JAS. E. CARRIGAN PRAYS DIVORCE

Accuses Wife of "Whoring and Dining" Other Men

ONCE LIVED IN DURHAM

Wife Has Now Left Home and Husband Asks for an Absolute Dissolution of Matrimony and the Custody of His Two Small Children, a Girl and a Boy.

Grenoboro, Aug. 2.—Yesterday morning a complaint was filed with the clerk of Guilford county superior court in which James E. Carrigan prays for an absolute divorce from his wife, Sadie Thaxton Carrigan, on account of scandalous conduct on the part of the defendant. The papers were filed by Attorney G. S. Bradshaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan formerly were residents of Greensboro and she, for a time, ranked high in social circles. They moved to Durham the first of last year, and there made their home until the past spring when, it is stated, Mrs. Carrigan left for parts unknown. Mr. Carrigan is a prominent salesman, is very popular, and is prominently connected socially and otherwise in the state.

In the complaint it is stated, first, that Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan were lawfully married in Alamance county the first of February, 1905; that they lived in Graham a few months, in Burlington a few months, and that they moved to Greensboro the first of February, 1907.

It is stated that soon thereafter the defendant, in the absence of the plaintiff, "received marked attention from men, whoring and dining them at card parties and otherwise" at the plaintiff's home while he mildly protested against this conduct on her part and admonished her from time to time without result; that in the face of and in spite of the repeated protests of him, her conduct continued to grow worse until the first of February, 1910, when he, in order to remove her from the temptations of her environments and associates, moved temporarily to Durham in the hope that a temporary stay there among strangers and new friends might cause a change in the life and habits of the defendant and bring her back to a sense of her duty to the plaintiff and to her two children.

That after removing to Durham the conduct of the defendant was even worse than while living in Greensboro, and that she continued in the absence of her husband, to receive attention from men in Greensboro and formed acquaintances with others.

That the defendant, about the first of March, this year, left and fled to parts unknown and abandoned said home, living separate and apart from the plaintiff, who has heard nothing of her and knows nothing of her whereabouts.

The plaintiff prays for judgment that matrimony be dissolved absolutely, that absolute divorce be granted, and that the custody of the two children, a daughter of 5 years of age, and a son of 3 years, now living with him, be awarded to him, asking "for judgment for such other and further relief as to the court may seem right and proper."

To Discuss Railroad Rates.
St. Louis, Aug. 3.—A conference of attorneys general from ten states is to be held in this city tomorrow for the discussion of the 2-cent fare dispute and other pending railroad rate litigation. The states to be represented are Oregon, Kentucky, South Dakota, Arkansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Minnesota and Missouri.

English Aviator Killed.
London, Aug. 3.—Gerald Napier, a young English aviator, met death yesterday evening while flying with a passenger at Brooklands. A sudden gust of wind dashed his machine to the ground, killing him instantly. His companion escaped uninjured.

THERE WILL BE 2 BOOK REPORTS

Sub-Commission Failed to Agree on Recommendations

BOOKMEN WANT REHEARING

The Reports of the Sub-Commission Will Be Made Late This Afternoon—Bids Will Be Opened From Publishers by the Whole Commission.

Raleigh, Aug. 3.—The state text book commission in session this afternoon preparatory to the formal adoption of text books will later in the afternoon receive the report of the sub-commission on the examinations the sub-commissioners have made of the books offered. There is understood to be two reports, two of the sub-commissioners disagreeing with the other four as to recommendations. The disagreement of the sub-commissioners materially complicates the adoption, throwing the responsibility more wholly on the state officers constituting the commission proper.

The commission also today opened the bids by the publishers showing the prices at which the books are offered. The fact that Governor Kitchin was obliged to leave the city this afternoon to fill an engagement that will keep him out of the city until Sunday necessitated adjournment to Monday, when the work of adoption will then be taken up.

The city is full of bookmen representing the various publishers, and it is said that some are striving to force a reopening of hearings on account of marked copies of newspapers containing articles on the pending adoption to various state officers, the charge being made that this was done by some of the bookmen in violation of an agreement that there were to be no communications whatever with the commissioners after the formal hearings were concluded three weeks ago. Just who mailed the marked newspapers does not yet appear and the contest over the matter is being watched with interest.

