, May 11.—The final sessions of the Home Mission Society of North Carolina was held today. The feature of the meeting Wednesday was the address at night by Rev. L. S. Massey, editor of the Raleigh Christian Advocate.

Guilt of Manslaughter.

Concord, May 11.—Walter Wall, colored, was found guilty Tuesday afternoon of manslaughter. He was charged with the killing of John Garrett, colored. Judge Biggs sentenced Wall to three years in the penitentiary.

Durham Highs Play Today.

This afternoon on the East Durham diamond the Roxboro and Durham high school teams will play the second game of this season. A lively contest is expected.

Balked at Cold Steel.

"I wouldn't let a doctor cut my foot off," said H. D. Ely, Blanton, Ohio, "although a horrible ulcer had been the plague of my life for four years. Instead I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my foot was soon completely cured." Heals Burns, Boils, Sores, Bruises, Eczema, Pimples, Corns. Surest Pile cure 25c at R. Blackhall and Son.

WILL PROTECT CITY BUILDINGS

Foreigners Arrange For Police Force in Mexico

Mexico City, May 11.—Representatives of all the countries who are represented in the diplomatic corps are today conferring as to the best method to devise means for safeguarding the lives and property of foreigners. The outcome will likely be to make an offer that the Mexican government arrange for the services of 5,000 Mexicans to act in conjunction with members of the foreign colony as a reserve police force, so as to prevent murder and rapine in the city. This foreign guard is to be absolutely neutral, and the work must be confined to the protection of public buildings and foreign quarters from any assaults of bandits.

The feeling here over the fall of Juarez is divided. Some of the leading Mexicans believe that President Diaz's resignation will prevent a protracted war, while others, who are in the majority, say Diaz can not now relinquish his office but must fight to the bitter end. Reports today show that the fighting is general in many parts of the republic.

SENTENCED TO SILENCE.

Two Minneapolis boys were recently ordered by Judge C. L. Smith in municipal court not to speak to each other for a year. The boys were under arrest charged with disorderly conduct. The probation officer told the judge that he had received complaints about their conduct.

After listening to the officers' story Judge Smith sentenced the boys to sixty days in the workhouse, but put them on the most rigid terms of probation ever laid down in Hennepin county. Judge Smith told the boys that they must not speak to one another during the term of probation; that they must stay at home nights; keep away from pool rooms and saloons and attend high school.

The New York supreme court justice who issued an injunction restraining a farmer from speaking to his wife for thirty days pending a hearing on the wife's application for alimony and counsel fee in her suit for separation, doubtless proceeded on a different theory. He may have had in mind the lover's philosophy that absence makes the heart grow fonder. The defendant, accompanied by his counsel, visited the domicile of his wife and daughter several times while the injunction was in force, and ate meals with them, but the rule of silence was strictly observed.—Case and Comment.

The Last of a Dying Race.

Normally the Tehuelches, as the Patagonian Indians are called, are a peaceable and kindly people, yet they are impulsive, capable of strong prejudices, very revengeful, and—often with good reason—suspicious of strangers. They are not to be trifled with and when under the influence of drink are brutal and dangerous. They show love for their children and wives, and kindness to their old people. They are divided into numerous tribes or groups, each having its chief or cacique, upon whom the burden of government rests but lightly. The cacique of the tribe, to whom this village belonged, was then at another camp. They believe in a good and an evil spirit, whom they propitiate, and have many stories, myths and superstitions connected with the aying of horses and the drinking of blood from a conspicuous part of their superstitious, birth, marriage and death ceremonies, many of which are repulsive.

When Maxellian first passed through the strait there were perhaps no less than 10,000 Patagonians roaming from the Rio Negro to the strait, while today, driven back from the foothills of the Andes altogether they would probably not total over 500.—Charles W. Furlong, in Harper's.

Rings True.

The statement made by Democrat Leader Underwood in the house during the debate on the Canadian reciprocity treaty last week has the ring to it. When taunted by republicans with insincerity, regarding the free list bill, he said:

"I challenge the statement that we are going to pass the free list bill later on with the expectation that it will not become a law. The free list bill will become a law, or the republican president that votes it will never be heard from again."

That, we believe, is about the sentiment of the American people; and, while from present indications it seems quite probable that the free list will meet its fate at the hands of a republican senate, the responsibility for its defeat can easily be placed where it rightfully belongs. By the passage of this bill in the house the democratic party will have proven to the nation its sincerity in performing the service demanded of it, and it will have demonstrated its right to control both houses as well as the executive office; and if we mistake not that will be the verdict of the people in 1912.—Salem Times-Register.

Spring Hits Eastern Shore

We wonder if the citizens of Salisbury are going to have a clean-up day here this spring? The time is now at hand for a general clean-up of all lots, alleys, streets, and the garbage wagon should be brought out again.—Wicomico News.