A Number of New Residences.
Henderson, Aug. 3.—A number of residences are being erected in Henderson, among which is a handsome two-story frame structure of eight rooms owned by Prof. J. T. Alderman on Turner avenue. In the same vicinity Mr. George Harold has in course of construction several very comfortable cottages, all of which have been rented. There is hardly a respectable residence to be had in the town.

SIMON FLEES FROM CAPITAL

HAITIEN REVOLUTIONISTS WIN A COMPLETE VICTORY.

Port au Prince, Haiti, Aug. 3.—The revolution in Haiti has triumphed. President Antoine Simon fled the capital yesterday and took refuge on board the Haitian cruiser Seventeenth December, formerly the yacht American. With him are his wife and children and a number of his followers.

On all sides the capital is invested by followers of General Firmin, one of the revolutionary leaders. The city itself is in the hands of a committee of safety and there is no general disorder. Foreign interests are believed to be secure. None of the foreign battleships have landed their blue jackets.

The departure of the aged president was not without disorder, however, for as he was embarking at the wharf, there was a riotous demonstration in which the ex-president's chamberlain, Deputy Prié, of Jérémie, and five other persons were killed and Clementine Simon, his daughter, and six other persons, were wounded. The injuries of Miss Simon are slight.

BIG SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST IS RAPIDLY WARMING UP

Additional Final Prizes Offered Besides the $425.00 Cote Piano and the Buggy—$100.00 Special Prize Is Gold Watch and a $55.00 Scholarship in the Southern Shorthand and Business College of Atlanta, Georgia

The ancient Greeks described opportunity as a woman with long hair on her forehead but absolutely bald on the back of her head. They also stated that opportunity was easy to capture if met face to face and simply taking hold of her long forelocks. But after she had passed you by it was impossible to overtake her as she was exceedingly fleet of foot. There is a great truth to learn from this by the contestants in the Recorder contest—be on your guard and seize "Miss Opportunity" by her forelock before she passes you by.

A great opportunity to secure a handsome $425.00 Cote Piano, a lovely Gold Watch and a Scholarship to the well-known Southern Shorthand and Business University, of Atlanta, Ga., and other valuable prizes that will be announced later has been placed before the energetic young ladies, young men, (and married folks too) of this and adjoining counties. Now is your time to decide whether you will let the opportunity of a life time slip by without an attempt either to win one of the prizes for yourself or help someone else in their efforts. Surely there is some contestant who you can make happy just by sending her your subscription to the Recorder for one or more years. The price is small and every subscriber receives two beautiful pictures and the paper for a year for $1.00 only.

Many 10,000 Additional Votes Waiting.
Contestants, how many $5.00 bills have you secured in order to get the 10,000 additional votes? If you haven't gotten up at least five or ten dollars, get busy and get it before Saturday night.

Who Will Get the Buggy?
Do not forget that the first one sending in $100.00 by August 22nd, noon, will get the excellent buggy given by the contest management. Start out today determined to win the buggy, work energetically and success will crown your efforts. Determination coupled with indomitable will power will certainly produce satisfactory results.

Contestants, do not be afraid to stop everyone you see and ask them for help. You are in the race to win and the very man you let pass by today without asking him for your subscription was probably the one that would have given you five or ten years' subscription—See everyone.

A Word to the People of the Country
We trust that none of us are narrow minded enough to undertake to obtain pleasure in this world by living for ourselves. What would life be if it were not for our companions and our friends who undertake to make us happy? When we try to please and show our appreciation of their efforts in our behalf, and their interest in us by returning every possible courtesy, and assisting them in every conceivable manner.

Consider this matter and when a lady approaches you and solicits your subscription to the Recorder, think of the happiness, the pleasure, the Godliness this prize will install into the homes of the ladies who so earnestly desire it. Think of that young lady's happiness and pleasure before you answer No in a gruff, harsh voice that will discourage her.

GREAT REUNION AT WILMINGTON

Confederate Veterans Having Good Time at Seashore

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Address of Welcome by Mayor Smith and Response by Colonel Burgwyn—Senator Dixon Thanked for Defending North Carolina Soldiers—Protest Against Ellison's History.

Wilmington, Aug. 3.—With a large attendance, ideal weather conditions and everything else which would tend to make for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the visitors, the annual reunion of the North Carolina division of the United Confederate Veterans is being held in this city yesterday and today. Between 2,500 and 3,000 visitors are here to attend the event, and of this number more than one-half are old soldiers who fought with such bravery for a cause they thought was right, and whose ranks are each year becoming thinner.

The local camp has provided well for its visitors and the "boys" are having what might properly be called a real good time in every sense of the word. There is nothing lacking to make the stay of the veterans a joyous one, and they appear to be having the time of their lives. Three large buildings in the down town district are used as sleeping quarters and another is used as the mess hall, which is in charge of Captain W. P. Monroe, commissary sergeant of the second regiment North Carolina National guard, and approximately 1,000 men are being fed there. Other veterans are stopping at the hotels and boarding houses, all of which are well filled. The mess hall was in service Tuesday at noon and will be open through Thursday.

The sessions of the division were held in the academy of music yesterday. The first meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock by General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, who presided. The opera house was crowded with veterans and others who had assembled there to hear the several fine addresses and other features of the program. After prayer by the Chaplain of the Division, Mayor Joseph D. Smith, of Wilmington, was introduced and made the address of welcome.

The response was by Colonel W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Weldon, a veteran who is well known throughout the state. He made a fine address and his audience was an attentive one. He received frequent applause.

YOUNG WIFE KILLS HUSBAND

BECAUSE SHE COULD NOT MAKE A MAN OF HIM.

San Francisco, Aug. 3.—Unable, she said, to "make a man" of her husband, Anna Langley, a frail woman, 19 years old, yesterday shot and killed him. They had been married 13 months.

Early yesterday James Langley left home, saying he did not intend to return. Mrs. Langley bought a revolver and started to hunt her husband. She found him in a saloon. According to bystanders Langley turned on her with a torrent of abuse. Without a word the wife fired four shots. One struck Langley and he died on the way to a hospital. Mrs. Langley was arrested. "I do not see why I should be detained," she said at the city prison. "I did nothing wrong and I am not sorry. Since our marriage I have supported my husband and myself by working as a stenographer. I tried to make him stay away from saloons. I endured his abuse. I tried to instill some ambition into him and coach him for the firemen's civil service examination. He would not try. I could endure no more."

No More Pay for Nothing.
Washington, Aug. 3.—Upsetting a practice of more than 30 years, the senate and house conference yesterday agreed to eliminate an appropriation of an extra month's salary to all employees of the capitol. This saves the government about $140,000.

BRYAN IS SCORED BY UNDERWOOD

House Leader Replies to Interview of the Nebraskan

CHEERED BY ASSOCIATES

Bryan Charges That Underwood Stood in the Way Revision of Iron and Steel Because He Is Interested in Iron and Floor Leader Says It Is Absolutely False.

Washington, Aug. 3.—William Jennings Bryan, for 15 years the idol of the democracy, was repudiated by the democrats of the house yesterday in one of the most dramatic scenes ever enacted upon the floor of that chamber. Rising to a question of personal privilege, Representative Oscar W. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, denounced as absolutely false Bryan's charges that he had prevented a revision to the iron and steel schedules, and the house gave to Underwood an ovation that seldom has been equaled.

The majority floor leader did not mince words. It was a question of Bryan against Underwood, and the democrats, cheering Underwood at every sentence, rising en masse when he had concluded, throwing hankchiefs in the air—made their choice. It was Underwood.

Mr. Underwood sent to the clerk's desk a morning paper which contained an interview with Bryan, in which the latter charged that Underwood had been "unmasked," and that he was unfit to be at the head of the ways and means committee.

Underwood was interested in steel, said Bryan, and had stood in the way of a revision of that schedule. Calling upon the members of the ways and means committee to be his witnesses, the majority leader, with shaking voice, declared he had urged the revision of the iron and steel schedule at the beginning of the session.

"I told the committee," said Underwood, "that because I had publicly stated that I was a small holder in an iron mill, it might save me from embarrassment if we proceeded to revise the steel schedule first. The committee decided to revise wool and cotton schedules first."

"We will revise the steel and iron schedule," said Mr. Underwood a moment later, and again the democrats cheered him to the echo.

"These statements made by William Jennings Bryan are absolutely false," said Mr. Underwood. "If they reflected on me alone I would not take the time of the house to answer them, but they reflect upon the entire democratic party in control of this house. I would be false to my party and false to my position as floor leader did I not characterize them as false here today."

"Bryan calls on Kitchin to sustain him. I now call on him to take the floor and say whether my statement is true."

Representative Kitchin, of North Carolina, took the floor and expressed regret for the controversy.