NO RECOGNITION OF INSURRECTOS

Would Mean Abandonment of All American Claims

Washington, May 11.—Recognition of the Mexican insurgents as belligerents by the United States is no nearer today than before the capture of Juarez, was declared here by officials who have been searching the records of the international law for precedents. The principal reason for not recognizing the belligerents in Mexico is that by so doing the United States would abandon all claims for reparation for damages suffered by the American citizens through the revolution. Also the recognition would be construed as a declaration of the moral support of the revolution by the United States.

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

The primary campaign for the Kentucky governorship is now on in full blast.

Ten of them are republicans and all of them are allied with the "progressive" wing of their party.

Of the twenty-two new members now sitting in the United States senate, nine have made their own fortunes.

Senator William E. Borah conducts a Bible class in one of the Presbyterian churches in the national capital.

The first republican club formed to boost President Taft for renomination has just been launched in New Jersey.

A special election is to be held in the second district of Pennsylvania this month to choose a successor to the late Congressman Joel Cook.

W. E. Monday, a former postmaster of Knoxville, has been selected to succeed ex-Congressman Hale as republican national committee member for Tennessee.

John W. Watson, who has a record of more than fifteen years' service in the Florida legislature, has announced his candidacy for the democratic nomination for governor.

Jerry South, of Arkansas, who has succeeded William J. Browning, of New Jersey as chief clerk of the national house of representatives, had had an interesting and checkered career. One of the most exciting chapters of his early career in the southwest had to do with the famous murder of the Meeks family in Missouri. A few days after the five had been slain Mr. South was on his way to a political convention in Little Rock. Stopping at a crossroads town en route his attention was attracted to two strangers and his conversation with them led to his suspicion that they were Taylor brothers, the two bankers who were suspected of the wholesale murders. Mr. South borrowed a shotgun, and captured the two men single handed on a lonely road outside the town. He took them to Little Rock with him and delivered them over to the authorities. Later the two bankers were returned to Missouri, tried and convicted of the murders.

For the first time in years all but a few of the chairmanships of the important committees of the house of representatives are now held by southern democrats.

United States Senators Martin and Swanson and Representatives Carter Glass and William Jones, who are after the senatorships in Virginia, will have to pay about $3,000 each to enter the democratic primary.

Under the Crumpacker reappointment bill there will be 72 additional delegates to the national convention of 1912. In 1908 there were 908 delegates to the republican national convention, and 1066 to the democratic national convention.

It is expected that more than 1000 democratic leaders of the Dakotas, Montana, Iowa, Idaho, Oregon, Minnesota and Washington will attend the big democratic conference of the northwest, which has been called to assemble in St. Paul early next month.

Senator Gronna, of North Dakota is one of the self-made members of the upper branch of congress. Equipped with only a common school education he served his apprenticeship as a country school teacher before he found his opportunity to acquire land in the undeveloped frontier and emerged as a prominent banker and merchant.

Ingratitude of An Ex "Boss."

"I love America," says Richard Croker, "but I would rather live in Ireland on one pound a week than in America on five pounds."

Ungrateful Mr. Croker! "Where did you get it" if not in our loving, lavish midst? You, one of the appointed rulers of our democracy, prefer to live under a monarchy! You allowed us to pay you five pounds a week as boss of Tammany hall for years and years, and then you run your one-pound-a-week racing stable in distant climes and do not even give us a chance to bet on your Derby winners!

And yet, ungrateful, as your views may seem, we could almost find it in our hearts to wish that Mr. Murphy shared them.—New York World.

THREE MORE DIE FROM POISONING

Coroner Ford Begins Active Investigation of Deaths

Philadelphia, May 11.—Coroner Ford today began active campaign to have more stringent laws enacted affecting the sale of poisonous drugs following the deaths of John Shinn, Earl Burr and Ida Arbuckle from beer containing cyanide of potassium poisoning. This makes a total of ten deaths within two months from cyanide potassium. Emily Shinn, wife of the dead man, and Michael McGinley who boarded with them, who were also nearly dead from the same poison, have recovered, and are held pending an investigation. The police allege that Shinn poisoned his wife and guests while under the influence of liquor and because of despondency of his inability to retain a position.

SAFE.

'Tis night; all the sirens are silent,
All the vultures asleep;
And the horns of the tempest are stirring

Under the deep:
'Tis night; all the snow burdened mountains
Dream of the sea,
And down in the wadi the river
Is calling to me.

'Tis night; all the caves of the spirit
Shake with desire,
And the Orient heaven's essaying
Its lanes of fire;
They hear in the stillness that covers
The land and the sea,
The river in the heart of the wadi,
Calling to me.

'Tis night, but a night of great joyance,
A night of unrest—
The night of the birth of the spirit
Of the east and the west;
And the caves and the mountains
Are dappling
On the foam of the sea,
For the river inundant is calling,
Calling to me.

—Ameen Ribani, in the American.