"I am sure the gentleman from Nebraska is misinformed. While he asks for publicity of caucus action he ought to give publicity as to his informant."

"He could not have been informed by any one in the caucus, because there is not one word of truth in that statement except that I reminded the caucus that Mr. Underwood was interested in the iron and steel business. But I said it would be wise to revise the steel schedule, because I did not want republicans to slander Mr. Underwood, but I never dreamed any democrat would do so. Mr. Bryan is not responsible."

WILL USE OLD SCHOOL HOUSE

No Truth in Rumor of No School in West Durham This Year

Preparations are being made to open the West Durham graded school at the regular time of opening, which is the first Monday in September. There has been considerable confusion in the West Durham schools, and there has been persistent rumors that there would be no school next term. A large number of the patrons of the school have been very much disturbed over the rumors, and some have signified their intention of leaving the district if there is to be no school. The school committeemen authorize the announcement that the school will open at the usual time in the old building.

As soon as a new site can be secured, the erection of a new building will be begun. The plans for the new building have been drawn, and the funds are available, but the erection has been held up by the inability of the county school board to secure a site. It is expected that the site will be secured at an early date and the erection of the new house will begin at once.

Teachers for the school were elected at a meeting of the board this week. Mr. Holland Holton was elected principal of the school for next term. The teachers elected were Miss Julia Puccette, Miss Annie Brown, Mrs. D. W. Sorrell, Miss Carrie Hammett, Lelia Parrish, Iva Barden, Iver Ellis.

Mr. Holton is the son of the late S. M. Holton. He is a graduate of Trinity College and was principal of the East Durham schools for several years. With his excellent staff of assistants, the success of the school for the coming term is assured.

SIX MONTHS IN THE WORKHOUSE

Sentence Passed on Mrs. Rebecca Nurkin—Case Appealed

After hearing the arguments on both sides, Judge Sykes this morning sentenced Mrs. Rebecca Nurkin to a term of six months in the county workhouse for committing an assault on Mrs. Cora Morris. Both of the principals in the case are Hebrews and the trial Tuesday was the center of much interest on the part of the members of the Hebrew colony.

Mrs. Nurkin has five children dependent upon her, and Judge Sykes gave her the option of paying a fine of $100 and the costs in the case. The case was tried Tuesday, but was held open until this morning in order to hear the arguments of the attorneys. The case was appealed.

Opponents Concede Vardaman's Election

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 3.—That former Governor James K. Vardaman has been chosen the democratic nominee for United States senator—equivalent in election—is conceded by United States Senator Leroy Porey and C. H. Alexander, his opponents in Tuesday's primary. In the race for lieutenant governor the returns indicate that State Senator Theodore Bilbo has polled an equally large vote as Mr. Vardaman and his nomination, without the necessity of a second primary, is regarded as assured.

Woman Gets Aero License.
Hempstead, Long Island, Aug. 3.—Miss Harriet T. Quimby was awarded a pilot's license yesterday by the Aero Club of America, the governing body of aeronautics in this country. This is the first license that has ever been awarded a woman in America. Miss Quimby flew in a Moisant monoplane.

COTTON MILLS TO SHUT DOWN

To Instal Motors for Using Electric Power in Place of Steam

The Erwin Cotton Mills at West Durham and at Duke and the Pearl Mill will close down Friday for a period of two weeks. The principal reason for this cessation of activities is to allow the installation of motors and machinery for the operation of these mills by electricity, and a lack of orders for the goods also makes a few weeks' vacation desirable on the part of the management of the mills.

For some time there has been a lack of orders for denims which are manufactured by one of the Erwin mills in Durham and by the mills at Duke. The new Erwin Mill manufactures sheetings and finishes the goods, and there has been a better demand for the output of this mill than for the others.

The Pearl Mill also manufactures sheetings. All of the mills have been running short hours for some time, and there has been as much curtailment as possible without depriving the mill laborers of support. The rapid decline in the price of cotton recently has served to further upset the cotton mill business and decrease orders. Jobbers are afraid to buy goods which are now being sold on the basis of higher prices for cotton than the staple is now bringing for future delivery. A large number of the mills have large stocks of finished products on hand that were made from high-price cotton, and the management of the mills naturally do not desire to increase this stock.

The Durham Cotton Manufacturing Company will continue operations. This mill manufactures ginghams and similar goods, and there has been a steady demand for the products.
